U.S. SCHOLAR PROGRAM

Grants for U.S. Faculty and Professionals

2010 • 2011

Using the 2010-2011 Catalogue of Awards

- To move through the catalogue pages, use one of the following methods:

- Use the scroll bar on the right side of your screen or the page buttons on the bottom navigation bar.
- Go to the “Contents” page and click on a heading.
- Use the “Bookmarks” that appear on the left side of the screen when you open the catalogue of awards file (under the pages icon). Click on a bookmark to go to a particular section of the catalogue. If a plus sign appears to the left of the heading, click on it to view a list of subheadings. Each subheading is also a link to that particular section of the catalogue of awards.

Note: If the “Bookmarks” do not appear when you open the file, go to the “Windows” menu and select “Show Bookmarks.”

- As you move through the catalogue, look for areas where your pointer, which normally looks like an open hand, turns into a pointing hand. These areas are also links to other sections of the catalogue of awards. If the pointing hand has a plus sign on top of it, the link is to a World Wide Web page.

DENMARK

DANISH DISTINGUISHED CHAIR IN HUMAN RIGHTS AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES (DENMARK)

Award #0015

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Contribute to the Institute's active academic exchange in weekly seminars with other researchers at the Institute and facilitate the Institute's research networking with U.S. universities and research environments. Participate in conferences and other activities organized by the Institute. Give at least one public lecture within field of expertise. Guest lectures at other Danish universities may also be arranged. The Chair is a joint venture between the Danish Institute for International Studies (DIIS) and the Danish Institute for Human Rights (DIHR), which, together with a common library and administration, constitute the Danish Centre for International Studies and Human Rights (DCISM). According to agreement between the two institutes, the Chair will be at the Danish Institute for International Studies in the academic year 2010-11.

Specialization(s): The chair is expected to have a strong research track record on questions of access to natural resources and effects of climate change on poor people's access to natural resources. This area of research links up to the research on the significance of inequality to rural poor access to natural resources pursued within the Natural Resources and Poverty research unit at DIIS (www.diis.dk/sw20945.asp). Specializations desired: sociology, geography, development studies, political ecology

Length of Grant: 5 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010 or February 1, 2011.

Comments: DCISM was established on January 1, 2003 with the aim of strengthening research analysis and information activities in Denmark concerning international affairs, that is, the fields of foreign security and development policy; conflict; holocaust; genocide and political mass murders; and human rights in Denmark and abroad. DCISM is located in central Copenhagen. For a list of the Research Department staff, please visit www.diis.dk/sw34925.asp. A letter of invitation is required for this position. The scholar will have access to an IBM compatible computer and be given access to Internet and e-mail. DIIS will provide assistance in finding accommodation.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Fulbright Distinguished Chairs Program

DANISH DISTINGUISHED CHAIR IN AMERICAN STUDIES (DENMARK)

Award #0016

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: The grantee would be asked to teach one 4 hour course at the graduate level each term, plus one undergraduate level course in the fall term. In the spring term, 2 hours would be given over to advising students and to playing a central role in organizing a major academic conference. University of Southern Denmark (SDU) will defray the costs of that conference. At the undergraduate level, courses taught are within the fields of American history, literature, politics and American studies. At the graduate level, the M.A. degree in American studies has a mix of electives and required seminars. The teaching load is 6 hours per week each term. The format is a mix of seminars, lectures, discussions, presentations and oral reports. The average course size varies according to level: graduate courses usually have 15-20 students, and undergraduate level classes have a maximum of 35 students. Students purchase their own books, which may be supplemented by materials placed on the Intranet program Blackboard.

Specialization(s): A scholar in environmental history or American studies focused on the environment.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. and at least 6 years of teaching experience required. Associate or full professors preferred.

Location(s): Center for American Studies, University of Southern Denmark, Odense

Starting Date: September 1, 2010

Comments: The Center would like to involve the Fulbright Scholar primarily in the education of its approximately 45 M.A. students. There are also possible research opportunities. The Center is currently involved in a number of interdisciplinary research projects and the Chair would be invited to participate in these projects as well as a number of conferences and seminars the Center organizes each year. The dean has set aside funding for a conference whose theme and participants will be shaped in a dialogue between the grantee and the faculty. The Chair will have access to a wide range of electronic journals, the university library and the Royal Library. Therefore, it will be possible to continue working on major projects. The scholar will be given an e-mail address and will have access to the usual electronic resources. Office space is provided. Some secretarial assistance is available. The university library is fully computerized and books can be ordered from any computer. In addition, American journals are available in full text format through any computer within the university network. It is possible to use PowerPoint, DVD, etc. Housing will be found for the scholar and decided upon after consultation with the scholar. The cost per month including utilities is approximately $1,000-$1,500.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

FINLAND

BICENTENNIAL CHAIR IN AMERICAN STUDIES (FINLAND)

Category: Distinguished Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach one survey course and one seminar per semester in area of expertise. Supervise graduate theses and assist in curriculum development. Give occasional guest lectures at other universities. Teaching will require approximately 5 hours per week. Participate in the development of the North American Studies Program at the host university and in the meetings of the North American Studies Program board. Assist the Fulbright Commission as an application reviewer or candidate interviewer. Number of meeting hours per week per course: 2 (lecture course), 3 (seminar). Average size of class: 50 (survey course), 10-15 (seminar).

Specialization(s): American history, political science, cultural studies, sociology, international relations

Additional Qualifications: Rank of associate or full professor is required.

Location(s): Renvall Institute, University of Helsinki, Helsinki

Starting Date: Late August 2010

Comments: Created in 1976 to institutionalize the teaching of American history, culture and language at the University of Helsinki, the Fulbright Bicentennial Chair is considered the oldest and most established of the Fulbright Distinguished Chairs. Currently, the Renvall Institute offers North American studies up to the Ph.D. degree. The Chair serves as an important resource to other Finnish universities and has played a central role in the development of an interdisciplinary approach to American studies at the University of Helsinki as well as four other universities with American studies programs (Tampere, Turku, Oulu and Jyväskylä). The Chair position includes free housing, a spacious, fully-furnished Bicentennial Residence situated in the city center, about a 5 minute walk from the Renvall Institute. (Photos are posted at www.cies.org/ab\_dc/images/finland.htm.) Visit www.helsinki.fi/hum/renvall/english for more information about the Renvall Institute. General information on Finland is available at www.cies.org/country/finland.htm. The Finnish Commission strongly encourages potential applicants to visit the Commission's Web site www.fulbright.fi for more information and to contact the Commission directly with any questions.

FULBRIGHT-NOKIA DISTINGUISHED CHAIR IN INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGIES (FINLAND)

Award #0018

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Distinguished Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: The Fulbright-Nokia Distinguished Chair in Information and Communications Technologies award will emphasize projects that prioritize active research work, including publications, yet also include giving lectures and supervising students. Applicants should negotiate and agree to the teaching/research ratio, number and level of courses to be taught, etc., with the host institutions prior to arrival. The scholar may be asked to supervise master's or Ph.D. theses and give a guest lecture at the Nokia Research Center. Applicants should include a research and lecture plan in the application, including a letter of invitation from a Finnish host university.

Specialization(s): Information, communications technologies

Additional Qualifications: Candidates should have a prominent record of scholarly accomplishment.

Language: English is sufficient.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: Late August 2010 unless otherwise agreed with the Finnish Fulbright Commission. It is possible to split an award into two or more periods that do not exceed the maximum grant period of 9 months.

Comments: This award is sponsored by the Nokia Foundation. One quarter of the Finnish labor force is directly or indirectly employed by the technology industry and 75 percent of private-sector R&D investment goes to the technology sector. The size and role of information and communications technologies in the Finnish economy and R&D have grown considerably along with the Nokia company's worldwide success. The purpose of the Fulbright-Nokia Distinguished Chair in Information and Communications Technologies is to enhance cooperation with Finnish and American universities and academics in this field. Information on Finland available at www.cies.org/country/finland.htm. The Finnish Commission strongly encourages potential applicants to visit the Commission's Web site www.fulbright.fi for more information and to contact the Commission directly with any questions (Terhi Topi, program manager, at terhi.topi@fulbright.fi).

Deadline: August 1, 2009

FULBRIGHT-LUND UNIVERSITY CHAIR IN PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL LAW (SWEDEN)

Category: Distinguished Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Lecture in the human rights master's programs on international law, international organizations, civil and political rights, regional systems like the Organization of American States, humanitarian law, refugee law, minority and indigenous rights, intellectual property rights and international labor standards. Teach in human rights training courses in Lund and abroad on topics such as civil and political rights, good governance and anti-corruption efforts, and human rights of women. Supervise master's students in their thesis research and writing, and tutor for moot court competitions. The grantee may also participate in collaborative research with department faculty.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. in law or in a closely related field and 5-10 years of experience.

Language: English is sufficient for lecturing.

Location(s): Raoul Wallenberg Institute of Human Rights and Humanitarian Law, Lund University, Lund

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: Academic-year grant beginning September 2010 is preferred; a one- or two-semester award beginning in either September 2010 or January 2011 will be considered.

Comments: Founded in 1666, Lund University is now the largest site of higher education and research in the Nordic countries, with its 42,500 students and 6,000 faculty and staff. The Raoul Wallenberg Institute of Human Rights and Humanitarian Law (RWI) is an independent academic institution, established in 1984, which promotes human rights through research, training and education. It has one of the largest human rights libraries in northern Europe. The RWI offers a 2-year undergraduate program in human rights, and two master's programs, one of which is in international human rights law and the other in human rights and intellectual property rights law. The RWI offers human rights capacity building programs in Sweden and abroad, carries out applied or policy-based research, and issues five series of publications as well as related books and journals. For additional information about the host institution, visit www.rwi.lu.se. The city of Lund, situated in the dynamic Oresund region in southern Sweden, is one of the oldest cities in Sweden. It has approximately 100,500 residents and is the 12th largest municipality in Sweden. It has a larger percentage of its population with a university education (58 percent) than the national average (29 percent).

FULBRIGHT-GLASGOW URBAN LAB DISTINGUISHED CHAIR AWARD (UNITED KINGDOM)

Award #0037

Category: Distinguished Lecturing/Research
Grant Activity: Contribute to the development of curriculum and research agenda of the Glasgow Urban Lab and undertake a series of public lectures in Glasgow and other major Scottish cities.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or equivalent professional or terminal degree (including a master's, depending on the field). For professionals and artists outside academe, recognized professional standing and substantial professional accomplishments.

Location(s): Glasgow Urban Laboratory, Mackintosh School of Architecture, The Glasgow School of Art, Glasgow

Length of Grant: 6 months

Starting Date: August 2010 to April 2011

Comments: The Glasgow Urban Lab is a civic partnership led by the Mackintosh School of Architecture at the Glasgow School of Art (GSA), with core partnerships with the City of Glasgow and Lighthouse, Scotland's Centre for Architecture, Design and the City. Selection Criteria: Rigor in scholarly inquiry and academic or professional excellence, strong reasons for wishing to pursue the proposed project in the UK and at GSA specifically, interest in the peoples and cultures of the UK, clear set of objectives for the grant period, and a commitment to the host community through volunteer and extra-curricular activity. Preference will be given to those who do not have extensive experience in the UK. In making these awards the Commission is looking not only for academic excellence but a focused application, a range of extracurricular and community activities, demonstrated ambassadorial skills, a desire to further the Fulbright Program and a plan to work for the betterment of the home and host countries both during and after studies. Candidates should be senior scholars with a significant publication and teaching record. About the host: GSA is a small, specialist and highly focused international community of artists, designers and architects. It is a creative hub where new ideas are always encouraged and developed through teaching and research which is studio based, face to face, professionally relevant and socially engaged.

All grantees will receive free membership in the British Fulbright Scholars Association (the UK-based Fulbright alumni organization, www.bfsa.org), the Royal Society of Arts (www.thersa.org) and the English Speaking Union (www.esu.org).
Deadline: August 1, 2009

FULBRIGHT-LEEDS UNIVERSITY DISTINGUISHED CHAIR AWARD (UNITED KINGDOM)

Award #0038

Category: Distinguished Lecturing/Research
Grant Activity: Contribute to the intellectual life of Leeds University through seminars, public lectures and curriculum development in any discipline.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or equivalent professional or terminal degree (including a master's depending on the field). For professionals and artists outside academe, recognized professional standing and substantial professional accomplishments.

Location(s): University of Leeds, Leeds

Length of Grant: 6 months

Starting Date: August 2010 to April 2011

Comments: Leeds is at the forefront of innovation. The size and international reputation enables the university to offer one of the widest ranges of academic courses in the UK. During the current academic year there are over 30,500 students attached to 700 undergraduate and 474 postgraduate degree programs. There are some 3,000 researchers, including postgraduates, and an annual research income of more than 90.7m pounds. Interdisciplinary research is promoted through its many faculties, research centers and institutes. Leeds University has particularly high-profile schools of English, Post-Colonial Studies, Medieval Studies, Textiles and Color Chemistry, Food Science, Biochemistry, Chemistry, and Physics. The Institute of Transport Studies is one of the top three schools in the world in its field. Leeds was the first university in the UK to create a technology transfer company, called Leeds Innovations. The University has an important alliance with IP2IPO, a hugely successful intellectual property company which helps universities create thriving spin-out companies.

All grantees will receive free membership in the British Fulbright Scholars Association (the UK-based Fulbright alumni organization, www.bfsa.org), the Royal Society of Arts (www.thersa.org) and the English Speaking Union (www.esu.org).
Deadline: August 1, 2009

FULBRIGHT-UNIVERSITY OF THE ARTS LONDON DISTINGUISHED CHAIR AWARD (UNITED KINGDOM)

Award #0039

Category: Distinguished Lecturing/Research
Grant Activity: Research, lecture, teach and contribute to the curriculum at TrAIN (the research center for Transnational Art, Identity and Nation), a department of the University of the Arts London. The Distinguished Chair will also have the option to undertake a public lecture series in conjunction with the Tate Gallery, London.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or equivalent professional or terminal degree (including a master's depending on the field). For professionals and artists outside academe, recognized professional standing and substantial professional accomplishments.

Location(s): University of the Arts London, London

Length of Grant: 6 months

Starting Date: August 2010 to April 2011

Comments: The Chair will be situated in Chelsea School of Art, across the road from the Tate Gallery and within TrAIN. University of the Arts graduates are global leaders in the creative industries and can be found in key roles in over 100 countries. Just a few alumni names include: Henry Moore, Jimmy Choo, Pierce Brosnan, and Sir Richard Attenborough. This is a high profile initiative and the new graduate school, which will have opened in 2009, is looking for a U.S. public figure from the worlds of cultural studies, history of art or philosophy to lift the level of intellectual debate and artistic practice within the new school, and in London more broadly.

All grantees will receive free membership in the British Fulbright Scholars Association (the UK-based Fulbright alumni organization, www.bfsa.org), the Royal Society of Arts (www.thersa.org) and the English Speaking Union (www.esu.org).

African Regional Research Program

Summary: Up to 12 awards in all academic fields for research in most Sub-Saharan African countries. Up to five awards in AIDS and AIDS-related research in most Sub-Saharan African countries.

Program Overview: Research applications are welcome for all Sub-Saharan Africa countries that offer lecturing or lecturing and research awards except South Africa. No awards to South Africa are available under the regional research program because South Africa has its own country program with awards for lecturing, combined lecturing and research or research.

Applications for unlisted Sub-Saharan African countries will be considered on a case-by-case basis for the regional research program; please consult CIES before submitting an application for an unlisted country. However, applications cannot be accepted for projects in countries with which the United States has no formal diplomatic relations nor in the following countries: Burundi, Central African Republic, Guinea Bissau, Liberia, Somalia or Sudan.

Staff: Assistant Director Debra Egan, 202.686.6230, degan@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Matthew Fortier, 202.686.4027, mfortier@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0040

Number of Awards: Approximately 12

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in one country for 3-9 months or in two or three countries for 5-9 months. Grantees are expected to give occasional lectures and seminars in consultation with host universities and U.S. Embassies. Applicants should discuss their proposals with CIES Africa program staff and click on the following link to: "Information and Instructions for African Regional Research Program Applicants".

Additional Qualifications: Evidence of a scholarly research record after having obtained the terminal degree in the field of specialization for the proposed project is required.

Applications from academics and professionals will be considered.

Language: Appropriate language facility is needed for research in non-English-speaking areas.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: As early as June 2010; no later than January 2011

Comments: Evidence of local support for the project or interest in collaboration must be provided. Such letters must be submitted as part of the application for each proposed country. Some previous research topics have included the following: "Street Vendors and the Law in Lagos," "Analysis of Genetic Diversity in the Parasite Striga and Co-Evolution With Its Cereal Hosts in Mali" and

"Environmental Impacts of Mining Activities on the Distribution of Pollutants in Coastal Togo." Because grantees are responsible for obtaining their own research clearances and visas, scholars should request information on procedures from colleagues in Africa at an early date and keep CIES informed.

AIDS AND AIDS-RELATED RESEARCH

Award #0041

Number of Awards: Approximately 5

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in area of specialization in one country for 3-9 months or in two or three countries for 5-9 months. Preference will be given to proposals that focus on AIDS and AIDS-related problems as they impact Sub-Saharan Africa; involve collaboration with scholars from host countries; and include plans for seminars, workshops and research dissemination in the host country or countries. Applicants should discuss their proposals with CIES Africa program staff and click on the following link to: "Information and Instructions for African Regional Research Program Applicants".

Additional Qualifications: Evidence of a scholarly research record after having obtained the terminal degree in the field of specialization for the proposed project is required. Applications from academics and professionals will be considered.

Language: Appropriate language facility is needed for research in non-English-speaking areas.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: As early as June 2010; no later than January 2011

Comments: Evidence of local support for the project or interest in collaboration must be provided. Letters of invitation from each proposed country must be included in the application. Given the importance of research on pressing issues regarding the AIDS epidemic in Africa, the Fulbright Program has funded AIDS-related research grants for several years. Grants have been awarded to scholars across a broad range of disciplines, from creative writing to ethnomusicology, sociology to nursing. Examples of research topics include "Scaling Up HIV Prevention: Organizational and Inter-Organizational Issues in Malawi," "Development and Pilot Survey of a Screening Tool for Use by Health Care Workers to Identify Neurologic Disorders in HIV-Infected Persons in Resource-Constrained Settings in Kenya" and "Stretching the Social Safety Net: Children's Rights and the Survival Strategies of AIDS Orphans in East Africa." Because grantees are responsible for obtaining their own research clearances and visas, scholars should request information on procedures from colleagues in Africa at an early date and keep CIES informed.

Africa, Sub-Saharan

Burkina Faso

Summary: One lecturing or lecturing/research award. For research awards, see the African Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Candidates with a Ph.D. and minimum rank of assistant professor are preferred. Candidates are encouraged to correspond directly with the host institution to confirm whether their specializations are of interest. A letter of invitation from the host institution, submitted as part of the application, is recommended but not required. The academic year in Burkina Faso consists of two semesters: mid-September to the end of February and April through June. An English language school, the International School of Ouagadougou, is available for accompanying dependent K-12 school-age children.

Staff: Assistant Director Debra Egan, 202.686.6230, degan@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Matthew Fortier, 202.686.4027, mfortier@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0051

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach undergraduate and graduate courses in any discipline taught at the host institution, including arts, humanities, social sciences and sciences. Provide tutorials, supervise student projects and advise students. Assist with developing curriculum and host department research capacity. Scholars generally teach two to three courses per semester. Conduct research in area of specialization.

Specialization(s): American literature is preferred. Class size ranges from 20-400 students, depending on annual enrollment and course level. Books are not generally available to all students. However, the U.S. Embassy has a library that may be able to stock titles requested by the grantee, and it maintains a solid inventory of American literature anthologies and other resources for use by the grantee.

Language: English is sufficient for lecturing in American literature; some level of French proficiency is useful for daily living. Fluent French is required for lecturing in other disciplines.

Location(s): University of Ouagadougou, Ouagadougou

Mauritius

Summary: One or more lecturing/research awards. For research awards, see the African Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Candidates with a Ph.D. and at least 5 years of postdoctoral university or college teaching experience are preferred. The academic calendar consists of two semesters, August through December and January through July. English language schools for accompanying dependent school age children include Le Bocage International School and Clavis Primary School.

Staff: Assistant Director Debra Egan, 202.686.6230, degan@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Matthew Fortier, 202.686.4027, mfortier@cies.iie.org

ARCHEOLOGY OR FILM STUDIES

Award #0080

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: In the Faculty of Social Science and Humanities, teach undergraduate and graduate courses in archeology or film studies. Provide tutorials and assist in curriculum development. Conduct research in area of specialization.

Language: English is the official language and is used for teaching and research; a working knowledge of French is useful.

Location(s): University of Mauritius, Reduit

Starting Date: August 2010

Comments: For archeology, the university recently introduced museum and heritage studies to train students on legal aspects of conserving and preserving heritage, methods of conservation of different types of materials and cataloging and display of artifacts according to international museum standards. The program consists of field techniques of advanced archeological exploration, excavation and drawing, and chemical cleaning of ceramics, iron and copper. The discipline has gained in importance now that Mauritius has two historical sites listed on the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) World Heritage List. For film studies, an academic program has yet to be introduced at the university, so the focus would be developing courses on Indian diasporic cinema and digital cultures.

ENGINEERING OR FASHION DESIGN, MARKETING AND MERCHANDIZING

Award #0081

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach graduate courses in software engineering in the Department of Computer Science and Engineering or teach undergraduate and graduate courses in fashion design, marketing and merchandizing in the Department of Textile Technology. Both departments are in the Faculty of Engineering. Supervise student projects, provide research advice to faculty and participate in curriculum development and team research. Conduct research in area of specialization.

Specialization(s): For software engineering, priority challenges include the need to develop, in a disciplined way, information systems for business organizations and to respond to higher demand for development of distributed multimedia applications in various spheres of daily activities. The tourism sector together with the emergence of information technology has broadened demand for engineering expertise. The Department of Textile Technology at the university will soon merge with other local textile institutions to become a fashion design institute. While the department already offers a program in textiles and fashion design, it needs to develop other programs of study in fashion design, product development, merchandizing and marketing, including branding. See www.uom.ac.mu for the University of Mauritius Web site.

Language: English is the official language and the language needed for teaching and research; a working knowledge of French is useful.

Location(s): University of Mauritius, Reduit

Starting Date: August 2010

Deadline: August 1, 2009

FOOD SAFETY OR TURF GRASS PRODUCTION AND LANDSCAPING

Award #0082

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: In the Faculty of Agriculture, teach undergraduate and graduate courses in food science and food microbiology or in turf grass production and landscaping. Provide tutorials and assist in curriculum development. Conduct research in area of specialization.

Language: English is the official language and is used for teaching and research; a working knowledge of French is useful.

Location(s): University of Mauritius, Reduit

Length of Grant: 4 months to 6 months

Starting Date: August 2010

Comments: See www.uom.ac.mu for the University of Mauritius Web site, and contact CIES for host department contact information. The changing socio-economic pattern of Mauritius has led to a rising demand for agricultural produce of good quality. Agricultural production is being increasingly characterized by use of modern technology. The Government aims to adopt a technology-based approach to render the sector more productive, service-oriented, sustainable and competitive, while responding to environmental and ethical standards. The further development of agriculture and its related industries requires well-trained agricultural scientists who have the technical and practical skills to meet the new challenges facing agriculture in the country.
Deadline: August 1, 2009

Mozambique

Nigeria

Summary: Four or more lecturing/research awards. For research awards, see the African Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Candidates with a Ph.D., a minimum of 5 years of university teaching and research experience and previous experience in Africa are preferred. The academic year calendar for most universities is September through June. Grantees are expected to come for the full academic year. Applicants must be prepared for challenging living conditions and need to present both lecturing skills and well-developed research projects. Host institutions assist with housing; however, facilities are not in comparison with U.S. standards in most cases, so adaptability to local conditions is important. Most housing is located on campus and seldom has security concerns. The U.S. Embassy in Nigeria will confirm placements at appropriate host institutions following receipt of recommended applications; applicants may specify if they have had contact with particular host institutions regarding placement so the Embassy can follow up. A number of schools are available for accompanying dependent K-12 school-age children.

Africa, Sub-Saharan

Staff: Assistant Director Debra Egan, 202.686.6230, degan@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Matthew Fortier, 202.686.4027, mfortier@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0094

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach undergraduate or graduate courses in any discipline taught at a participating host institution. Conduct research in area of specialization.

Specialization(s): Applications are especially encouraged in the humanities and social sciences, American studies, business administration, conflict management, economics, information and communication technology, journalism, law, mass communications and political science. Applications are also welcome in other disciplines.

Applicants are encouraged to contact CIES for information and correspond directly with any of these institutions to find out whether their proposed lecturing topics are of interest and whether their research projects are feasible.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Rwanda

Summary: One lecturing or lecturing/research award. For research awards, see the African Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Candidates with a Ph.D. and at least 3 years of postdoctoral university or college teaching experience are preferred.

Experienced community college faculty and professionals will be considered at Kigali Health Institute or National University of Rwanda. The academic year begins in January at each of the four host institutions. A letter of invitation from the host institution, submitted as part of the application, is recommended but not required. The policy in Rwanda is that all students attending higher education must be bilingual. Courses are taught either in English or French at National University of Rwanda, Kigali Health Institute and Kigali Institute of Education. Students at the three institutions must attend a 4-6 month pre-university program in French or English, depending on the language of instruction in secondary education. Courses are taught in English at Kigali Institute of Science and Technology.

Sierra Leone

Summary: One lecturing/research award.

For research awards, see the African Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Candidates with a Ph.D. and two or more years of university teaching experience are preferred. Prior experience in developing countries is strongly preferred. The academic year consists of two semesters, September through December and February through June, with final exams conducted in July. Candidates are encouraged to correspond with the U.S. Embassy Public Affairs Section directly as well as with the host institution to determine whether their background, experience and specializations are of interest. See comments for contact information. Applicants should have well-developed research projects to which they can fully devote themselves in the event university classes are suspended. The American International School of Freetown offers educational programs for accompanying dependent K-8 school-age children.

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0102

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach undergraduate and graduate courses in a wide range of disciplines, including the humanities, social sciences, natural and physical sciences, business and communications. Supervise student theses and collaborate with faculty on research and program development. Conduct research in area of specialization.

Specialization(s): Applications are encouraged in business administration, human resources management and teacher education. Applications are also welcome in a range of other disciplines taught at the host university.

Location(s): University of Sierra Leone, Freetown

Length of Grant: 6 months to 10 months

Starting Date: September 2010

Comments: Fourah Bay College, Business School, Institute of Public Administration and Management, Milton Margai College of Science and Technology, Freetown Teachers' College and College of Medicine and Allied Health Sciences are all part of the University of Sierra Leone and are located less than four miles apart. Scholars must be prepared to live and work in a developing country with minimal infrastructure. Freetown does not have a continuous water or electrical supply. Embassy can arrange accommodation in a guest house with moderate amenities within the housing allowance, but grantees will be responsible for finding housing if that setting is not acceptable. Students do not have ready access to books or the Internet. Please contact Amy Challe, cultural affairs assistant at challeab@state.gov and Dr. Aiah Gbakima, vice chancellor, at aiah\_gbakima2000@yahoo.com regarding university information and proposed lecturing and research.

Starting Date: August 2010

Comments: Candidates are encouraged to contact CIES and correspond directly with potential host institutions. Host institutions, their Web sites and email contacts, if available, follow: Uganda Christian University, www.ucu.ac.ug, mangheni@ucu.ac.ug and fkakembo@ucu.ac.ug; Gulu University, pnyeko@parliament.go.ug; Uganda Martyrs University, www.fiuc.org/umu, dvc@umu.ac.ug or swanyama@umu.ac.ug or Mbarara University for Science and Technology, www.must.ac.ug. In order to enhance the educational capacity at these relatively newer public and private universities in the country, preference is for applications to these institutions rather than for the award at Makerere University.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Zambia

Summary: One lecturing/research award. For research awards, see the African Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Candidates with a Ph.D., at least 5 years of postdoctoral university or college teaching experience and previous experience in Africa are preferred. ## East Asia and the Pacific

Australia

Summary: Up to four scholarships for research or lecturing/research in all disciplines.

Program Overview: Academics and professionals with established reputations in their respective fields and who hold a Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree are encouraged to apply. Academic terms run from approximately late February to mid-June and late July to late October. The Australian-American Fulbright Commission in Canberra deems those applicants with dual U.S.-Australian citizenship ineligible for an award.

Staff: Program Officer Michael Zdanovich, 202.686.7873, mzdanovich@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Trevor Foley, 202.686.4025, tfoley@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0120

Number of Awards: Approximately 4

Category: Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research or engage in a combination of lecturing and research. Other activities might include consulting on curriculum and participating in seminars.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 6 months

Starting Date: Grants must begin between July 2010 and June 2011.

Comments: The Australian-American Fulbright Commission's Web site, www.fulbright.com.au, provides previous U.S. Fulbright Scholar experiences and useful links. All applicants, even those applying for research awards, should demonstrate plans for some interaction with host institution faculty and students, such as guest lectures and seminars. Prior to application submission, the amount of time in the above activities as well as the starting date and length of grant should be determined in consultation with the host institution and set within the parameters of the Australian-American Fulbright Commission. Programs longer than 6 months may be proposed, but financial support from Fulbright will be limited to a maximum of 6 months. In such cases, outside funding supporting the additional length of stay should be clearly identified and articulated in the project statement.

Cambodia

Summary: Up to two lecturing or lecturing/research awards.

Program Overview: The Fulbright Scholar Program for 2010-2011 aims to strengthen university programs critical to the development of Cambodia, which is still recovering from nearly 30 years of upheaval and civil war. Teaching experience may include work at a community college, but teaching assistant work does not qualify. See specific qualification requirements for each award listed below. Prior work experience in Cambodia or other developing countries is desirable, but not required, as is proficiency in the Khmer language. The 2010-2011 academic year will run from September 2010 to July 2011. The first semester will run from late September 2010 to mid-February 2011; the second semester will run from early March to mid-July

Staff: Program Associate Erin Russell, 202.686.4006, erussell@cies.iie.org

AGRICULTURE

Award #0121

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: A Fulbright scholar is needed at the Royal University of Agriculture (RUA) to help strengthen the research and development skills of the university's graduates and undergraduates through lectures and training programs. The scholar should expect to focus specifically on how to develop grant proposals and articles for scientific journals that meet international standards. Class sizes will number between 30-40 students and meet at least twice a week for a total of 8 hours. RUA also requests that the scholar assist with the school's Journal for Rural and Agricultural Development, specifically with the selection of articles, editing and layout.

If possible and if time allows, RUA requests that the scholar help train the school's faculty and administration in similar areas with a special emphasis on conceiving and developing articles for international agricultural publications.

Specialization(s): rural development, agriculture

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. required; publishing or editorial experience with local, regional or international scholarly publications or a person who has specific experience with scientific journals as an editor.

Location(s): Royal University of Agriculture, Phnom Penh

Starting Date: Between January 2010 and April 2010

Comments: Potential applicants are asked to contact Dr. SENG Mom, Dean of Graduate School, Royal University of Agriculture, at mom\_seng@hotmail.com or 855 (0) 16 314 984. A letter of invitation is not required. The Royal University of Agriculture is located on 22 hectares of land just outside the capital city of Phnom Penh. The institution can provide a guest house for the scholar or transportation if the scholar chooses to live within the city.

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

ANTHROPOLOGY

Award #0122

Category: Lecturing or Research

Grant Activity: A Fulbright scholar is needed at the Royal University of Fine Arts (RUFA) in order to strengthen and further develop the faculty of cultural anthropology, specifically in the area of Southeast Asian studies. The scholar will lecture to undergraduates and graduates on the basics of cultural anthropology as well as provide specific training courses on conducting archaeological field work and research. Both undergraduate and graduate class sizes will average 20-30 students, and the scholar will lecture approximately twelve hours per week. RUFA also hopes that the scholar will assist with curriculum development, student advising and building the capacity of the faculty as a whole.

Specialization(s): Southeast Asian cultural anthropology

Additional Qualifications: Substantial experience teaching at U.S. universities; knowledge of both teaching and university management.

Language: The Cambodian (Khmer) language is required for lecturing and conducting field research for undergraduate and graduate students.

Location(s): Royal University of Fine Arts, Phnom Penh

Starting Date: Between September 2010 and July 2011

Comments: Potential applicants are asked to contact Dr. Bong Sovath, vice rector, Royal University of Fine Arts, at bongsovath@yahoo.com or 855 (0) 12 227 948. A letter of invitation is required. Every year, the Royal University of Fine Arts arranges field study for students in remote villages and archaeological sites in Cambodia. This same opportunity will be provided to the visiting scholar, providing them with the opportunity to start or expand their research in the region.

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

BANKING PRACTICES

Award #0123

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: The Royal University of Law and Economics (RULE) seeks a scholar to develop a course that prepares its graduates for employment in the banking sector. The course will be taught in English, so use of existing U.S. textbooks is possible. The scholar should address legal issues that arise in ongoing banking operations, rather than emphasizing procedures for setting up banks.

The scholar will be assigned faculty members as trainees and teaching assistants during the grant period in order for Cambodian lecturers to be able to continue the program after the departure of the scholar. RULE will also arrange meetings between the scholar and the banking community to discuss ideas about how to improve the banking system in Cambodia.

Additional Qualifications: J.D. preferred; professionals with other backgrounds who are experts in the banking sector are welcome to apply.

Location(s): Royal University of Law and Economics, Phnom Penh

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: September 2010 preferred; second semester possible

Comments: Potential applicants are asked to contact Mr. Kim Savun, Royal University of Law and Economics, at kimsavun@gmail.com or 855 (0) 23 214 953. A letter of invitation is not required. The Royal University of Phnom Penh is a city campus located in the business area of Phnom Penh, and all housing is off-campus. Serviced apartments are available on a monthly basis within walking distance to the university. There are also several hotels within walking distance.

Visiting scholars are encouraged to pursue their own research interests and to work with local faculty and students in their spare time.

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

China, People's Republic of

Summary: Approximately three distinguished lecturing awards, up to 20 lecturing or lecturing/research and up to nine research awards.

Program Overview: Except for the Study of the United States award for which junior faculty with at least 3 years of university teaching experience may apply, applicants at the rank of associate or full professor with a minimum of 5 years of university teaching experience are preferred.

Applicants should not be residing in China at the time of application nor should they have had recent extended experience in China. Professionals, such as practicing attorneys, may apply only if they have the requisite amount of university teaching experience, as well as some publications. All teaching is in English. The academic year in China is divided by a month-long break in late January and early February, the specific dates depending upon the lunar calendar. Affiliations are arranged through negotiations between the Ministry of Education and the Educational Exchanges Office of the U.S. Embassy. Applicants for lecturing awards should not make direct inquiries to Chinese institutions regarding an affiliation, but they may express an institutional preference in their applications. The teaching load is a maximum of two graduate or undergraduate courses a semester with up to 8 classroom hours per week. Applicants for lecturing/research awards should be aware that their grant is primarily for teaching. Grantees in the lecturing/research category do not receive a reduced teaching load since the current teaching load of two courses per semester is the minimum expected by the Chinese host institutions. However, many grantees still find time to pursue their research. Placements are in major universities throughout China. Applicants are encouraged to consider placements in places other than Shanghai and Beijing. Applicants for research awards are welcome to arrange their own affiliations. Lecturers will have opportunities to participate in an intracountry lecturing program as well as a regional intercountry lecturing program. All lecturers are required to attend a 2-day orientation program in Washington, DC held in mid-June. Academic-year lecturers and one-semester lecturers starting their grants in the fall term are required to attend an orientation in Beijing in late August. Full-year and one-semester lecturers teaching in the spring term are required to attend a combination orientation and midyear professional development conference in February. Chinese host institutions in most cases provide on-campus housing for recipients of lecturing and lecturing/research grants. In keeping with the Fulbright objective of maximizing interaction with Chinese students and faculty, grantees are expected to live in the campus-provided housing.

Staff: Assistant Director David B.J. Adams, 202.686.4021, dadams@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Trevor Foley, 202.686.4025, tfoley@cies.iie.org

CHINA STUDIES

Award #0124

Number of Awards: Approximately 9

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in area of expertise. Projects may focus on either modern or pre-modern China. Part of the research may be done in Hong Kong or Taiwan. See comments section for details.

Additional Qualifications: Assistant professors must be 3 years beyond the receipt of their Ph.D. at the time of application.

Language: Proficiency in Mandarin.

Location(s): Affiliation to be determined.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 10 months

Starting Date: After September 1, 2010, but work must be completed by September 30, 2011

Comments: Applicants for this award should have graduate training in China studies, facility in Mandarin and a record of research and publications in the field. Applicants proposing projects on modern China may spend 1 month of a 6-8 month grant or up to 3 months of a 9-10 month grant in Hong Kong at facilities such as the Universities Service Center for China Research (USC) (www.usc.cuhk.edu.hk) or using research facilities in Taiwan. Applicants with projects on pre-modern China may spend comparable amounts of time in Taiwan. Applicants who wish to work at the USC or at one of the other Hong Kong research centers should contact the USC or those centers directly for assistance in setting up their visit. Applicants who wish to spend part of their grant period in Taiwan should arrange an affiliation with a Taiwan institution and secure a letter of invitation.

East Asia and the Pacific

Comments: Applicants for this award in the indicated specializations should propose to teach broad-gauged courses that introduce Chinese undergraduate and graduate students to the main themes and core scholarship in their fields. Applications from scholars who study American culture and society will be considered only if their academic training and scholarship enable them to offer courses that meet the criteria indicated above and their proposal indicates an intent to offer such courses. Applicants who propose to teach either American literature or American history should have a Ph.D. in the pertinent field, have publications in that field and regularly teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels in that field. Scholars who are still early in their careers, but who have at least 3 years of teaching experience, are encouraged to apply.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Hong Kong

Summary: Up to fourteen lecturing or lecturing/research awards, two research awards and two post-doctoral research awards.

Program Overview: Hong Kong is a major gateway to China and has especially close connections with the Pearl River Delta region. In addition to a large and lively expatriate community, the universities are world-class, well connected to the international academic community and provide unique opportunities for exchanges with and research on China. Applicants are expected to hold a Ph.D. or other terminal degree and, unless otherwise indicated, the rank of associate or full professor. A letter of invitation is not needed, unless otherwise indicated, since the U.S. Consulate will arrange the affiliation with the host university. All lecturing/research awards may be 5 or 10 months unless otherwise indicated, but the preference is for 10-month grants. Grantees are expected to spend the full period of the grant on campus. The academic year begins in early September. The second semester begins in January. International and English-language grade and high schools are available for dependents' education. Staff: Assistant Director David B.J. Adams, 202.686.4021, dadams@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Trevor Foley, 202.686.4025, tfoley@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach one or two undergraduate or graduate courses each semester in the social sciences or the humanities. Some team teaching as well as public lectures may be required. Consult on curriculum development and conduct research. Opportunities are available to lecture at other universities.

Specialization(s): Any fields in the social sciences or humanities

Additional Qualifications: A letter of invitation from the host institution is recommended.

Location(s): City University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong; Hong Kong Baptist University, Hong Kong or Lingnan University, Hong Kong

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: 10-month grants start in September 2010; 5-month grants may start either in September 2010 or January 2011

Comments: Preference is for associate or full professors with a minimum of 5 years teaching experience and a record of research and publication appropriate for career stage. Prospective applicants are encouraged to review the Web sites of the potential host institutions: City University of Hong Kong, www.cityu.edu.hk; Hong Kong Baptist University, www.hkbu.edu.hk; Lingnan University, www.ln.edu.hk. Applicants are urged to secure a letter of invitation from a host institution. Otherwise the U.S. Consulate in Hong Kong will make assignments based on the best and most appropriate match between the expertise of the grantees and the needs of prospective host universities. Scholars whose work focuses on East-West interactions will be invited to be affiliated with the David C. Lam Institute for East-West Studies at Hong Kong Baptist University.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

BUILDING GENERAL EDUCATION CURRICULUM IN HONG KONG UNIVERSITIES

Award #0136

Number of Awards: Approximately 5

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach one course in area of specialization. Consult with colleagues and committees at the host university (and other Hong Kong universities) that have responsibility for developing general education programs and courses for the new 4-year undergraduate program to be implemented in 2012. Participate in a team coordinated by the Hong Kong-America Center that will organize workshops in Hong Kong on general education.

Specialization(s): Applicants in a variety of disciplines are welcome.

Additional Qualifications: Experience, preferably in a leadership role, in development of a university or college's general education curriculum or first-year program and in presenting faculty workshops on effective modes of teaching and learning.

Location(s): Grantees will be affiliated with the Hong Kong-America Center and one of the participating Hong Kong universities.

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: September 2010. 10 months strongly preferred, but 5 months are possible in some cases. 5-month grants may start in September 2010 or January 2011

Comments: The purpose of these awards is to assist Hong Kong universities in their preparations for replacing the current 3-year undergraduate program with a 4-year program that will include general education requirements in September 2012. The major selection criterion for these awards will be the applicant's ability to contribute to the development of new general liberal arts courses that incorporate broad themes of Western and Asian society and culture that will equip Hong Kong students to enter productive civic and economic roles in the 21st century. Faculty in all disciplines in the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences as well as engineering, policy studies, business, law, the arts, etc. will be considered. Applicants should have strong professional records and broad competence in their academic discipline. They should also have experience (preferably in a leadership role) on a college or university-wide committee that developed an exemplary general education curriculum for American undergraduates as well as experience in developing interdisciplinary courses and in organizing and presenting faculty workshops on effective modes of teaching and learning. Familiarity with curriculum alignment and online teaching strategies will be an advantage. Applicants must be comfortable with active participation in a team coordinated by the Hong Kong-America Center that will be working with the Hong Kong universities. They should also be prepared to engage in a dialogue with their Hong Kong colleagues and write a paper for a published anthology on general education based on their experience in Hong Kong. Please note that while the grant benefits for these awards will be comparable to those provided to other American lecturers to Hong Kong under the Fulbright Program, they will be paid in Hong Kong dollars and disbursed by the Hong Kong-America Center. Individuals who are interested in these awards but who are unable to apply for 2010-11 should note that they will also be offered in the 2011-12 competition.

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

Award #0137

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach courses in area of specialization.

Additional Qualifications: Associate or full professor preferred, but assistant professors with 5 years of teaching experience will be considered. Regardless of rank, applicants should be excellent undergraduate teachers.

Location(s): University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Starting Date: Late August 2010

Comments: Scholars in any discipline are welcome to apply. If the grantee's work focuses on the United States (especially on American literature and culture), the grantee will be affiliated with the American Studies Program (ASP). A grantee in other disciplines will be affiliated with the appropriate academic department. A grantee placed at the ASP would teach three 13-week semester undergraduate courses including a first year course, a second year course on the American city or the road to American culture, and a senior level course, over the course of the year. An ASP grantee is responsible for two hours of lectures weekly, plus tutorials. First year classes are large and higher level courses have 15-35 students.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Location(s): Affiliation to be determined.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 6 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010 or later, but work must be completed by August 31, 2011

Comments: Preference will be given to projects involving collaboration with Hong Kong scholars. Applicants should indicate a proposed affiliation and secure a letter of invitation. Host institutions may ask a grantee to teach one course in order to secure access to faculty housing. The Hong Kong-America Center (HKAC) can assist with securing an affiliation or can serve as an affiliation. Please contact Dr. Glenn Shive, the executive director of HKAC, at glennshive@cuhk.edu.hk regarding affiliations. Questions about the application process should be directed to the CIES program officer.

SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES

Award #0141

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Conduct collaborative research with Hong Kong colleagues in the thematic areas as they relate to China leading to a conference at the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) near the end of the grant period, publications or both. Teach one advanced level course in English in area of expertise. Give public lectures as requested.

Additional Qualifications: Associate or full professor preferred. Open to any social science or humanities discipline.

Location(s): Chinese University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong

Starting Date: Late August 2010

Comments: The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) has made Chinese Studies a major area of research and teaching across faculties and centers in the university. The Fulbright scholar will be affiliated with one of the research centers at the CUHK focused on China as well as the Hong Kong-America Center (HKAC). The host institution is seeking strong American scholars in the social science or humanities that have an interest in working collaboratively on China as it relates to their specialties and who will work comparatively and across disciplines. They do not have to have Chinese language skills or extensive knowledge of China. Applicants may be in a variety of disciplines or working in cross-disciplinary areas including: history; international relations; economics, finance and trade relations; arts, culture, religion/philosophy; mass media and journalism; environment and energy; public health policy; migration and urbanization; language and literature; science and technology policy; ethnicity and gender; law and political development; social and regional development; education and academic exchange; and China's emerging role in the global organizations and systems. While the grantee will teach one course and be asked to give some lectures, the emphasis of the award is on collaborative research. For more information about the centers at CUHK, applicants should review www.cuhk.edu.hk. They may also contact Dr. Glenn Shive at the HKAC (glennshive@cuhk.edu.hk and www.cuhk.edu.hk/hkac).

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Indonesia

Summary: Up to 10 awards for lecturing, research or a combination of lecturing/research.

Program Overview: Awards are from 5 to 10 months. The first semester begins in September 2010 and the second in February 2011. Grants may be extended by 2 weeks for grantees who wish to do initial in-country language training, for which support is provided, or who wish to do additional in-country lecturing. Applicants must have faculty rank and a minimum of 3 years of college teaching experience beyond the terminal degree in their field. All grantees will be encouraged to travel and lecture within Indonesia, and they may be invited to participate in the cultural and educational program activities of the Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy in Indonesia. There may also be opportunities to lecture in other East Asian and Pacific countries. Applicants may specify preferred affiliations but should understand that the American-Indonesian Exchange Foundation, the Fulbright office in Indonesia, will make assignments based on the best match between the expertise of selected scholars and the needs of participating institutions. Priority is given to projects of mutual interest to scholars in Indonesia and the United States. Most instruction is in English, but students have varying levels of English language proficiency. While all applicants must have a terminal degree, the American-Indonesian Educational Foundation welcomes applications from junior faculty (less than 5 years of teaching experience) and faculty from community colleges and 4-year colleges as well as from senior scholars and retired faculty. Please note: As of July 2008, the Indonesian government implemented a new regulation for foreigners who will teach and conduct research in Indonesia. Those who apply for lecturing/research grants must submit a research proposal which is related to the course(s) they will teach. The research project must support the teaching courses offered to the host institutions.

East Asia and the Pacific

Staff: Program Officer Michael Zdanovich, 202.686.7873, mzdhanovich@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Erin Russell, 202.686.4006, erussell@cies.iie.org

Japan

Summary: Up to six lecturing awards, up to two lecturing/research awards, up to five research awards, up to two research awards for working journalists and five seminar awards for international education administrators.

Program Overview: Lecturing and lecturing/research awards for 10 months start in September 2010, and awards for one academic term (approximately 4 months) start in September 2010 or April 2011. All teaching is in English. Research awards may start between July 2010 and June 2011 and are for 3 to 9 months. Serial grants consisting of two short-term visits over a 2-year period are possible for researchers. Research awards are open to academics and to professionals in business, government, journalism, law, social services, etc. Applicants may be Japan specialists or nonspecialists who wish to pursue comparative research in their fields. To facilitate the proposed work, applicants who are not specialists are expected to make contact with a Japanese colleague or institution prior to submitting their applications. Applicants in the arts, including creative writing, must have an institutional affiliation in the United States. Individuals who are living in Japan are not eligible to apply. Applicants should consult the benefits section in order to be reassured that Fulbright grants to Japan are generous enough to cover their expenses.

Staff: Program Officer Michael Zdanovich, 202.686.7873, mzdhanovich@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Trevor Foley, 202.686.4025, tfoley@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0150

Number of Awards: Approximately 6

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in area of specialization. While projects in all disciplines are possible, the following subject areas are of particular interest: the culture and society of modern Japan, including anthropology, the arts, business, economics, history, law, literature, politics and sociology. Projects may address problems of contemporary society. Topics of particular interest include the impact of rapid technological development, environmental pollution, urbanization, gerontology, human ecology, finite resources, population, labor relations, the family, public law and criminology, and projects that examine the education systems of Japan and the United States from a comparative perspective. For projects in education, areas of inquiry might include, but are not limited to, all aspects of internationalization (institutional, faculty or students), structural or curricular reform and the role of education in society. The following are examples of possible topics: the dynamics and process of educational reform; teacher education; language education policy; socialization and the school; technology as an agent of change; the community, school and home; standardized versus individualized education; centralized vs. decentralized education; and the response to physical and learning disabilities in mainstream education. Other projects may examine post-World War II political and economic relations among the United States, Japan and other Pacific Rim countries, including those in Northeast and Southeast Asia and the Pacific Islands, Mexico, Canada, Australia and New Zealand. To facilitate this type of project, the researcher may, when indicated in the initial application and on approval after arrival in Japan, spend up to 2 months in another Pacific Rim country if the grant period is 9 months.

Additional Qualifications: Academics must be 3 years beyond their Ph.D. at the time of application.

Language: Japanese language proficiency, if required for the project.

Location(s): Affiliation to be determined. While the Japan-U.S. Educational Commission will finalize all affiliation arrangements, applicants are urged to obtain an invitation from their host country collaborators to be submitted with their applications.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: After July 1, 2010, but before June 30, 2011

Comments: A serial grant (two short-term visits over a 2-year period) is possible for a grant of 6 months or longer. This should be discussed in the proposal, and a rationale for structuring the grant this way should be provided. Each of the segments should not be less than 3 months long. The total amount of time for the two segments should not exceed 9 months. Japan specialists are expected to have Japanese language facility. Applicants without prior experience in Japan and without Japanese language proficiency must demonstrate the feasibility of conducting their research in English. They should also plan a minimum stay of 6 months. Professional applicants must demonstrate how their research will contribute to the Japan-U.S. relationship in their specialty and to their own professional development. They are expected to submit a publishable report on their research within 6 months after the end of the grant. Arranging housing can take a while, therefore applicants are welcome to contact their prospective host institutions regarding the availability of institutional housing at the time of application. However, applicants should not expect that housing be arranged by the host institution or the Japan-U.S. Educational Commission.

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0151

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach two undergraduate or graduate courses, or a combination of both, in field of specialization per semester. Courses meet once a week for 90 minutes. This reduced teaching load (normal load for Fulbright lecturing grantees in Japan is four courses) allows grantees to conduct research on a topic of their choice. The research project should be consistent with the grantee's area of expertise, and the project should be feasible, especially with regard to language, time and venue constraints. The proposal must also make clear why residence in Japan is essential to undertake the research.

Additional Qualifications: Applicants must have at least 3 years of university or college teaching experience beyond Ph.D. Teaching at a community college counts toward the required 3 years. Teaching assistant work does not qualify. Language: Japanese proficiency, if needed for research.

Location(s): Affiliation to be finalized by the Japan-U.S. Educational Commission.

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: September 2010 for two-semester awards, and September 2010 or April 2011 for one-semester awards

Comments: While applicants are urged to obtain an invitation from potential host institutions to be submitted with their applications, the Japan-U.S. Educational Commission will finalize all affiliation arrangements. Grantees are required to attend a 2-day group orientation in Japan, as well as a midyear conference.

JOURNALISM

Award #0152

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in applicant's area of specialization. Proposals must be feasible with respect to the applicant's qualifications and language abilities as well as time frame. It is expected that the research will result in a tangible product appropriate to the grantee's particular field of journalism (for example, a series of articles, a television program or a series of radio stories on some facet of Japan). The product should be described in some detail in the project statement. During the grant period, grantees are welcome to generate periodic articles or reports, but they are not allowed to serve as a regular correspondent for either a U.S. employer or, if there is one, their Japanese affiliation.

Additional Qualifications: Applicants must be working journalists and have at least 3 years of experience.

Language: Japanese language proficiency is desirable but not required.

East Asia and the Pacific

Location(s): While the Japan-U.S. Educational Commission will finalize all affiliation arrangements, applicants are urged to obtain an invitation letter from their Japanese collaborator to be submitted with their applications.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: After July 1, 2010 but before June 30, 2011

Comments: The purpose of these awards is to provide opportunities for both junior and senior journalists working in print, broadcast and digital media to become better informed about Japan.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

STUDY OF THE UNITED STATES

Award #0153

Number of Awards: Approximately 6

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach undergraduate or graduate courses in field of specialization, or a combination of both, but courses must relate to the American experience. Teaching load each semester is four courses, which meet once a week for 90 minutes. Grantees often teach two similar courses at two different institutions per semester.

Specialization(s): Applications are encouraged in American studies, anthropology, art history, business administration, communications, economics, education, ethnic studies, gender studies, history, law, literature, philosophy, political science, popular culture, sociology and women's studies. See comments for additional specializations.

Additional Qualifications: Applicants must have a doctoral degree and at least 3 years of university or college teaching experience beyond Ph.D. Teaching at a community college counts toward the required 3 years. Teaching assistant work does not qualify.

Location(s): Affiliation to be determined.

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: The 10-month grants will run from September 2010 through July 2011.

Academic-term grants will run from mid-September 2010 through January 2011 or mid-March 2010 through mid-August 2011.

Comments: While academic-year appointments are preferred, academic-term appointments are possible. In addition to the specializations included above, there is also interest in diplomatic history, geography, intellectual history, international relations, sociolinguistics and urban planning. Most lectureships will involve a dual affiliation at accredited 4-year universities. Because placement of candidates is arranged and confirmed by the Japan-U.S. Educational Commission, applicants should not set up their own affiliations. Applicants may suggest possible institutional affiliations; however, the Commission may not be able to accommodate an applicant's preference. Grantees are required to attend a 2-day group orientation in Japan, as well as a midyear conference.

U.S.-JAPAN INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION ADMINISTRATORS PROGRAM

Award #0154

Number of Awards: Approximately 5

Category: Seminar

Grant Activity: Participate in a group program designed to familiarize participants with higher education, society and culture in Japan. Program consists of briefings, campus visits, appointments with selected government officials, cultural activities and meetings with Japanese international education professionals. Because the program has an intensive, physically demanding, pre-arranged itinerary and schedule, little time is available for individual projects or appointments unless undertaken at the conclusion of the program at the grantee's expense. The program is not intended to be a vehicle for initiating or implementing a U.S. institution's linkage program, student recruitment or establishment of branch campuses. Accompanying dependents are not allowed.

Additional Qualifications: Applicants are not required to have a doctoral degree.

Location(s): Visits to various institutions.

Starting Date: Mid-June 2010

Comments: PLEASE FOLLOW THE SPECIAL APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS FOR THIS AWARD. They can be found on the CIES Web site, www.cies.org/IEA/IEA\_1.htm. Applicants must be international education administrators (for example, foreign student advisors, study abroad advisors, foreign student admissions) or senior-level university administrators (deans, vice presidents, provosts and presidents) with substantial (at least 25 percent of their time) responsibility for enhancing the international dimension of their institutions. Applicants must be affiliated with a 2- or 4-year college, university or a nonprofit international education exchange organization and have a minimum of 5 years of full-time work experience in the field of international education. Directors of English language programs and instructors in such programs are not eligible. Preference is given to applicants who have not had significant professional visits to Japan in the last 5 years as well as to applicants who are based in institutions that already have some substantive connections with Japan manifested in a reasonable size population (25+) of Japanese students, a study abroad program and linkage agreements with Japanese institutions, or both. Applicants from 2-year colleges should be aware that the itinerary in Japan does not include visits to 2-year institutions. Grantees are required to attend an orientation program held in conjunction with the annual National Association of Foreign Student Advisors (NAFSA) conference in Kansas City, MO in late May 2010 at their own expense. THE STAFF PERSON FOR U.S.-JAPAN INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION ADMINISTRATORS PROGRAM IS DAVID ADAMS, 202.686.4021, dadams@cies.iie.org. Special Deadline: November 1, 2009

Korea

Summary: Up to three research awards, up to five lecturing/research awards, up to five lecturing awards, up to two distinguished lecturing awards and four seminar awards for international education administrators.

Program Overview: Teaching is in English, but because students' levels of English comprehension vary, lecturers should expect to spend more time preparing class materials and be innovative and patient in teaching. Grant numbers for all categories are subject to funding availability.

ALL DISCIPLINES: DISTINGUISHED LECTURESHIP

Award #0155

Category: Distinguished Lecturing

Grant Activity: Reside at host institution, for at least one academic semester. Lecture in English. Teach two courses per semester to undergraduate or graduate students, or a combination of both. Give public lectures and participate in joint research as arranged and in the overall intellectual life of the department.

Specialization(s): All disciplines are welcome, but scholars in the humanities and social sciences without previous experience living in Korea are particularly preferred.

Additional Qualifications: Full professor with tenure. Applicants must have a distinguished record of scholarship and publication. Applicants should submit CV to Michael Zdanovich at CIES (mzdanovich@cies.iie.org) for consultation before making an application.

Language: English is the language of instruction. No Korean language proficiency is required.

Location(s): Yonsei University, Seoul Chungnam National University, Daejeon

Length of Grant: 4 months to 10 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or March 2011

Comments: Individuals without previous experience living in Korea are preferred.

PEACE STUDIES

Award #0156

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach graduate-level courses. Average class size is 8-15 students and teaching load is 3 hours per week. Advise students and assist with curriculum development.

Specialization(s): East Asian comparative studies, global governance, international security policies, human rights and democracy, the United Nations and global peace, history of peace ideas, regional politics and economy, regional organizations in the Asia-Pacific region, U.S. politics, conflict resolution, diplomacy and negotiation

Additional Qualifications: Minimum academic rank of associate professor and minimum 10 years teaching experience beyond Ph.D. at university, college or community college. Teaching assistantship does not count toward the required 10 years.

East Asia and the Pacific

Location(s): The Graduate Institute of Peace Studies, Kyung Hee University, Namyangju, Gyeonggi

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010 or March 1, 2011

Comments: Although an invitation letter is not required for application, potential applicants are encouraged to contact Dr. Gi-bung Kwon, dean of academic affairs, gip@khu.ac.kr; university Web site address: <http://gip.khu.ac.kr>.

SOCIAL SCIENCES, HUMANITIES, FINE ARTS

Award #0157

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in applicant's field of specialization. All projects should show a particular focus on Korea or be comparative in nature.

Additional Qualifications: Applicants may be academics or professionals and may be Korea specialists or non-specialists. Applicants must have a minimum of 5 years work experience in their field beyond the terminal degree.

Language: Korean, if needed for the project.

Location(s): Affiliation to be determined.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 10 months

Starting Date: Anytime between June 2010 and March 2011

Comments: Because university housing is not usually available for the research-only grantee, the Korean-American Educational Commission will arrange housing in consultation with the grantee. Applicants must have an affiliation confirmed by the time an award is offered. Applicants should do their best to include a letter of invitation in the application from a host university in Korea at the time of submission. If an invitation letter is forthcoming after submission, inform CIES Program Officer Michael Zdanovich at mzdanovich@cies.iie.org.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

STUDY OF THE UNITED STATES

Award #0158

Number of Awards: Approximately 5

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach undergraduate or graduate courses in field of specialization, but courses should be related to the Study of the United States. Teaching load is usually 6 contact hours per week. Lecture topics or courses are usually selected from among those proposed by the applicant. Applicants who offer overly specific approaches or less standard themes will be difficult to place at a university in Korea. Present lectures and workshops at other institutions as arranged by the American Studies Association of Korea. For lecturing/research awards, research does not have to relate to the study of the United States. Grantees will be given a research-only period before or after each semester (4 months) of teaching.

Specialization(s): Preference is for scholars in American history and literature, political science, economics, business administration and any other disciplines in social sciences, humanities and fine arts whose work focus on the United States.

Additional Qualifications: Minimum academic rank of assistant professor and minimum 5 years of teaching experience beyond Ph.D. at a university, college or community college.

Teaching assistantship does not count toward the required 5 years.

Language: Lecturing is in English for lecturing/research awards. Korean if needed for the research project.

Location(s): Affiliation to be determined. See below for further details on affiliation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 12 months

Starting Date: Late August 2010 or late February 2011 for lecturing and July or August 2010 or January or February 2011 for lecturing/research

Comments: Grant length for Lecturing/Research award can be either for 4 to 6 or 10 to 12 months. Grant length for Lecturing award is either 4 or 10 months. Affiliations will be with public, national or private institutions in Korea. Korea has a diverse pool of private universities. In addition, major national universities are also willing to host Fulbright grantees. The Korean-American Educational Commission will arrange and finalize all affiliations in consultation with grantees and potential hosts. While applicants may indicate preferred affiliations, they should not make direct commitments regarding an affiliation.

U.S.-KOREA INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION ADMINISTRATORS PROGRAM

Award #0159

Number of Awards: Approximately 4

Category: Seminar

Grant Activity: Attend meetings with representatives of Korean universities, private-sector agencies and organizations and selected government agencies. Visit university international offices. Respond to questions about U.S. higher education. The program has a demanding and intensive pre-arranged schedule with little time available for individual projects or appointments, unless undertaken at the conclusion of the program at the grantee's expense.

Accompanying dependents are not allowed.

Specialization(s): International education or international education exchange programs, including foreign student admissions, advising and study-abroad programs

Additional Qualifications: Applicants are not required to have a doctoral degree.

Location(s): Visits to various institutions.

Starting Date: mid-June 2010

Comments: PLEASE FOLLOW THE SPECIAL APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS FOR THIS PROGRAM. They can be found on the CIES Web site, www.cies.org/IEA/IEA\_1.htm. Applicants must be international education administrators (for example, foreign student advisors, study abroad advisors or foreign student admissions) or senior-level university administrators with substantial (at least 25 percent of their time) responsibility for enhancing the international dimension of their institutions. Applicants must be affiliated with a 2- or 4-year college or university or a nonprofit international education exchange organization. They must also have a minimum of 5 years of full-time work experience in international education. Directors of English language programs and instructors in such programs are not eligible. Preference is given to applicants who have not had significant professional visits to Korea in the past 5 years as well as to applicants who are based in institutions that already have some substantive connections with Korea manifested in a reasonable size population (25+) of Korean students, a study abroad program or linkage agreements with Korean institutions, or both. This program is not a vehicle for initiating or developing a U.S. institution's linkage programs, for student recruitment or for establishment of branch campuses. The first week will be spent in Seoul and during the second week grantees will visit institutions outside Seoul. Grantees are expected to attend an orientation program held in conjunction with the annual National Association of Foreign Student Advisors (NAFSA) conference in Kansas City, MO in late May 2010 at their own expense. THE STAFF PERSON FOR U.S.-KOREA INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION ADMINISTRATORS PROGRAM IS DAVID ADAMS, 202.686.4021, dadams@cies.iie.org.

Special Deadline: November 1, 2009

Macao

Summary: Two lecturing or lecturing/research awards and one research award.

Program Overview: Macao is a small city with a long history as a Portuguese trading post and a gateway to China. It has a dynamic economy of gaming, tourism and manufacturing and is well connected to both China and Hong Kong. The benefits for two of the three Macao awards are found in the benefits table. The benefits for the research award at Historical Archives of Macao differ from the standard Fulbright package, and can be found in the award description.

Staff: Assistant Director David B.J. Adams, 202.686.4021, dadams@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Trevor Foley, 202.686.4025, tfoley@cies.iie.org

HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

TEACHING ENGLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Award #0162

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Assist with planning and design of institution's English language program in the areas of curriculum development and evaluation and assessment. Host seminars and conduct training courses for English teachers to strengthen their evaluation and assessment capabilities.

Specialization(s): Curriculum development, materials development, outcome assessment and evaluation

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. and 5 years or more of experience or a Masters degree and 10 or more years of experience in curriculum development, materials development, and outcomes assessment and evaluation.

Location(s): Macao University of Science and Technology, Macao

Starting Date: September 2010

Comments: Grantee will work closely with the English program coordinators in General studies on planning and assessing English teaching effectiveness and outcomes including review of the current English program. The Fulbright scholar will assist in evaluating student qualifications and needs in order to enhance the English learning environment and rouse students' interest in learning English. The grantee will be asked to conduct a comprehensive review of the program and prepare a report. NOTE: The grant benefits for this award are paid in local currency. They include: a base stipend of $2,860 per month, a maintenance allowance of $2,350 per month, and a travel and relocation allowance of $3,550. An allowance of $4,350 for an accompanying spouse who is with the grantee for 80 percent of the grant period will be paid in a lump sum; there are no allowances for dependent children.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Malaysia

Summary: Up to four lecturing, research or lecturing/research awards.

Program Overview: Applications will be accepted from both academics and professionals. English is widely spoken in Malaysia. Applicants should have at least 3 years of university teaching experience beyond the Ph.D. or terminal degree. Teaching assistantship does not count toward the required 3 years. Grant may also include limited funding for travel to other locations in Southeast Asia in support of research proposals if approved by the Commission prior to travel, and if the grant length is at least 5 months. In recent years, the typical grantee for Malaysia has included a combination of lecturing and research, with lecture topics determined by the host institution and the research planned by the grantee. For research grantees, the Malaysian-American Commission on Educational Exchange expects that Fulbright Scholars provide research leadership in a broad range of disciplines and encourages them to work with local universities to develop research proposals involving joint activities with Malaysian scholars. Although many Malaysian faculty members have earned advanced degrees from U.S. universities and individual linkages to the academic sector are numerous, higher education in Malaysia continues to be strongly influenced by much closer ties to British universities and, more recently, Australian universities. Malaysia offers promising opportunities for research in such scientific areas as agriculture, forestry and tropical ecology, as well as Southeast Asian history and society, media and information technology, public health and Islamic topics. There is also great need for American studies lecturers. Few Malaysian universities offer programs in American studies, and the need for seasoned American studies specialists has increased due to Malaysia's closer relationship with the United States politically and economically. In response to the continued demand for interfaith dialogue, the Commission gives special emphasis to topics of comparative religion and especially topics that relate to Islam. The first semester begins in late May or early June 2010 and the second in November 2010. Research grantees must complete work by April 2011. Awards for lecturing and lecturing/research are for graduate-level teaching, faculty seminars and workshops. Interested applicants are encouraged to contact Dr. James Coffman, executive director of the Malaysian-American Commission on Educational Exchange at: coffmanjm@macee.org or my for further information about the country or for leads to university contacts.

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0163

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Teach graduate courses, conduct research, or do a combination of both. Lecturing is in English and has generally been limited to graduate courses, as undergraduate instruction is in Bahasa Malaysia (Malaysian national language). Grantees typically also conduct faculty seminars on teaching methods and curriculum development or other issues of professional interest. Grantees are also frequently invited to lecture at other Malaysian universities. For lecturing or lecturing/research grantees, courses and seminars are planned in conjunction with the host department, but applicants should propose and include sample syllabi for specific courses they are prepared to teach. In the case of applications for research and lecturing/research, collaborative research proposals to be conducted jointly with host faculty are preferred.

Specialization(s): While applications will be accepted in all disciplines, the following areas are of particular interest to the Malaysian-American Commission on Educational Exchange: civic education and democracy, global and intercultural communications, global stability and conflict, economic globalization, educational issues pertaining to the roles of the university in society or the future of higher education.

Additional Qualifications: Professionals may apply if they have at least 3 years of university teaching experience beyond terminal degrees.

Language: English is widely spoken in Malaysia, particularly within the academic community, and graduate instruction is in English. For research purposes, some knowledge of Bahasa Malaysia will be helpful.

Location(s): Affiliations will be arranged at public and private universities throughout Peninsular and East Malaysia (Sabah and Sarawak).

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: May or June 2010, or November 2010 preferred. Other dates are also possible but research grantees must complete work by April 2011.

East Asia and the Pacific

Comments: Grants are traditionally for either a single semester (5 months) or a full academic year (10 months), though applications proposing stays of at least 3 months will also be considered. While applicants may specify preferred host institutions and are welcome to include an invitation letter from a specific institution, the Malaysian-American Commission on Educational Exchange reserves the right to make assignments based on the best match between the expertise of the grantee and the needs of prospective host universities, and to determine the final affiliation based on the needs and interests of applicants and contributions by prospective hosts. Applicants proposing a diverse range of potential courses will be more easily placed.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Award #0164

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Based at the Institute of Diplomacy and Foreign Relations, the training institute of Malaysia's Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Assignment may include lectures presented to classes of junior diplomats from Malaysia as well as from other countries in the region and elsewhere in the Middle East and Africa. Lectures on topics of American foreign policy may also be offered to the public. The grantee should have a strong plan for independent research on some topic pertaining to the United States in Southeast Asia or international relations within Asia. The grantee may also work with the Institute to expand its research program and may assist with master's degree programs offered at the Institute through Malaysia's leading universities.

Specialization(s): Preferences will be given to specialists in international relations with emphasis on Southeast Asia and U.S. interactions in the region; U.S. foreign policy in the 20th century with emphasis on Southeast Asia; or Asian international relations. Scholars of international relations and foreign policy with backgrounds in other regions or without regional specializations are welcome to apply but must be willing to commit to a major research effort focused in some way on the United States and Southeast Asia or Malaysia.

Language: English is widely spoken throughout Malaysia, particularly within the academic and diplomatic communities, and most graduate instruction is in English.

Location(s): Institute of Diplomacy and Foreign Relations, Kuala Lumpur

Length of Grant: 3 months to 10 months

Starting Date: Anytime after May or June 2010, but must be agreeable with Institute. Grant activities should be completed by April 2011.

Comments: For research purposes, a reading knowledge of Bahasa Malaysia will be an advantage but can be developed during the grant period. Applicants without substantial background in politics, political development or foreign policy studies in Southeast Asia or Malaysia are strongly encouraged to apply for an award of 5 months or longer to allow time to acclimate.

ISLAMIC STUDIES

Award #0165

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Lecture or conduct research, or a combination of both, in any area of Islamic studies including Islamic fine and performing arts and architecture. Lecturing is in English and has generally been limited to graduate courses or seminars, as undergraduate instruction is in Bahasa Malaysia (Malaysian national language). Fulbright Scholars typically also conduct faculty seminars on teaching methods and curriculum development or other issues of professional interest. Fulbright Scholars are also frequently invited to lecture at other Malaysian universities. Courses and seminars are planned in conjunction with the host department, but applicants should propose and include sample syllabi for specific courses they are prepared to teach. In the case of applications for lecturing/research or research, collaborative research proposals to be conducted jointly with faculty at the host institution are preferred.

Additional Qualifications: Professionals may apply if they have at least 3 years of university teaching experience beyond terminal degrees.

Language: English is widely spoken in Malaysia, particularly within the academic community, and graduate instruction is in English. For research purposes, some knowledge of Bahasa Malaysia will be helpful.

Location(s): See comments.

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: May or June 2010, or November 2010 preferred. Other dates are also possible, but research grantees must complete work by April 2011.

Comments: Grantees will be affiliated with institutions in the vicinity of Kuala Lumpur which: (1) can shape the nature of thinking about Islam in Malaysia and beyond, (2) are open to interaction with others holding differing views, (3) have the capacities to contribute to U.S. understanding of Islam, and (4) have both the physical and human resources to participate in the program. Grantees will have the opportunity to participate in academic and cultural activities related to Islamic studies in Malaysia, including lectures, conferences, symposia and exhibitions. Grants are traditionally for either a single semester (5 months) or a full academic year (10 months), though applications proposing stays of at least 3 months will also be considered. While applicants are encouraged to initiate correspondence with a potential host institution and include an invitation letter from a specific institution, the Malaysian-American Commission on Educational Exchange reserves the right to make assignments based on the best match between the expertise of the grantee and the needs of the prospective host institution, and to determine the final affiliation based on the needs and interests of applicants and contributions by prospective hosts.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

STUDY OF THE UNITED STATES

Award #0166

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach graduate courses or seminars and assist with the development of an American studies program. Lecturing is in English and has generally been limited to graduate courses as undergraduate instruction is in Bahasa Malaysia (Malaysian national language). Fulbright Scholars typically also conduct faculty seminars on teaching methods and curriculum development. Fulbright Scholars are also frequently invited to lecture at other Malaysian universities. Courses and seminars are planned in conjunction with the host department, but applicants should propose and include sample syllabi for specific courses they are prepared to teach.

Specialization(s): Preference will be given to applicants specializing in American studies: history, literature, politics and political process, foreign policy (especially contemporary foreign policy and foundations of foreign policy), higher education administration, society and culture and philosophy.

Additional Qualifications: Professionals may apply if they have at least 3 years of university teaching experience beyond terminal degrees.

Language: English is widely spoken in Malaysia, particularly within the academic community, and graduate instruction is in English. For research purposes, some knowledge of Bahasa Malaysia will be helpful.

Location(s): Host affiliation to be determined by the Commission but applicant may express preference.

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: May or June 2010 or November 2010 preferred. Other dates are also possible.

Comments: Grants are traditionally for either a single semester (5 months) or a full academic year (10 months), though applications proposing stays of at least 3 months will also be considered. While applicants may specify preferred host institutions and are welcome to include an invitation letter from a specific institution, the Malaysian-American Commission on Educational Exchange reserves the right to make assignments based on the best match between the expertise of the grantee and the needs of prospective host universities, and to determine the final affiliation based on the needs and interests of applicants and contributions by prospective hosts. Applicants proposing a diverse range of potential courses will be more easily placed.

Mongolia

Summary: Up to three lecturing or lecturing/research awards.

Program Overview: Lecturers will teach undergraduate courses and may also be asked to assist the host institution with curriculum and program development or supervise graduate students or do both. Proposals to lecture in cultural anthropology, architecture and urban planning and creative writing are discouraged, as Mongolian universities do not have developed programs in these fields. Applicants should hold the appropriate terminal degree and have at least 2 years of university teaching experience or the professional equivalent. Those holding associate or full professor rank are preferred, but assistant professors will also be considered. Lectures are in English, but ability to speak Mongolian or Russian is advantageous. The academic calendar in Mongolia is September 1 to June 15. The fall semester lasts from September 1 to December 31 and the spring semester runs from February 20 to June 15. Schooling for dependent children is available for K-12, but opportunities are limited for students in grades 9-12.

East Asia and the Pacific

Staff: Program Officer Michal Zdanovich, 202.686.7873, mzdanovich@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Erin Russell, 202.686.4006, erussell@cies.iie.org

SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES

Award #0167

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

New Zealand

Summary: Five to six awards for lecturing, research or lecturing/research. The exact number of awards depends on availability of funds and other factors.

Program Overview: Awards offered by Fulbright New Zealand are open to scholars and professionals from all disciplines. Applications are welcome from practitioners in the fine and performing arts with established reputations in their fields, from recent Ph.D.s with some teaching experience, as well as from more established scholars. Fulbright New Zealand strongly encourages those applicants who have little or no experience in New Zealand to apply. If you have extensive prior experience in New Zealand, it may be a disadvantage to your application. Extensive prior experience is defined as study, teaching, research or employment in New Zealand for a period aggregating more than 6 months within the last 10 years. Applicants who are currently living in New Zealand and those with dual United States-New Zealand citizenship are ineligible for an award. Applicants should read the CIES Web site on "Making Contacts Abroad" (www.cies.org/us\_scholars/tips\_contacts.htm) for suggestions on obtaining an invitation letter from New Zealand universities and organizations. Grantees may be invited to deliver at least one public lecture on material not previously presented in New Zealand and should indicate their willingness to visit and deliver seminars at other New Zealand higher education or research institutions and to participate fully in any activities arranged by Fulbright New Zealand, including the orientation program held in early February. Information on Fulbright New Zealand, its programs and links to all New Zealand universities can be found at www.fulbright.org.nz. Full Maintenance awards are granted to applicants who will not receive any financial support from their home or host institution. If offered an award, you will be required to provide proof of your financial situation. Partial Maintenance awards are for those receiving financial support from their home or host institution. Note that the financial entitlements of the partial award in New Zealand are similar to regular Fulbright Scholar awards of many other countries and provide adequate assistance to live in New Zealand during the grant period. If you intend to reside in New Zealand longer than the grant period (excluding holiday or travel time), you must include details in your application.

Philippines

Summary: Up to two research awards, two lecturing/research awards, one lecturing award and one distinguished lecturing award.

Program Overview: Applications will be accepted from both academics and professionals. The Philippine-American Educational Foundation strongly prefers that applicants to all categories have terminal degrees in their field of specialization. All applicants for lecturing and lecturing/research categories, regardless of academics or professionals, must have at least 5 years of teaching experience at a university, college or community college. Teaching assistantships do not count toward the required years of teaching. Academic applicants for the research category should have terminal degrees in their specialization, at least 3 years of teaching experience at a university, college or community college, excluding teaching assistantships, and have obtained the rank of assistant professor or higher. Professional applicants for the research category who have already obtained a terminal degree in their specialization should have at least 3 years of professional work experience in their specialization beyond terminal degrees. Professional applicants for the research category who do not have terminal degrees should have at least 10 years of work experience in their field and a strong record of publication and research in the area that they propose to conduct research. The Philippine-American Educational Foundation may determine grantees' affiliation based on an appropriate match between applicants' proposals and the needs of and potential contribution to host universities in the Philippines. Grantees may be invited to give lectures at other Philippine institutions and may be asked to participate in the East Asia and Pacific Fulbright lecturing program. Unless otherwise indicated, semesters begin in the first or second week of June and the first week of November. Lecturing is in English.

East Asia and the Pacific

Taiwan

Summary: Up to six research awards and seven lecturing awards and up to six partial grants.

Program Overview: Lecturing awards are for 5 or 10 months. Research awards are for 2 to 10 months. The academic year in Taiwan consists of two semesters, generally beginning in early September and in late January or mid-February. Research grants may start anytime after July 1, 2010, but must end before September 30, 2011. Lecturing grants are less flexible. A 10-month grant must begin September 1, 2010. A 5-month grant may begin either on September 1, 2010, or late January or mid-February 2011. There are no summer terms at Taiwan universities, therefore summer lecturing grants are not possible. Except for applicants in a professional field or the arts, who may have an M.A. or M.F.A., all applicants are expected to hold a doctoral degree and to have had research publications or produced creative works in the last 3 years. For lecturing awards, unless otherwise indicated in specific awards, applicants must hold the rank of at least assistant professor and have 3 or more years of university teaching experience. Applicants for research awards must be at least three years beyond completion of the Ph.D. All teaching is in English. There are four schools for American children in Taipei, two in Taichung and two in the Tainan-Kaohsiung area. The grades available for schooling vary from K-9 to K-12. Grantees in all categories may be permitted to spend up to one-fifth of their grant period in mainland China to engage in scholarly activities related to their project.

Thailand

Summary: Approximately five All Disciplines awards for lecturing, lecturing/research or research and one Study of the United States lecturing award.

Program Overview: Applicants without prior experience in Thailand and younger scholars are encouraged to apply. The first semester of the academic year begins in June 2010 and the second in November 2010. Collaborative or individual research is possible in conjunction with lectureships. For research awards, a collaborative project with local scholars is desirable. Academic applicants must hold at least the rank of assistant professor and have a minimum of 3 years of university teaching experience. Professionals should have at least 5 years of relevant work experience beyond the terminal degree and, for lecturing or lecturing/research awards, the indicated amount of university teaching experience. All instruction is in English, but while students have some facility in English, levels of comprehension vary. Therefore, courses are sometimes team taught or an interpreter may be provided. Applicants for the All Disciplines award are strongly encouraged to secure a letter of invitation from the host institution and include it with the application. All applicants should be prepared to present lectures at institutions in other parts of Thailand and/or in other East and Southeast Asian countries. Some cost-sharing arrangements exist with the host institutions and the John F. Kennedy Foundation of Thailand.

Staff: Assistant Director David B.J. Adams, 202.686.4021, dadams@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Trevor Foley, 202.686.4025, tfoley@cies.iie.org

European Union Affairs Research Program

Program Overview: One award for research and lecturing at the College of Europe for the academic year 2010-11. Candidates interested in research and lecturing at the College of Europe will be able to pursue independent research in the first semester and will teach one seminar on transatlantic relations to 20-30 graduate students in the second semester (January-June). Letter of invitation is not required. Commission will confer with the College concerning candidates. Fluency in French would be appreciated, but it is not required. Preferred fields are political science, economics, public policy and administrative studies. A Ph.D. is required depending on the qualifications of the candidate, assistant professors may also be considered. The College of Europe offers a master's program in European studies to a very select group of graduate students from all European countries and North America. Furnished housing, suitable for a single scholar or a couple in one of the student residence halls is provided by the College. Meals can be taken free-of-charge in the student cafeteria. For scholars with families, assistance in finding housing is provided.

Candidates interested in research in European Union Affairs or U.S.-EU relations will be considered for awards of 2-5 months tenable in one or more of the 27 EU Member States. Proposals may be made in a variety of fields and topics. Current issues of interest in the EU include higher education policy, immigration issues, language policy, regulatory matters, monetary policy, security issues, environmental concerns, and information technology. Candidates must provide a letter of invitation from the host institution in the EU. Candidates will need language proficiency for the country in which they will be located. Applicants for research awards should have at least several years of experience beyond the Ph.D. level. Professionals (policy-makers, decision-makers, individuals in industry, the media, politics, etc.) with relevant professional experience are encouraged to apply. Generally, the quality of the applicant's proposal is more important than academic rank. Beginning dates for research awards may be flexible in individual cases, contingent upon the grantee's institutional affiliation. Academic year: this varies enormously in the Member States of the EU. Preference will be given to projects requiring the grantee's presence in two member states of the EU. Staff: Program Officer Alisha Scott, 202.686.6244, ascott@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Jeffrey Hopper, 202.686.6255, jhopper@cies.iie.org

EUROPEAN UNION AFFAIRS RESEARCH PROGRAM

Award #0188

Number of Awards: Approximately 8

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research on EU affairs or U.S.-EU relations. Preference will be given to projects focusing on the organizations of the EU, particularly on the process of institution building within the EU and a variety of topics of interest. Projects requiring the grantee's presence in one or more of the member states of the EU are preferred.

Specialization(s): EU affairs, U.S.-EU relations, higher education policy, immigration issues, language policy, regulatory matters, monetary policy, security issues, environmental concerns, information technology

Additional Qualifications: Several years of experience beyond the Ph.D. are required.

Professionals (decision-makers, policy-makers, individuals in industry, the media, politics) with relevant experience are also encouraged to apply.

Language: Candidates will need language proficiency for the country in which they will be located. Interpreters generally not provided.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 2 months to 5 months

Starting Date: Grants must occur between September 2010 and June 2011

Comments: Projects requiring presence in one or more of the member states of the EU are preferred.

FULBRIGHT CHAIR IN U.S.-EU RELATIONS

Award #0189

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: The grantee may pursue independent research in the first semester. In the second semester, the grantee will lead a course in the framework of a master's program to a very select group of graduate students from Europe and North America. This course will deal with aspects of transatlantic relations. One seminar during the second term (30 hours, taught in a "block system" with dates individually arranged). Average class size is 20-30 students. Students can purchase books, but as a rule the library is used for reading. Grantee may also be asked to provide thesis advising and participate in conferences, etc. On European affairs, the college library is among the best available, but it covers a broad range of subjects beyond that.

Specialization(s): Within U.S.-EU relations, the following specialties are preferred: political science, economics, administrative studies, public policy.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. and several years of teaching experience. Preferably associate or full professor, but assistant professor will be considered.

Language: French is desirable, but not required.

Location(s): Department of European Political and Administrative Studies, College of Europe, Bruges

Length of Grant: 10 months

Starting Date: Grants must occur between September 2010 and June 2011

Visit www.coleurop.be for additional information on the host institution.

Albania

Summary: Up to three awards for lecturing or lecturing/research at the undergraduate and graduate levels from among the openings listed below. Interested scholars should contact CIES staff before submitting an application.

Program Overview: Applicants with a Ph.D. are preferred, but applicants with an M.A. or other professional degree and at least 5 years of substantial experience in their fields will be considered. Administrative experience is highly desirable. The academic year is October through June. An international English language school (K-9) is located in Tirana. Computer facilities and hardware are limited, but e-mail access is available at Internet cafes, which are available in large urban areas. It is anticipated that lecturing will be done in English but interpreters will be available if necessary. Applications are welcomed in all fields but preference is given to those related to the development of free enterprise, human resource development and organizational management. Living conditions and infrastructure in Albania are improving, particularly in cities; however, the country is still undergoing significant change. Access to resources and people is generally good, though it can often take repeated efforts to arrange meetings, affiliations, etc. Public affairs office staff at the U.S. embassy in Tirana will assist with housing as requested. Monthly housing costs vary between $550 and $750 depending on location and size. For further information contact Mirela Cupi, educational and cultural assistant, cupim@state.gov or Leigh A. Rieder, assistant public affairs officer, riederla@state.gov; U.S. embassy Web site: www.tirana.usembassy.gov. Visit www.cies.org/country/albania.htm for more information about the country.

Austria

Summary: Up to 17 awards, including two research awards, five lecturing awards with research options, nine distinguished lecturing awards and one artist-in-residence award. See also Fulbright Distinguished Chairs Program and regional and special programs in Europe.

Program Overview: The Austrian-American Educational Commission evaluates proposals in terms of their potential for contributing to fulfilling the program's mandate of promoting mutual understanding between the peoples of Austria and the United States. Proposals for flexible combinations of lecturing and research will be evaluated for their scholarly excellence, comparative approaches, bilateral relevance, and potential for establishing or enhancing institutional relationships. Applicants for "All Disciplines" lecturing/research awards should have at least several years of experience beyond the doctorate and are advised to arrange affiliation with an appropriate Austrian host institution and document this contact by including a letter of invitation from their proposed host with their application. The academic calendar is from October 1, 2010 to January 31, 2011 for the winter semester and from March 1 to June 30, 2011 for the summer semester. A university-level course in Austria usually consists of one 90-minute meeting per week that is equal to 2 "academic hours." As a rule, the quality of an applicant's proposal is more important to the Austrian-American Educational Commission than the academic rank of the applicant. The Distinguished Chairs program was conceived to attract senior scholars. Grantees may teach in English. Knowledge of German is not required; some German is a pragmatic necessity. Prospective applicants may contact the Commission for further information: Dr. Lonnie Johnson, executive director, Austrian-American Educational Commission (Fulbright Commission) e-mail: Ljohnson@fulbright.at; Fulbright Commission, quartier21/MQ, Museumsplatz 1, 1070 Vienna, Austria, +431.236.7878.0; www.fulbright.at.

Staff: Program Officer Alisha Scott, 202.686.6244, ascott@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Alexandra Squitieri, 202.686.6232, asquitieri@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0197

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Flexible combinations of lecturing and research entail as a rule a teaching load of two courses per week (individual class meetings of 90 minutes each) for advanced undergraduate or graduate students in area of interest. The Austrian Commission is particularly interested in proposals based on comparative approaches and issues. Details of teaching load are to be articulated by lecturer and host institution. Lecturing must be an integral part of all proposals. Opportunities for research are contingent upon grantee's interests, areas of specialization and proposed relationship to host institution. Involvement in tutorials, student advising and other duties are negotiable and depend upon the expectations of the host institution and the manner in which the working relationship develops.

Additional Qualifications: Scholars with several years of teaching and research experience are preferred.

Language: Lecturing is in English, but some proficiency in German is helpful.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: October 2010 or March 2011

Comments: Letter of invitation from the proposed host institution is required and should be submitted together with application.

AMERICAN STUDIES

Award #0198

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach three sessions per week (individual class meetings of 90 minutes each) for advanced undergraduate or graduate students in area of interest with details on content and format of courses to be arranged by host institution and lecturer. Other duties, like tutorials and student advising, are negotiable and depend on the needs and expectations of the host institution and manner in which the working relationship develops.

Specialization(s): Open to all disciplines in the humanities and social sciences relevant to American studies (literature, culture, history, society, politics, etc.). The host institution is especially, but by no means exclusively, interested in candidates in cultural studies. Primary institutional affiliation may be outside of the departments of English and American studies at the host institution and is contingent upon grantee's field of specialization.

Language: Lecturing is in English.

Location(s): University of Innsbruck, Innsbruck

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: October 2010 or March 2011

Comments: This award will rotate annually and be hosted by the Austrian university responsible for sponsoring the annual meeting of the Austrian Association of American Studies. 2010-11: University of Innsbruck; 2011-12: University of Vienna; 2012-13: University of Salzburg.

AUSTRIAN-HUNGARIAN JOINT RESEARCH AWARD

Award #0199

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in the humanities or social sciences on the relationship between Austria and Hungary, in collaboration with Austrian and Hungarian specialists.

Specialization(s): Open to all disciplines and topics in the humanities and social sciences, provided that proposals have a strong bilateral Austrian-Hungarian or regional emphasis, including, but not limited to, the arts, economics, ecology, European integration, EU expansion, geography, history (1526-present) and political science.

Language: Research may be in English, German or Hungarian, as appropriate to the project.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letters of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: Research should be completed between September 2010 and June 2011.

Comments: Research must involve a 2-month residency in Austria and a 2-month residency in Hungary. For more information about Austria, contact Alisha Scott, 202.686.6244, ascott@cies.iie.org. For information about Hungary, contact Muriel Joffe, 202.686.6249, mjoffe@cies.iie.org.

Special Features: Joint

Bosnia and Herzegovina

Summary: Up to four awards for lecturing or combined lecturing/research from among the openings listed below.

Program Overview: The academic calendar varies from university to university, but in general the academic year is from September or October through June, with semesters running from mid-September or early October through December and early January and mid-February through June. Lecturing or combined lecturing/research awards are for one or two semesters during the academic year. Under new regulations determined by the U.S. Department of State, adult dependents may accompany grantees, and dependents under 21 may do so on a case-by-case basis. Bosnia and Herzegovina is a post-communist country and a postwar country in transition. Bosnian society is still very much in the midst of healing, reconciliation and reconstruction at all levels--educational, political, social, psychological, economic, etc. There are opportunities in Bosnia to apply one's academic specialization to "history in progress" by working with Bosnians and the large international community in Bosnia and Herzegovina on issues of reconstruction, reconciliation and recovery. Visit www.cies.org/country/bosnia\_herzegovina.htm for more information about the country.

Cyprus

Summary: For 2010-11, it is proposed that four lecturers/consultants and one researcher be funded from 4-7 months, depending on the project.

Program Overview: The Commission is announcing an "All Disciplines" award of 4-7 months. Alternatively, fewer longer duration projects could be awarded in lieu of the currently described shorter duration projects. All proposals must be feasible in terms of placement and affiliation and acceptable to both the Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot communities. Grant opportunities are provided by the Fulbright Scholar Program to American and Cypriot scholars to exchange ideas and views, do common research and enhance each other's discipline and cultural knowledge.

Staff: Program Officer Abby Greenwell, 202.686.7872, agreenwell@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Jeffrey Hopper, 202.686.6255, jhopper@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0233

Number of Awards: Approximately 5

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Scholars will lecture or conduct research in their areas of interest. Detailed programs as well as work schedules will be finalized in cooperation with the scholar once grantees are selected. Given the particular conditions that exist in Cyprus, scholars should be informed of the complicated political situation on the island and that they must be aware of the local sensitivities in putting forward their proposals. Projects must be feasible in terms of placement and affiliation and be acceptable to both the Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot communities.

Specialization(s): The Commission announces the "All Disciplines" award only. The Cyprus Fulbright Commission is looking to bring to Cyprus scholars particularly in the fields of drug abuse and prevention, archaeology, history, geology, domestic violence, nursing, conflict resolution and conflict management and American studies.

Additional Qualifications: Minimum qualification is preferably at the Ph.D. level and should include relevant professional experience.

Language: English is sufficient for lecturing.

Location(s): Affiliation to be determined, but applicant may indicate preference.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or January 2011

Comments: For 2010-11, there are up to four lecturing or consulting awards and one research award. Letters of invitation from potential host institutions are strongly recommended. Contact Daniel Hadjittofi, executive director, Cyprus Fulbright Commission at cfc@fulbright.org, cy or visit the Commission's Web site at www.fulbright.org.cy.

Finland

Summary: Up to eight awards from among the openings listed below. See also Fulbright Distinguished Chairs Program and regional and special programs in Europe.

Program Overview: The academic year runs from September through mid-May; the fall semester is from the beginning of September to mid-December and the second semester is from early January to mid-May. Most awards include free housing arranged and paid for by the host institution; please see the benefits table for more information. At some universities the grantees will also be able to use the health care services available for the host university faculty and staff. Where this is not possible, high-quality health care in English is easily available for a very moderate price. Finland offers a safe environment for grantees and their families to live in. English is widely spoken throughout the country. Finnish universities are going through reforms in their academic structure. Most universities are following a system involving two semesters, each comprised of two periods, often 7 weeks in length, with a 1-week break between periods. No teaching is generally offered during June to August, thus grants are not usually available for the summer months. The Fulbright Center in Helsinki arranges a 3-day orientation for grantees at the end of August, which grantees arriving for the fall semester are expected to attend. An orientation meeting may also be arranged for grantees arriving in January. The Finnish Commission strongly encourages potential applicants to visit the Commission's Web site: www.fulbright.fi for more information and to contact the Commission directly with any questions. CIES staff will send, upon request, specific information about awards. For general information on Finland go to the country page, www.cies.org/country/finland.htm.
Staff: Senior Program Officer Jean McPeck, 202.686.6246, jmcpeek@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Kevin Orchison, 202.686.7852, korchison@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0244

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Lecture or lecture and conduct research in any discipline. Proposals for medical research involving clinical training, patient care or patient contact are not eligible.

Language: English is sufficient for teaching.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and submit a letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: Late August 2010 or early January 2011

Comments: Research-only grants are not available. Applicant negotiates details regarding lecture/research ratio, number and level of courses taught, etc., with host institution. It is strongly recommended that the host institution include this information in detail in letter of invitation. The length and dates of proposed visit should also be mentioned in the invitation letter. Housing for the grantee must be arranged and paid for by the host institution, and this information must be confirmed in the letter of invitation. Visit the Finnish Ministry of Education Web site at www.minedu.fi/OPM/Koulutus/ylpiopistokoulutus/ylpiopistot/?lang=en for links to Finnish university homepages or contact the Fulbright Center in Helsinki at office@fulbright.fi for assistance in locating host institutions. Most grants are for 4-5 months. In compelling situations a 9-month grant will be considered.

FULBRIGHT-SAASTAMOINEN FOUNDATION AWARD IN HEALTH SCIENCES

Award #0245

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Lecture and conduct research, participate in seminars and workshops and tutor doctoral students.

Specialization(s): Health sciences

Language: English is sufficient.

Location(s): Faculty of Medicine or A.I.V. Institute for Molecular Sciences, University of Kuopio, Kuopio or Faculty of Natural and Environmental Sciences or Faculty of Pharmacy, University of Kuopio, Kuopio

Length of Grant: 5 months

Starting Date: August or September 2010 or January 2011 is preferred.

Comments: Research pursued by the Faculty of Medicine focuses on chronic and non-communicable diseases in a comprehensive manner, from molecular mechanisms to prevention and treatment of disease. The medical perspective is complemented by strong research related to food and health and food safety. Research priorities are (a) molecular medicine, (b) prevention and treatment of chronic diseases, (c) neurosciences, (d) medical imaging. The research profile of AIVI is on molecular medicine of major diseases of high importance for health care, including cardiovascular diseases, neurodegenerative diseases and metabolism-related diseases. The strong research sub-areas include: (a) molecular and cellular mechanisms of diseases, (b) disease modeling, (c) prevention and therapy of diseases: gene and cell-based therapy, pharmaceutical intervention and (d) in vitro and in vivo imaging. The Faculty of Natural and Environmental Sciences has focus areas in environmental health research, including (a) fine and ultrafine particles in urban air, (b) nanoparticles, (c) bioenergy production, (d) indoor air, (e) radiation and electromagnetic fields, (f) drinking water, and (g) persistent organic pollutants. The Faculty of Pharmacy has the following strategic research areas: (a) drug development, (b) drug-like properties of drug substances, (c) new drug formulations and process analysis techniques and (d) evaluation of efficacy of drug treatment. Opportunities exist for extensive collaboration with the National Public Health Institute and other institutions of the Kuopio Science Park located on the university campus. For more information on research groups at the university, see www.uku.fi/english/research.shtml. The exact lecturing-to-research ratio can be discussed by the applicant and the host institution. Applicants are encouraged to contact the University of Kuopio for more information on available research and lecturing opportunities. Proposals for medical research involving clinical training, patient care or patient contact are not eligible. Contact persons are Professor Pentti Kalliokoski, vice rector, pentti.kalliokoski@uku.fi and Ms. Anitta Etula, head of international affairs, anitta.etula@uku.fi. The University of Kuopio Web site is www.uku.fi/english. A letter of invitation is not required. The University of Kuopio will provide furnished housing for the grantee and family. The university has an international reputation in the fields of health, environment and well-being, with particular strengths in biotechnology, biosciences and molecular medicine. Kuopio Science Park, www.kuopioinnovation.fi, is a focal point of innovative education and creative research projects. The city of Kuopio's Web site is www.kuopio.fi/englishhome.nsf. This is a joint award sponsored by the Saastamoinen Foundation and the University of Kuopio.

Comments: The aim of the grant is to allow professionals in various fields to take a sabbatical leave of 4 to 5 months from normal work duties to pursue further education or training that would enhance their professional development. Applicants should have a minimum of 5 years of professional experience and should be at a point in their careers when maximum benefit will ensue from this period of professional enrichment.

France

Summary: The Fulbright Program in France offers 3-12 month opportunities for research scholars and lecturers in a wide range of fields. Two to five research awards of 3-6 months duration in any discipline. One award in French studies of 3-6 months duration. One award in multidisciplinary studies of 3-6 months duration. Three awards of up to 9 months duration with research institutions in the region of Aquitaine. Four awards of up to 12 months duration with research institutions in the region of Nord Pas de Calais. Two to four awards of up to 12 months duration with research institutions in the region of Alsace. Two one-semester Fulbright-Tocqueville Distinguished Chair awards (see Fulbright Distinguished Chairs Program).

Program Overview: Proposals for research projects will be evaluated not only for their scholarly, artistic or professional excellence but also the potential for increased mutual understanding between France and the United States. Candidates interested in applying can visit the Franco-American Commission's Web site at www.fulbright-france.org. For more detailed information contact Amy Tondou, Ph.D., head of the American Section, at atondou@fulbright-france.org.

ALSACE REGIONAL AWARD

Award #0249

Number of Awards: Approximately 4

Category: Research

Specialization(s): The Alsace region welcomes candidates in all fields, preferably in the following areas where Alsace international research teams are particularly strong: biotechnology, biomaterials, nanoscience, photonics, medical imaging, computer-assisted surgery and medical robots.

Language: French language ability commensurate with the requirements of the project.

Location(s): A participating Alsace university or research center. For information about host institutions and contact persons, please visit the Franco-American Commission Web site: www.fulbright-france.org. Grantees are expected to reside in the region of the award.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 12 months

Starting Date: Between September 2010 and June 2011

Comments: The Alsace region of France is located along the Rhine river in the heart of Europe, at the border between France, Germany and Switzerland. The main cities, Strasbourg and Mulhouse, are home to four universities and seven engineering schools. Louis Pasteur University in Strasbourg is one of the leading French universities in the sciences with almost 17,000 students and 78 research laboratories where approximately 1,300 students are currently preparing Ph.D.s. The university hospitals, research institutions and laboratories in Alsace are at the forefront of the development and use of new technologies in the medical field. For information on research in Strasbourg, please see the Web site for the Pole Universitaire Europeen de Strasbourg at www.univ-strasbourg.fr.

fr. If you have not already established ties with a host institution in the region and are planning to solicit the required letter of invitation, please contact Amy Tondou, head of the American section, at atondou@fulbright-france.org. She will supply you with an electronic letter from the Franco-American Commission explaining to potential hosts what the program is, how it is funded and what the requirements for hosting institutions would be.

AQUITAINE REGIONAL AWARDS

Award #0250

Number of Awards: Approximately 3

Category: Research

Specialization(s): The Aquitaine region welcomes candidates in all fields, but preferably in the following areas: functional genomics, viticulture and wine-related disciplines, biology and chemistry interface, optics, lasers and high-field physics, food science and human nutrition, and forest and wood science, where Aquitaine international research teams are especially strong.

Language: French language ability commensurate with the requirements of the project.

Location(s): A participating Aquitaine university or research center. Information about potential host institutions and contact persons found at the Franco-American Commission Web site: www.fulbright-france.org. Grantees are expected to reside in the region of the award.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: Between September 2010 and June 2011

Comments: Over 102,000 people study in the Aquitaine region, 70,000 of whom live in Bordeaux. Bordeaux is home to four universities and 14 "grandes ecoles," including nine engineering schools. Pau, located on the border with Spain and facing the Pyrenees, also boasts a high student population thanks to the University of Pau and of the Pays de l'Ardour. The region of Aquitaine hosts over 11,300 people involved in research and development, including 6,350 in the private sector and more than 130 research laboratories. For more information about the research environment in Aquitaine visit www.poleuniv.u-bordeaux.fr. A list of institutions of higher education and/or research in Aquitaine is also available on the following website: <http://region.aquitaine.fr/politiques-regionales/recherche-universite-innovation/annuaire-de-l-enseignement-superieur.html>. If you have not already established ties with a host institution in the region and are planning to solicit the required letter of invitation, please contact Amy Tondou, head of the American section, at atondou@fulbright-france.org. She will supply you with an electronic letter from the Franco-American Commission explaining to potential hosts what the program is, how it is funded and what the requirements for hosting institutions would be.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

FRENCH STUDIES (ARTS AND HUMANITIES)

Award #0251

Category: Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in any field of the humanities, social and political sciences, and collaborate with colleagues at French research centers and institutes of higher education.

Language: French language ability commensurate with the requirements of the project.

Location(s): Applicants are expected to arrange affiliation and solicit an invitation from a prospective host institution.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 6 months

Starting Date: Between September 2010 and June 2011

NORD PAS DE CALAIS REGIONAL COUNCIL AWARD

Award #0252

Number of Awards: Approximately 4

Category: Research

Specialization(s): The Nord Pas de Calais region welcomes candidates in the hard, social and human sciences, preferably in the following areas: multidisciplinary projects involving biology, health, physics, chemistry, math and computer science; advanced technologies of information and communication; cognitive science; ethics; industrial societies; and economic systems.

Language: French language ability commensurate with the requirements of the project.

Location(s): One of the participating Nord Pas de Calais universities or research centers. For more information about these potential host institutions and contact persons, please visit the Franco-American Commission Web site: www.fulbright-france.org. Grantees are expected to reside in the region of the award.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 12 months

Starting Date: Between September 2010 and June 2011

Comments: The Nord Pas de Calais region is situated at the heart of the "Golden Triangle" of Europe's three great capital cities: London, Paris and Brussels. Research in the Nord Pas de Calais is a long-standing tradition. Take, as an example, Louis Pasteur, who in 1856 was the first dean of the Sciences Faculty at Lille. Today the rapid development of a multitude of fields, the quantity of equipment available, and the number of important publications and honors awarded to some 6,500 professors, scholars, and 250 laboratories are proof of the enduring commitment to research in Nord Pas de Calais. Engineering, life sciences, humanities, social sciences and multidisciplinary research centers in Nord Pas de Calais can vaunt a national and international reputation. With the development of chosen fields such as ground transportation, production and communications engineering, biology, health sciences, food processing industries, environmental sciences and microelectronics, the Nord Pas de Calais region offers a wide variety of research opportunities. The following Web site offers detailed information on the research environment there: www.poleuniv-lille-npdc.fr/n\_recherche/index.html. If you have not already established ties with a host institution in the region and are planning to solicit the required letter of invitation, please contact Amy Tondou, head of the American Section, at atondou@fulbright-france.org. She will supply you with an electronic letter from the Franco-American Commission explaining to potential hosts what the program is, how it is funded, and what the requirements for hosting institutions would be.

Germany

Summary: Approximately 38 lecturing/research awards for 2-10 months (plus up to five travel-only awards). Award categories are senior full-maintenance, travel only, junior lecturing and junior research. Preference will be given to grant durations of approximately one semester (2-5 months) with the exception of academic-year grants for junior lecturers. Up to 50 awards for special 2-week seminar programs. See also the Fulbright Distinguished Chairs Program and regional and special programs in Europe.

Program Overview: Most awards are open to all disciplines for scholars and professionals from all academic fields. The maintenance grant category for senior scholars offers flexibility with grant durations and starting dates during the program year. In general, applicants are expected to have several years of experience beyond the doctorate and are advised to arrange affiliation and solicit an invitation from a prospective host institution in Germany. Preference for scholars who have not received Fulbright Scholar grants to Germany within the last 10 years. Candidates interested in applying for an award in Germany should visit the Commission's Web site at www.fulbright.de for updated information.

Staff: Assistant Director Maria Bettua, 202.686.6245, mbettua@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Alexandra Squitieri, 202.686.6232, asquitieri@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES (JUNIOR RESEARCH)

Award #0257

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Junior Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in area of interest.

Specialization(s): Preference for scholars in social sciences and humanities.

Language: German proficiency must be appropriate for the proposed project.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 2 months to 10 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or later for shorter grant periods

Comments: Intended for scholars at the assistant professor level who have received the Ph.D. within the last 5 years or have comparable professional qualifications. Ph.D. candidates should be within 6 months of receipt of their degree by the application deadline and include with their application a letter from their thesis advisor confirming their status. Applicants are expected to arrange an affiliation appropriate to the proposed research and document this affiliation with their applications.

POTSDAM - JUNIOR FULBRIGHT LECTURESHIP IN AMERICAN STUDIES

Category: Junior Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach three undergraduate or graduate courses per semester (equals 6 teaching hours per week in the German system) in American literature or culture studies, or both, and within the grantee's area(s) of specialization. Other academic outreach and conference activities to be arranged in discussion with the host department and the German Fulbright Commission.

Specialization(s): American studies, social sciences including American history, culture, literature and related fields

Additional Qualifications: Preference for a more recently established scholar (about 3-5 years beyond the Ph.D. or with assistant or associate professor rank) with solid teaching and research experience.

Language: English is sufficient for lecturing.

Location(s): University of Potsdam, Potsdam

Starting Date: September 2010

Comments: This new special award is meant to enhance the strong American studies program in Potsdam and to offer the visiting scholar the regional and international network of resources and scholars in and around Potsdam. It is an ideal position for a career oriented scholar seeking international experience who is willing to share American scholarship and teaching methods. The award is a result of a new initiative and includes a regular Fulbright grant with 2,050 euro per month maintenance plus special benefits from Potsdam which include free housing, fully equipped office, assistance by the Welcome Center, a part-time student assistant and an additional cash allowance for outreach activities. Grant lasts two academic semesters (though a one semester assignment might also be possible) with benefits for 10 months.

For information on the position please go to www.uni-potsdam.de/u/anglistik and contact Dr. Ruediger Kunow at rkunow@rz.uni-potsdam.de or the German Fulbright Commission at americanprograms@fulbright.de.

U.S.-GERMANY INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION ADMINISTRATORS PROGRAM

Award #0264

Number of Awards: Approximately 25

Category: Seminar

Grant Activity: Participate in a group seminar on German higher education and society designed for U.S. university, college and community college administrators whose current responsibilities have a direct relation to international exchanges, career services, alumni affairs or development and fundraising in higher education. The program includes briefings, selected government appointments, campus visits and cultural events. The itinerary includes meetings in Berlin and other cities in eastern and western Germany. The program consists of two parts: a general introduction to Germany and its system of higher education, which takes place in Berlin, and a program portion in which participants split up in small subgroups enabling them to focus on their individual professional interests as they relate to the seminar.

Additional Qualifications: A Ph.D. is not required or expected for this program. See below for more details.

Language: German proficiency is not required.

Location(s): Berlin and institutions in other German cities.

Starting Date: late October 2010

Comments: Applications are welcome from full-time administrators affiliated with a college, university, community college or nonprofit international education exchange organization. Applicants should have significant involvement with one of the following areas: (1) international exchanges (student or faculty exchanges, foreign student admissions and advising, study abroad programs, and international education exchange services; administrators who have substantial responsibility for enhancing the international dimension of their institutions and for international program development are also encouraged to participate), (2) career services, (3) alumni affairs, and (4) development and fundraising. Preference is given to applicants with at least 3 years of administrative experience and supervisory responsibility who have been at their current institutions for at least one year and who have not had extended visits to Germany in the past 10 years. The award includes round-trip air travel, travel within Germany, lodging and partial per diem. Grantee spouses and dependents cannot be accommodated during the seminar. Return air travel may be arranged to allow for independent travel in Europe after the seminar. Participants will be asked to submit a brief report and evaluation. PLEASE FOLLOW THE SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR THIS PROGRAM online at www.cies.org/IEA/IEA\_1.htm.

Special Deadline: February 1, 2010

Greece

Summary: Up to eight lecturing/research awards, including four All Disciplines awards, are available. Final number may change according to demand and funding. Length of awards is from 3-4 months.

Program Overview: The lecturing/research awards are for individuals with a Ph.D. or a terminal degree and 3-10 years of appropriate professional experience. Grants are intended for 3-4 months only for the first or second semester of the academic year 2010-11. The fall semester runs from October through January and the spring semester from February to June. A letter of invitation is recommended for all awards. The Fulbright Foundation in Athens will offer suggestions and propose institutions and contacts. Additional information about Greek universities and awards can be found at www.fulbright.gr. English is sufficient for lecturing; however, knowledge of Greek is useful.

Ireland

Summary: Approximately 21 awards chosen from among those awards listed below. Preference in awarding grants will be given to the specific requests from Irish colleges.

Program Overview: Higher Education in Ireland is provided by seven universities, 17 institutes of technology, colleges of education and a number of specialist colleges in art, law, music, public administration and theology. Most of these institutions are supported by the Irish Government (for example, universities and institutes of technology receive more than 90 percent of their income from the State). Over the past 5 years the Irish Government has invested 2.5 billion euro to facilitate the establishment of advanced centers of research excellence and world-class research facilities and programs in Irish colleges. These colleges offer an attractive location for international academics and students. Most Irish colleges operate a two-semester academic year: September to December and January to May. A small number of colleges and departments retain three trimesters: October to December; January to March; April to June. The Fulbright Commission in Ireland is committed to providing an interactive exchange experience for its grantees and supporting institutions.

ENGINEERING EDUCATION

Award #0286

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Explore 'how better to educate engineers for the 21st century' by conducting and presenting research on how engineering academics should educate. The research may include the structure of engineering programs, student motivation and retention, development or evaluation of assessment techniques, or both, effective use of support technologies, implementation and assessment of service-learning modules strategies to encourage the uptake of engineering subjects at second level. Explore how to define and evaluate 'a better engineer,' optimal learning and teaching techniques and the (unique) characteristics of engineering and their bearing on traditional educational theory. Give a number of lectures to both academic staff and students highlighting findings.

Specialization(s): Program structures, assessment techniques, effective use of classroom technologies, problem-based learning, service learning, community-based learning.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D., ideally in engineering education, or comparable qualification. Experience and publications in engineering education research desirable. The Ph.D. can be recently earned.

Location(s): Faculty of Engineering, Dublin Institute of Technology, Dublin

Length of Grant: 5 months or 9 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or January 2011

Comments: Letter of invitation required. Contact Dr. Brian Bowe, Faculty of Engineering, Dublin Institute of Technology, Zhivago Building, 68-72 Capel Street, Dublin 1, Ireland; brian.bowe@dit.ie; telephone: 353.1.4023616; www.dit.ie/DIT/engineering/.

ENGINEERING/TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Collaborate with approximately 20 researchers and Ph.D. students in one of the following areas: wavelength tunable lasers for developing packet switched networks; generation, characterization, and processing of picosecond optical pulses, radio-over-fiber distribution systems; nonlinear optical detectors for performance monitoring or Terahertz generation using optical techniques. Collaborate on setting up experiments with 5-6 Ph.D. students and optimizing and analyzing the results. Present research findings at international conferences and publish same in relevant journals.

Specialization(s): Photonic systems, high speed opto-electronics, optical communications

Additional Qualifications: Post-doctorate having received Ph.D. within last 5 years; research experience in the general areas of high speed photonic systems and opto-electronics.

Location(s): School of Electronic Engineering, Dublin City University, Dublin

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or January 2011

Comments: Letter of invitation recommended. Contact Professor Liam Barry, Director Research Institute for Networks and Communications Engineering (RINCE), School of Electronic Engineering, Dublin City University, Dublin 9; liam.barry@ucd.ie; tel: 00353.1.7005431; www.rince.ie. The Radio and Optical Communications Laboratory was established in 1999 and is part of RINCE at Dublin City University. The main goal of this Laboratory is to focus on the design, simulation and demonstration of new technologies for future broadband photonic communication systems

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Kosovo

Summary: Up to two awards for lecturing or combined lecturing/research from among the openings listed below.

Program Overview: Kosovo declared its independence on February 17, 2008. Since the war in 1999, higher education has been in some disarray, but is slowly making its way back to normalcy. Higher education consists of one large state university, the University of Pristina (26,000 students in 14 faculties), approximately 30 small private schools and The American University in Kosovo, which opened in 2003 and currently has an undergraduate population of 430 students. 2010-11 will be the fourth year of the Fulbright Scholar Program in Kosovo, and there is a lot of opportunity here to make a difference in the state of education. Knowledge of Albanian is beneficial, but is not a requirement. Grants for U.S. scholars to Kosovo are subject to the availability of funding. Moreover, grantee travel to and within Kosovo may need to be cleared by the regional security officer in Pristina. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration's development plans at the University of Pristina for 2010-11 make clear the need for a curriculum update, with new courses requiring the engagement of new and professional faculty members. U.S. Fulbright-sponsored professors are critically important and would be a great help to the university in general as well as to the Department of Political Science.

The American University in Kosovo (AUK) is the only institution that offers B.A. and M.S. degrees accredited in the U.S. AUK's U.S.-based partner institution is Rochester Institute of Technology (RIT). AUK uses a career education-based pedagogical model, including partnerships with industry and public sector organizations and a requirement of 800 hours of work experience before graduation. AUK offers an undergraduate 2-year associate's degree and a 4-year B.A. in business management and entrepreneurship (IT management begins this year) from RIT, with minors and concentrations in public policy, economics, political science, international relations, media production, management and foreign languages (currently only German). The entire academic program at AUK is owned and run by RIT. AUK students are RIT students and receive degrees directly from RIT. AUK also offers an M.A. in professional studies through RIT's Center for Multidisciplinary Studies. AUK is also working to expand its scholarship program, as well as minority enrollment. Staff: Senior Program Officer Jean McPeck, 202.686.6246, jmcpeek@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Kevin Orchison, 202.686.7852, korchison@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0307

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Lecturing, curriculum development, and program development.

Specialization(s): Fields of interest include, but are not limited to, political science, economics, sociology and filmmaking.

Language: Knowledge of Albanian desired, but host institution will provide interpreters when needed.

Location(s): University of Pristina, Pristina

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: October 2010 or February 2011 for one-semester grants; October 2010 for academic-year grants

Comments: The grant will probably, but not necessarily, involve working at the University of Pristina, the state university, with 26,000 students. The university has been suffering from a lack of funds and management problems, but is starting to recover. The U.S. Embassy in Pristina will work on the grantee's affiliation and will work to make sure that departments with lingering management problems are not selected as affiliates. Other opportunities could include one or two better established small private universities.

APPLIED OR THEORETICAL ECONOMICS OR BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

SENIOR PROFESSORSHIPS IN AMERICAN CULTURE

Award #0334

Number of Awards: Approximately 3

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: The research and lecturing components of the grant should be equal. The applicant must offer at least one substantial course to graduate students (master's or Ph.D.) in his or her own field of expertise. This module must be an extra option for students, not just a regular course from the existing curriculum. Professors will be encouraged to lecture occasionally at other Dutch universities, take part in conferences and seminars and share their knowledge in other ways, as well. The professor should be available for students seeking advice for at least half a day each week. All practical details and information regarding reading lists, assignments, books, materials required, type of course (lecture, seminar) are agreed upon between the host and the grantee.

Specialization(s): American history, law, economics, political sciences, sociology, literature, communications, music, art history, theater, or other areas of American cultural studies.

Additional Qualifications: Full professor with at least 5 years of teaching experience.

Language: Lecturing is in English. The Dutch language ability should be commensurate with the requirements of the research field.

Location(s): Grantees can affiliate themselves with any university in the Netherlands where teaching can be done in English. Preference will be given to applicants affiliated with Faculties of Letters or Faculties of Culture

Starting Date: September 2010 or January/February 2011

Comments: A letter of invitation from the host institution is required. The hosting universities will assist in finding appropriate housing.

Norway

Program Overview: The academic year runs from mid-August to mid-December and mid-January to mid-June. For general information on Norway, go to www.cies.org/country/norway.htm.

Staff: Senior Program Officer Jean McPeck, 202.686.6246, jmcpeek@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Kevin Orchison, 202.686.7852, korchison@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0335

Number of Awards: Approximately 6

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Lecture or conduct research, or both, in area of interest.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. strongly preferred for disciplines in which that is the typical terminal degree.

Language: English is sufficient for lecturing. Proficiency in host language may be an advantage but is not required.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange host affiliation. A letter of invitation is recommended.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 6 months

Starting Date: Between mid-August 2010 and May 2011

Comments: Research proposals focused on polar studies, energy research or climate change are especially welcome. The Research Council of Norway has identified a number of Norwegian Centers of Excellence and Centers in research-based innovation in fields such as mathematics, geohazards, petroleum research, medieval studies, maritime studies, civil war studies and more. See www.forskningsradet.no (click the link for the English version) for lists of centers and further information. Projects should not be planned for the summer months unless there are very specific reasons for doing so (for example, life cycle of animals being studied).

AMERICAN LITERATURE AND CULTURE

Award #0336

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Participate in a team-taught survey course in American literature and culture with plenary lectures (about 150 students) and seminars (20-25 students) during the fall semester (<<http://link.uib.no/?4DYfn>>). Conduct seminars at the undergraduate level on topics to be determined depending on the special interests of the grantee during both fall and spring semesters. Participate in tutorials, student advising and grading. Opportunity for research in scholar's area of interest.

Specialization(s): Any area of American literature and culture, or American studies with a specialization that includes literature. The host department is a foreign language department and creative writing is not relevant.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. with teaching experience.

Language: English is sufficient.

Location(s): Department of Foreign Languages, University of Bergen, Bergen

Length of Grant: 10 months

Starting Date: Mid-August 2010

ROVING SCHOLAR IN AMERICAN STUDIES (LOWER SECONDARY LEVEL)

Award #0339

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Serve as a roving scholar in American studies. The scholar will visit lower secondary schools (student ages 14-16) and teacher conferences to give up-to-date information on important issues related to American society. The aim is to give teachers of English an opportunity to interact with an American colleague and to let students practice their English, confront an American with some of their ideas on the United States and experience an American teacher's approach to teaching. The scholar will travel to schools throughout Norway to participate in one-day to three-day in-service trainings and teach classes together with Norwegian teachers. Class size will vary from 10-30.

Specialization(s): American studies for lower secondary school teachers

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. is an advantage, not a prerequisite. The scholar should have extensive teaching experience, particularly with students between 14-16 years old.

Language: English is sufficient.

Location(s): Norwegian Center for Foreign Languages, Halden

Starting Date: Mid-August 2010

Comments: The roving scholar will be based in Oslo, but the position requires extensive travel throughout the country. The scholar should be interested in meeting with and teaching teenagers, versatile, open-minded and able to convey to young Norwegian students different aspects of American society. The scholar should have the ability to present and practice modern teaching methods, provide information on modern texts of interest to young people and discuss political, historical, educational and social issues. Contact CIES staff or the U.S.-Norway Fulbright Foundation, fulbright@fulbright.no. Visit the office's Web site at www.fulbright.no. The primary Norwegian affiliation is the Norwegian Center for Foreign Languages in Halden (www.fremmedspraksenteret.no).

Deadline: August 1, 2009

ROVING SCHOLAR IN AMERICAN STUDIES (UPPER SECONDARY LEVEL)

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Serve as a roving American studies specialist and teach one-day in-service courses for practicing English teachers at the upper secondary level. Supplement teacher instruction about American culture, allow students to interact with a native speaker of American English and deepen teacher understanding of American culture, politics and education. Visit and work with students in cooperation with their teachers in the classroom.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. preferred; M.A. with teaching experience is acceptable. Applicants should have broad competence in social, political, historical and educational issues in American studies.

Language: English is sufficient.

Location(s): Norwegian Center for Foreign Languages, Halden

Starting Date: Mid-August 2010

Comments: The position requires extensive travel throughout the country. The scholar should be interested in meeting with and teaching teenagers, versatile, open-minded and able to convey to young Norwegian students different aspects of American society. The scholar should have practical knowledge of contemporary trends and methods in American education and the ability to present and practice modern teaching methods, provide information on contemporary U.S. literature of interest to young people and discuss political, historical, educational and social issues. Contact CIES staff or the U.S.-Norway Fulbright Foundation, fulbright@fulbright.no. Visit the office's Web site at www.fulbright.no for additional information. A letter of invitation is not required.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Ukraine

Summary: Approximately 20 awards for lecturing, lecturing/research or research from among the openings listed.

Program Overview: Academic year is from September 2010 through June 2011. Second semester begins in February. A few schools, most notably Kyiv-Mohyla Academy, National University "Ostroh Academy" and Petro Mohyla Mykolayiv State University are on the trimester system beginning in August and ending in July. The second trimester begins in January. Research and lecturing appointments range from 3-10 months. Possibility also exists for short-term lecturing appointments for 2-3 months for 2-3 consecutive years. Applicants interested in these shorter-term serial appointments should consult with program staff before applying. Applications are welcome in all fields, including the arts, technology and natural sciences. Preference will be given to projects in the humanities and social sciences, especially projects assisting in educational, economic, political and legal reform in Ukraine and subjects related to the United States. Affiliations are possible with a variety of academic institutions, including older established state universities and new private and public institutions. Opportunities exist for collaboration with public officials, government agencies, and NGOs. Although placement in Kyiv and L'viv is possible, the Ukrainian Ministry of Education and the U.S. Embassy in Kyiv encourage scholars to consider placements in other cities such as Cherkasy, Chernivtsi, Donetsk, Dnipropetrovsk, Ivano-Frankivsk, Kharkiv, Kherson, Kirovohrad, Luhansk, Lutsk, Mykolayiv, Odessa, Rivne, Simferopol, Sumy, Ternopil, Kamianets-Podilsky, Uzhhorod and Zaporizhzhia. Double affiliations may be possible. Lectures are in English. CIES staff will send, upon request, specific information about awards and university contacts. International English language schools (pre-K-12) are located in Kyiv only. Ukrainian schools with English language instruction exist in major cities.

United Kingdom

Summary: Approximately 12 awards are offered for academics or professionals to lecture, conduct research or do a combination of both in a variety of fields. Awards are for 3-12 months. Candidates interested in applying for an award in the UK are advised to visit the Commission's website at www.fulbright.co.uk for updated information and may wish to consult the following websites for information about host universities:

<http://education.guardian.co.uk>, www.educationuk.org, www.hero.ac.uk, www.universitiesuk.ac.uk, www.britishcouncil.org. See also Distinguished Chair awards in the UK and both regional or special programs in Europe.

Program Overview: The grant year is from September 2010 until August 2011, but scholars must begin the grant between September 2010 and April 2011. Once the official grant papers are signed, no extensions or alterations can be made. Proposals for research projects will be evaluated not only for their scholarly, artistic or professional excellence, but also for the potential in increased mutual understanding between the United States and the UK. Preference is given to applicants who have not spent a significant amount of time in the UK.

Staff: Assistant Director Maria Bettua, 202.686.6245, mbettua@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Alexandra Squitieri, 202.686.6232, asquitieri@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0409

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Grants for lecturing may include teaching graduate and undergraduate courses, conducting seminars or workshops, and consulting on course design and curriculum development. The specific duties of the assignment should be negotiated directly with the institution of affiliation.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation from the host institution. The institution need not be an educational one; museums, libraries and archival facilities may be accepted at the discretion of the Fulbright Commission.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 10 months

Starting Date: Between September 2010 and April 2011

Comments: The U.S.-UK Fulbright Commission seeks to identify potential and established leaders of academic, artistic or professional excellence who will make significant contributions toward the discussion and development of key issues in their field of study. Candidates who have not recently spent a considerable time in the UK are preferred. Candidates should have strong reasons for wishing to pursue the proposed project in the UK and a clear idea of what they wish to accomplish during their time as a Fulbright Scholar, not only academically but also in terms of reaching out to the wider community and understanding their host country and culture.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE AND POLICE RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS

Award #0410

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: This fellowship is designed to enable active domestic police officers and civilian professional staff involved in policy aspects of policing to extend their professional expertise by researching an aspect or problem of policing shared by U.S. and UK police forces. Grantees may conduct research or do a combination of lecturing and research in their field of expertise. Candidates must develop a substantive project and demonstrate that participation in the program will produce benefits of significance to the larger law enforcement community.

Additional Qualifications: Bachelor's degree in criminal justice, police studies or related discipline within the social sciences preferred. Those without a degree who have shown professional excellence will be considered.

Location(s): The grantee is expected to arrange his/her own affiliation(s) to a higher education host institution appropriate to the research topic. Applicants are required to identify with whom they wish to work and to include relevant correspondence.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 5 months

Starting Date: Between September 2010 and April 2011

Comments: Applicants must be currently employed by a police force and must be recommended by supervisory staff within their department. Grantees must have full or partial financial support from their home department. Police Fellows are not required to follow a course, but must have an affiliation with an institution relevant to their research project. A letter of invitation is required at the time of application, as the Commission will wish to see evidence that an affiliation in the UK is being sought. The proposed host should have links with the UK police force and should be appropriate for the research program. The major police training center in the UK is the National Policing Improvement Agency (NPIA) formerly 'Bramshill College', in Hampshire. Their facilities are extensive and they have previously hosted recipients of this award. The NPIA is also a useful starting point for finding affiliation elsewhere in the country and candidates are encouraged to contact NPIA for advice on suitable locations for any particular course of study. For more information on the NPIA visit www.npia.police.uk/. Additional grant activities: Contribute to the ongoing work of the Seamus Heaney Centre, QUB, and engage in discussion, interaction, collaboration and research that the 6-month grant would provide.

Specialization(s): Anglophone Irish writing or modern Anglophone Irish literature

Additional Qualifications: A Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree (including a master's depending on the field). For professionals and artists outside academe, recognized professional standing and substantial professional accomplishments.

Location(s): Queen's University of Belfast, Belfast

Starting Date: January 2010

Comments: The Scholar would be associated with the Seamus Heaney Centre for Poetry within the School of English at Queen's University Belfast. The Centre now supports and promotes the School of English's longest standing postgraduate program, the M.A. in English (Irish Writing). This M.A. program draws students from across the globe and has been a focal point for interaction at local, regional and international level not only in taught seminars and workshops but also in terms of honors its students have won for their publications and work-in-progress. Internationally well known critics and scholars of modern Anglophone Irish literature have been associated with the development of this program in recent years. The scholar will have an opportunity to participate in a number of Fulbright Scholar events including the week-long Fulbright Forum in January.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

FULBRIGHT-QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY BELFAST AWARD IN GOVERNANCE, PUBLIC POLICY AND SOCIAL RESEARCH

Category: Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: This award provides a U.S. academic to conduct postdoctoral research at the University's Institute of Governance. The initial award period is 6 months, but may be extended, at the discretion of Queen's University, to a full academic year. The Scholar may also conduct lectures per arrangements with the host institution.

Specialization(s): Public policy and administration, governance, social research

Additional Qualifications: Applicants should be leaders or potential leaders in the fields in which the work of the Institute of Governance, Public Policy and Social Research is concentrated.

Location(s): Institute of Governance, Public Policy and Social Research, Queen's University of Belfast, Belfast

Length of Grant: 6 months to 12 months

Starting Date: Between September 2009 and April 2010

Comments: The institute was founded in 2001 and is interdisciplinary in focus, pulling together staff from the Faculty of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences and occasionally other interdisciplinary ventures within the wider university. Disciplines represented in the institute are law, management and economics, philosophy, politics, and sociology, all broadly defined. Applications are welcome from candidates within these disciplines or cognate areas. There are a number of themes that draw staff together in the institute: (1) ethics and accountability; (2) decision-making and its explanation by complexity theory; (3) interdisciplinary aspects of aging, in particular advocacy; (4) local level governance and policy making. It is not essential that a scholar should be able to fit into these themes centrally, but some intellectual contact with one or more of them would be considered advantageous. The award is for 12,500 pounds.

The candidate will have their own office, PC with Internet connection, access to the resources of Queen's library and information services. Candidates should contact the current director of the institute, Professor Sally Wheeler (s.wheeler@qub.ac.uk), for information on local housing, schools, and academic life in Northern Ireland. For additional information visit: www.qub.ac.uk and www.governance.qub.ac.uk.

FULBRIGHT-QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY BELFAST CREATIVE WRITING AWARD

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Lecturing, writing and public readings of their own work at Queen's University Belfast (QUB). The award will be for a period of 6 months beginning in January and concluding in June.

Course(s): Creative Writing

Level and Type: The scholar will assist in the teaching of one undergraduate module in creative writing, as well as conduct one postgraduate workshop in the field of the lecturer's expertise and interest in creative writing. The scholar will also offer public readings of published work and work-in-progress at and through events sponsored by the Seamus Heaney Centre and the School of English.

Hours per week: Flexible; to be negotiated with QUB.

Additional grant activities: Contribute to the ongoing work of the Seamus Heaney Centre, QUB, and engage in discussion, interaction, collaboration and research that the 6-month award would provide.

Additional Qualifications: A Ph.D. or equivalent terminal degree (including a master's depending on the field). For professionals and artists outside academe, recognized professional standing and substantial professional accomplishments.

Location(s): Queen's University of Belfast, Belfast

Length of Grant: 6 months

Comments: The Scholar will be associated with the Seamus Heaney Centre for Poetry within the School of English at Queen's University Belfast. The Centre functions as a strong engine for the development and dissemination of creative writing in the university not only in Belfast, but also in Northern Ireland, in the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland. The Centre not only carries the name of the Nobel Prize winning poet Seamus Heaney who was both a student and a lecturer in the School of English in the late 1950s through the early 1970s. The scholar will also have the opportunity to participate in a number of Fulbright Scholar events including the week-long Fulbright Forum in January are also included.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

FULBRIGHT-UNIVERSITY OF ULSTER SCHOOL OF POLICY STUDIES AWARD

Award #0416

Middle East and North Africa Regional Research Program

Summary: Up to six awards for research in any academic or professional area in two or more countries of the Middle East or North Africa.

Program Overview: Support is provided for research projects of historical or contemporary focus, comparative or regional in scope or where data must be collected in several countries.

Fieldwork must be conducted in two or more countries of the region. Projects that involve collaboration with host country colleagues and institutions and that will contribute to cooperation among countries of the region are particularly encouraged. Projects may be undertaken in the following areas of the Middle East or North Africa: Bahrain, Egypt, Israel, Jordan, Lebanon, Kuwait, Morocco, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, Tunisia, United Arab Emirates, and West Bank.

Staff: Assistant Director Gary L. Garrison, 202.686.4019, ggarrison@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Jaclyn Assarian, 202.686.4022, jassarian@cies.iie.org

MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA REGIONAL RESEARCH PROGRAM

Award #0417

Number of Awards: Approximately 6

Category: Research

Specialization(s): Possible fields for research include, but are not limited to, architecture, area studies, biological sciences, communications, education, environmental sciences, humanities, law, medical sciences, physical sciences and social sciences.

Additional Qualifications: Professionals who have a demonstrated record of research will be considered.

Language: Appropriate language proficiency is required for successfully carrying out the research project.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: Grants must be undertaken in a single period of residence abroad between June 1, 2009 and September 30, 2010.

Comments: Proposals must provide a detailed itinerary of travel to each country, including proposed host institutions and, if possible, letters confirming affiliation. Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation. If an affiliation is not confirmed by the time of selection, the applicant will be responsible for obtaining an affiliation as a condition of receiving an award. For projects in North Africa, a one- or two-page Arabic or French summary of the research project is required with the application. Obtain additional application instructions from CIES staff or visit www.cies.org.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Algeria

Summary: Up to three lecturing awards.

Program Overview: Academic year is from October 2010 to July 2011 and includes three terms: October through December 2010, January through March 2011, and April through June 2011, with two 2-week breaks in winter and spring. Lecturing is in Arabic or French, with the exception of American studies and English language awards, where English is employed. A working knowledge of either Arabic or French is necessary to function in universities and communities. A one- or two-page summary of the project in Arabic or French is required, except for American studies or English language proposals.

Security Overview: Algeria is a country in transition after its bloody civil war during the 1990s. The security environment in rural and remote areas continues to pose a significant security risk. As recipients of U.S. government funded grants, all Fulbright Scholars must follow established Embassy security guidelines and are required to receive a security briefing by the Regional Security Office soon after their arrival.

Israel

Summary: Up to eight awards for lecturing, research, combined lecturing/research, and artists- and writers-in-residence and ten awards for postdoctoral research. See also research opportunities under the Middle East and North Africa Regional Research Program and the Fulbright-Israel Distinguished Chair awards.

Program Overview: The United States-Israel Educational Foundation's (USIEF) U.S. Scholar Program is a vital component in the Foundation's efforts to help strengthen cultural and educational ties between the two countries through scholarly interaction. The main criteria in the selection of USIEF fellows are academic excellence, leadership capabilities and the potential of the proposed program of work to achieve professional objectives while enhancing mutual understanding between the people of the United States and Israel. USIEF also aims to allocate grants to scholars and professionals representative of the geographic and ethnic diversity of the American people. In addition, priority is given to candidates who have had limited or no prior experience in Israel. Knowledge of Hebrew is helpful but not required, except as necessary for research projects. Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include a letter of invitation with their application. USIEF is willing to assist those interested in identifying suitable host institutions. According to USIEF policy, a host institution is obliged to make a financial contribution toward the funding of its guest's USIEF grant. This financial aspect should be included in preliminary discussions with potential hosts, prior to the issuance of a letter of invitation. Visit www.chc.org.il/english/colleges/default.asp for a listing of accredited institutions of higher education in Israel. Israel is a country rich in archaeological sites, antiquities and plant and animal life. It has a diverse and multicultural population. The percentage of Israelis engaged in scientific and technological inquiry, and the amount spent on research and development in relation to its Gross Domestic Product, are among the highest in the world. The Fulbright-in-Israel Forum on the USIEF website, www.fulbright.org.il/index.php?id=714, presents first-hand information on the Fulbright Israel experience, provided by program alumni.

Kuwait

Summary: Up to four lecturing or combined lecturing/research awards. See also research opportunities under the Middle East and North Africa Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Academic year is September 2010 through June 2011. Fulbright programs in Kuwait provide an outstanding opportunity for American lecturers and/or researchers to reach out to Arab and Muslim audiences. The leadership of the new private universities are actively seeking senior scholars to make an impact on the future direction of their institutions. Lecturers are highly coveted and well supported. All Kuwaiti universities are in need of fully developed American studies programs. Lecturers in the field of American studies would have a long-term positive impact at all institutions. Lecturing in Kuwait offers a unique working environment that simulates life in America, but also provides the opportunity to experience Arab society and Islamic culture in a very accessible manner.

Lebanon

Summary: Up to five lecturing, research or lecturing/research awards at any university in Lebanon. All disciplines will be considered. Proposals in disciplines that contribute to the building of civil society in Lebanon (public administration, law, economics and American studies) are of special interest. For research opportunities, see the Fulbright Middle East and North Africa Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: The academic year is from October 2010 through June 2011. Many universities follow the semester system, though some do not. The U.S. Embassy will arrange host institution affiliations for applicants for those awards not located at a specific institution, in consultation with universities. Applicants may indicate a preferred institution and are encouraged to communicate with universities in advance of preparing applications. Most lecturing is in English, though the ability to lecture in Arabic or French may be an asset in some departments or institutions. Preference will be given to applicants who have had limited or no prior experience in Lebanon and those applying for placements at universities outside the capital. Letters of invitation or support are recommended for some awards. Contact information for institutions is available from CIES, or prospective applicants may contact Ms. Maggy Teen, Cultural Affairs Specialist, U.S. Embassy Beirut, at TeenMT@state.gov.

Syria

Summary: Up to four research awards.

Program Overview: Most researchers are affiliated with the Ministry of Culture and pursue research independently. However, affiliation is not assured in any given year. Candidates must be prepared to be very flexible. Researchers in agricultural sciences may be affiliated with the International Center for Agriculture in the Dry Areas (ICARDA), an international organization near Aleppo. Names and addresses of contact persons in Syria are available from CIES, or potential applicants may contact Ms. Sahar Hassibi, exchanges specialist at the U.S. Embassy in Damascus, at hassibiSH@state.gov. The Embassy cannot advise applicants on proposals or seek affiliation with specific Syrian institutions.

Staff: Assistant Director Gary L. Garrison, 202.686.4019, ggarrison@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Jaclyn Assarian, 202.686.4022, jassarian@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Number of Awards: Approximately 4

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in any area of interest. Researchers may be expected to give occasional lectures and presentations at universities or other public or private institutions, including the American Center.

Language: Arabic proficiency required, as necessary for project.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: Flexible during 2010-11 academic year

Comments: Previous researchers have worked with the Syrian Ministry of Culture, Directorate of Antiquities, Assad National Library, French Institute (IFPO), International Center for Agricultural Research in Dry Areas (ICARDA) in Aleppo, and at Syrian private and public universities through the Ministry of Higher Education. Applicants should communicate with a prospective host institution or colleague prior to submission of an application. However, a letter of invitation from a local institution is not required, except in the case of ICARDA. Please note that only the Ministry of Culture, Ministry of Higher Education and ICARDA have the authority to affiliate researchers and to sponsor foreigners for residency permits. In recent years, this affiliation has not been granted to Fulbright Scholars. Affiliation facilitates a residency permit, however, a scholar can conduct research without affiliation, and a scholar may remain in Syria for 3-9 months in tourist status.

Tunisia

Summary: Up to five lecturing or lecturing/research awards. See also research opportunities under the Middle East and North Africa Regional Research Program. An M.A. is sufficient if teaching English as a foreign language. A Ph.D. is required for all other awards. ## India

Summary: Up to 25 full-maintenance lecturing awards, up to 20 research awards, 5 environmental leadership awards and one distinguished chair award in higher education administration or Study of the United States. See also research opportunities under the South and Central Asia Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: All awards in India are now titled Fulbright-Nehru fellowships. Under the terms of the agreement signed by the governments of the United States and India on July 4, 2008, India became an equal partner in the financial support of the Fulbright Program in India. The academic year is July 2010 through March 2011. Most institutions follow an academic year system. A few institutions follow the semester system, with semesters running from June or July to October or November 2010 and from November or December 2010 to March or April 2011. All instruction is in English. Community college faculty are eligible for affiliation with undergraduate colleges. Lecturers and researchers have the possibility of lecturing opportunities in institutions other than the one with which they are affiliated. In keeping with the spirit of generating private support to augment funds provided by the U.S. government and the government of India, two lecturing grants in India will be partially supported by the Pai Foundation in Manipal, Karnataka. General information on South Asia and on higher education in India, as well as access to other Web sites, is available at www.columbia.edu/cu/libraries/indiv/area/sarai, www.goindirectory.nic.in/education.htm, and www.usief.org.in. Clearance of the Government of India is required for all Fulbright assignments. Selected scholars must individually apply to the Indian Embassy/Consulate serving their consular jurisdiction in the United States. The detailed procedure for obtaining the entry visa will be communicated to the scholars upon selection. Grants cannot be issued for travel to India until proper Government of India approvals are received. Staff: Assistant Director David B.J. Adams, 202.686.4021, dadams@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Erin Russell, 202.686.4006, erussell@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Number of Awards: Approximately 20

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research in area of interest, including, but not limited to, any of the preferred areas of contemporary study involving mutual interests of India and the United States listed below.

Specialization(s): All disciplines will be considered. Preferred fields are: agricultural sciences; economics; business studies, management and leadership development; contemporary social issues and development issues (including gender issues in contemporary India); education; environmental sciences; energy; democracy and capacity building; law, administration of justice and civic engagement; media and communications; public administration and public policy; public health; science and technology; Study of India. For the Study of India, the areas could include: language and literature, history, government, society and culture, religion, international relations and film studies.

Additional Qualifications: Awards are open to practicing professionals. A letter of invitation or support from a prospective host institution is recommended.

Language: Basic knowledge of a local language in the location of research can be an advantage.

Location(s): Applicants may arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation or request placement by the United States-India Educational Foundation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: July or August 2010. Grants must begin by March 31, 2011.

Comments: See Program Overview for the clearance process of the government of India required for all Fulbright assignments.

ALL DISCIPLINES

Number of Awards: Approximately 25

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach courses at undergraduate or graduate level or both in any area of interest or in fields specifically named below.

Specialization(s): All disciplines will be considered. Preferred fields are: agricultural sciences; economics; business studies, management and leadership development; contemporary social issues and development issues (including gender issues in contemporary India); education; environmental sciences; energy; democracy and capacity building; law, administration of justice and civic engagement; media and communications; public administration and public policy; public health; science and technology; Study of the United States; Study of India. For the Study of India, the areas could include: language and literature, history, government, society and culture, religion, international relations and film studies.

Additional Qualifications: Associate or full professors with at least 6 years of teaching experience are preferred. A letter of invitation or support from a prospective host institution is recommended.

Location(s): Placement to be determined by the United States-India Educational Foundation, but applicant may indicate a preference.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 6 months

Starting Date: July or August 2010 or later.

Grants must begin by March 31, 2011.

Comments: The United States-India Educational Foundation (USIEF) has received 82 requests from Indian institutions interested in hosting a Fulbright-Nehru lecturer on their campus. Details about these requests are available at: www.usief.org.in/scripts/solicitations2010-11.aspx. USIEF will arrange host institution affiliation for applicants after selection. Applicants willing to be affiliated at an institution outside metropolitan areas are encouraged to indicate this in the application. Indian institutions, with the exception of some of the highly reputed technical and management schools, have loosely structured lecturing schedules that require adaptability and initiative on the part of American lecturers. Apart from these schools and some of the better-known university departments, undergraduate colleges make optimum use of visiting lecturers and they will be used widely for lecturer placements. Community college faculty are eligible for affiliation with undergraduate colleges. Because of year-end examinations and vacations, teaching is not possible in the majority of Indian universities from March through June. Applicants should take this in to consideration in proposing dates for the grant period to insure that there is sufficient teaching time.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

DISTINGUISHED CHAIR

Category: Distinguished Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach graduate students at host institution, travel to prominent higher education institutions to give guest lectures and take part in symposia and conferences. USIEF will organize one major conference, seminar or workshop during Distinguished Chair's stay in India. The Chair will be the principal organizer and resource person for the event.

Specialization(s): higher education administration or Study of the United States.

Additional Qualifications: Candidates for this award should hold the rank of full professor and have an outstanding record of scholarly accomplishments and substantial teaching experience.

Location(s): Affiliation will be arranged by the United States-India Educational Foundation (USIEF).

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: July or August 2010 or later.

Grants must begin by March 31, 2011.

Comments: Roundtrip international travel for distinguished chair and one accompanying dependent who stays for at least 80% of the grant period. Daily maintenance and housing allowance of $200. No dependent allowance will be provided. One-time relocation allowance of $750. Distinguished chair will receive up to $2,000 for internal travel for self. No internal travel allowance will be provided for dependent.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

The fall semester is September 1, 2010 until mid-January 2011. The spring semester is February to July 2011. Russian and Kyrgyz are the most widely used local languages, although English is sufficient for lecturing. Universities offer many research opportunities for scholars interested in Central Asian studies, particularly elements of traditional Kyrgyz culture, including literature, music, history, Kyrgyz and Russian linguistic studies and post-Soviet politics. The Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy will confirm affiliation and placement and will organize guest lectures in regional universities for Fulbright Scholars. Potential candidates are welcome to contact public affairs officer Mark Cameron and educational coordinator Guljan Tolbaeva, by telephone at 996.312.551.241, extension 4537; by fax at 996.312.551.260. Applicants are welcome to visit the Embassy Web site <http://bishkek.usembassy.gov>.

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach three courses: Mass Media Communications to approximately 15 senior undergraduates, Mass Communications Theory to approximately 10 senior undergraduates, and Introduction to Public Relations and Advertising to approximately 15 sophomores. Although research opportunities are limited, the host university will happily collaborate on research projects. In the past, the faculty at American University in Central Asia has conducted research on such topics as gender representation in the press, the historical and contemporary development and state of the mass media, and the role of journalists. Current ongoing research focuses on media's role in the political participation of Kyrgyz citizens.

South and Central Asia

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. and 3-5 years of teaching experience are preferred, but consideration may be given to those with a relevant master's degree and more extensive teaching and curriculum development experience.

Language: Language of instruction is English.

Location(s): American University--Central Asia, Bishkek

Length of Grant: 5 months or 10 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or January 2011

Comments: The academic calendar of the American University of Central Asia is the end of August 2010 through May 2011. For additional information, contact the International Affairs Office at international@mail.auca.kg. The university Web site is www.auca.kg. Although an invitation letter is not required, applicants are encouraged to contact the International Affairs Office.

SOCIAL SCIENCES, HUMANITIES, BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Award #0489

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Teach two to three undergraduate or graduate courses each semester. Consult on curriculum development and conduct research.

Opportunities are available to lecture at other universities. Public lectures or presentations may be required. For Lecturing/Research applicants, conduct research while not engaged in lecturing.

Specialization(s): Any application in social sciences, humanities or business administration is accepted. See Comments section for preferred fields.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. preferred but professional applicants with substantial experience in the specialization are also considered.

Language: English is sufficient for lecturing. Host universities will assist in finding translators if needed. Funding from the Fulbright grant should be used to cost-share part of the translation fees. Russian language skills required for research.

Location(s): Bishkek Humanities University, Bishkek; Kyrgyz State National University, Bishkek; American University--Central Asia, Bishkek; Kyrgyz-Russian Slavonic University, Bishkek; Academy of Management Under the President of the Kyrgyz Republic, Bishkek; Osh State University, Osh or Jalal-Abad State University, Jalal-Abad

Length of Grant: 5 months to 10 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010 or January 20, 2011

Comments: Applications will be accepted from both academics and professionals. Applicants with Ph.D.s are preferred, but those with M.A.s with substantial experience in their field of specialization are also accepted. All applicants, whether from academics or professionals, must have at least 3 years of teaching experience at a university, college or community college. Teaching assistantships do not count toward the required years of teaching. Preferred fields are business administration, economics, law, international relations, comparative politics, psychology and education. The U.S. Embassy Public Affairs Section (PAS) and the host institution will provide assistance in finding housing. PAS will assist in making assignments based on the best and most appropriate match between the expertise of the grantees and the needs of prospective host institutions. Invitation letters are not required for application.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

STUDY OF THE UNITED STATES

Award #0490

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach one or two courses in area of specialization. Assist and consult teaching staff at the host institution to develop new course(s) in American studies to introduce into the curriculum of the institution. In addition, the grantee may be asked to assist in student academic advising, committee work, directing theses and faculty training. Research opportunities are limited, with the possible exception of primary social science research in areas such as politics and society.

Specialization(s): Experience in distance education in American universities is desired, but not required. The university would like to update their distance education program using the American experience as a model.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. is preferred, although M.A. may be acceptable. See Comments section for more details.

Language: English is the language of instruction. Interpreters will be available if necessary.

Location(s): Osh State University, Osh; Kyrgyz-Uzbek University, Osh; Kyrgyz State National University, Bishkek; American University--Central Asia, Bishkek or Arbaev Kyrgyz State University, Bishkek

Length of Grant: 10 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010

Comments: Applications will be accepted from both academics and professionals. Applicants with Ph.D.s are preferred, but those with M.A.s with substantial experience in their field of specialization are also accepted. All applicants, regardless of academics or professionals, must have at least 3 years of teaching experience at a university, college or community college. Teaching assistantships do not count toward the required years of teaching. The purpose of this award is to assist the host institution to develop general courses in American studies which could be the basis for a new program in American studies. The Public Affairs Section (PAS) of the U.S. Embassy and the host institution will provide assistance in finding housing. PAS will assist in making assignments based on the best and most appropriate match between the expertise of the grantees and the needs of prospective host institutions.

TEFL

Award #0491

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Teach one to two courses in TEFL theory, with an emphasis on the communicative methodology. The teaching schedule will be approximately 14 hours per week, with class sizes from 10-15 students. Consult the teaching staff on the new tendencies in teaching English, and assist in developing and introducing a new course on TEFL methodology to be introduced into the curriculum. Guest lectures at other educational institutions are possible, as well as participation in the activities of the English Language Teachers' Association.

Specialization(s): Communicative methodology, assessment techniques, online TEFL learning and teaching

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or M.A. in TEFL with 5 or more years of university-level teaching experience.

Language: English is the language of instruction.

Location(s): Kyrgyz-Turkish Manas University, Bishkek; Arbaev Kyrgyz State University, Bishkek; Bishkek Humanities University, Bishkek; Jalal-Abad State University, Jalal-Abad or Osh State University, Osh

Length of Grant: 10 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010 or January 20, 2011

Comments: The purpose of this award is to provide assistance to English language departments to develop and introduce new communicative methodology in TEFL. One of the basic aims is to help the host institution develop a course or courses in TEFL to replace the outdated Soviet methodology in the curriculum. The Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy will assist in making assignments based on the best and most appropriate match between the expertise of the grantees and the needs of prospective host institutions.

Nepal

Summary: Up to five full maintenance lecturing/research awards and up to two partial maintenance research awards for either research or the arts. See also research opportunities under the South and Central Asia Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: The academic year runs from July 2010 through June 2011 or August 2010 through July 2011, depending on the host institution. Associate or full professor rank is preferred, though not required, for all academic awards. Retired faculty are encouraged to apply for awards. Applicants for academic research grants should have a Ph.D. and at least 3 years postdoctoral experience. Lecturer/researcher applicants should have a Ph.D. or equivalent, at least 5 years postdoctoral teaching experience, and should describe suggested courses and submit course outlines. A request by a Nepali university for a lecturer may mean that the department lacks trained faculty in an area, but it does not necessarily mean that the department has decided what courses the lecturer will teach. Depending on the institution and department, such decisions may be made just prior to the start of classes. The United States Educational Foundation in Nepal (USEF/N) will do its best to provide advance information when possible, but lecturers may not have a specific course assignment before arrival in Nepal. Patience, flexibility, a spirit of adventure and a sense of humor are among the most important qualities required of Fulbright grantees. The USEF/N will give information about applicants to persons at either Tribhuvan University or Kathmandu University but cannot guarantee affiliations for prospective applicants. Contact CIES for basic information and, for affiliation assistance, USEF/N at www.fulbrightnepal.org.np or executive director Peter Moran at peter@fulbrightnepal.org.np. Staff: Program Officer Lindsay Hench, 202.686.4020, lhench@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Erin Russell, 202.686.4006, erussell@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0492

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research or artistic activity in area of interest.

Specialization(s): Any academic or arts field.

Additional Qualifications: Three years of postdoctoral teaching or research experience and associate professor rank or above preferred. For the arts, at least a master's degree, recognized professional standing and substantial professional accomplishments required.

Language: Level of language proficiency that is required depends on project.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Starting Date: Between August 2010 and January 2011

Comments: Affiliation with a Nepalese institution is not required for a research project, but applicants should obtain, if possible, a letter from a Nepali scholar or institution indicating interest in the proposed project and a willingness to collaborate or provide any support. Contact the Fulbright executive director in Nepal, Peter Moran, at peter@fulbrightnepal.org.np for additional information.

Special Features: Partial-Maintenance Grant

ALL DISCIPLINES: TRIBHUVAN UNIVERSITY

Award #0493

Number of Awards: Approximately 3

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Up to three lecturing/research grants at Tribhuvan University are available in any discipline, including the humanities, law, social sciences, art, natural or physical sciences, medicine, etc. Depending on the department, it is likely that the grantee will also work with faculty, developing curriculum and conducting workshops and seminars. This grant will be heavily weighted toward lecturing (at least 80 percent), though some time for research may be available. Specific decisions on courses to be taught will be made jointly among selected grantee, host department and, if necessary, the Fulbright office in Kathmandu. A letter of interest from the prospective host department should be included in the application.

Specialization(s): Humanities, social sciences, art, natural or physical sciences or medicine

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or equivalent, associate professor rank or above and at least 5 years of teaching experience are preferred. Applications from retired faculty are welcome.

Language: Language of instruction is English.

Location(s): Tribhuvan University, Kathmandu

Length of Grant: 5 months or 7 months

Starting Date: August 2010 (5-month grant); January 2011 (7-month grant). Flexibility regarding starting dates in either fall or winter will increase an applicant's chances of selection.

Comments: Courses will generally be taught at the master's level. Nepali master's level students are often similar in age to American undergraduates, but come from a tradition that stresses rote learning and may have little experience with discussion-oriented education, independent reading or research. Library, office and other facilities are in general far below U.S. standards. Grantees are encouraged to bring books and other instructional materials with them. Grantees should also bring their own laptops. See Web site: www.tribhuvan-university.edu.np. Contact the Fulbright executive director in Nepal, Peter Moran, at peter@fulbrightnepal.org.np for additional information and for assistance in pursuing affiliation with Tribhuvan University departments.

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

MULTIPLE DISCIPLINES: KATHMANDU UNIVERSITY

Award #0494

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach B.A. or M.A. level courses. Generally two courses per semester, 3 hours per course per week. Depending on the department, it is likely that the grantee will also work with faculty, developing curriculum and conducting workshops and seminars. This grant will be heavily weighted towards lecturing (at least 80 percent), though some time for research may be available. A letter of interest from the prospective host department should be included in the application.

Specialization(s): Business administration, including management, finance, accounting, marketing, human resource management, organizational development or management information systems; electrical or mechanical engineering; pharmacy; biotechnology; environmental science; medical education, including anatomy, physiology, pharmacology, pathology or microbiology. (Note that medical school courses are at undergraduate bachelor of medicine and bachelor of surgery degree levels.)

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or M.D. and at least 5 years teaching experience required.

Associate professor rank or above preferred.

Retired faculty applications are welcome.

Language: All instruction is in English.

Location(s): Kathmandu University, Dhulikhel or School of Management, Kathmandu University, Kathmandu

Length of Grant: 5 months to 7 months

Starting Date: August 2010 (5-month grant) or January 2011 (7-month grant). Flexibility

regarding start dates will increase chances of selection.

Comments: Institutional contacts: According to applicant's interests, directly contact Prof. Subas K.C., dean, KU School of Management, subaskecee@kusom.edu.np, or Dr. Bhadraran Tuladhar, registrar, info@ku.edu.np for all other fields. Correspondents should also copy Ms. Jyoti Pradhan at jyotipradhan@ku.edu.np on all correspondence with KU. Kathmandu University Web site: www.ku.edu.np. Instruction at the medical school emphasizes problem-based and community-based learning. KU's main campus, where the departments other than business and education are located, is in Dhulikhel, 30 km. (60 minutes' drive) east of central Kathmandu. Grantees who teach there generally live in Kathmandu and commute, although it may also be possible to arrange modest, spartan housing on campus for part- or full-time residence. Grantees are encouraged to bring books and other instructional materials with them. Grantees should also bring their own laptops. The School of Management has Internet-connected PCs for student use in the library.

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

Pakistan

Summary: Up to 10 research awards for higher education faculty or practicing professionals. See also research opportunities under the South and Central Asia Regional Research Program.

Program Overview: Academic year runs from approximately September 2010 to June 2011. English is the language of instruction for all awards. Prior experience in South Asia or knowledge of a South Asian language is not required. Grantees will be placed only in the greater Islamabad area, and they will be required to follow all U.S. government-mandated security regulations. Limited travel outside of Islamabad will be permitted only if allowed by USEFP and the U.S. Embassy's regional security officer. Accompanying dependents are not allowed. Grantees will live in housing maintained by the Fulbright office in Islamabad, and transportation will be provided by the office.

Staff: Program Officer Lindsay Hench, 202.686.4020, lhench@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Erin Russell, 202.686.4006, erussell@cies.iie.org

South and Central Asia

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0495

Number of Awards: Approximately 10

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Undertake research in area of interest. Researchers will be expected to give at least one presentation a month in their area of expertise and at least one a month that relates to the United States, but grantees may give more lectures if they wish including lectures on their research.

Specialization(s): While all disciplines are of interest, there is particular interest in scholars with expertise in the following fields: education administration; teacher training; American literature, history, political systems, sociology, law, public policy, religion in the United States, or any other subject in which the United States is the primary focus; English as a second language; all pure and applied sciences and technology; gerontology; public health; HIV/AIDS; agriculture; food technology; veterinary medicine; performing and visual arts; public administration; environmental studies; social work; medicine; business or NGO management and journalism.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or a terminal professional degree and at least 3 years experience preferred. Senior professionals must have at least 7 years experience and accomplishments that demonstrate leadership in their field.

Language: No requirement.

Location(s): Islamabad, with specific affiliation at the United States Educational Foundation Pakistan (USEFP). Visits to other institutions to be determined, but applicant may indicate preference.

Length of Grant: 2 months to 6 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or later during the academic year

Comments: Pakistan has a well trained, sophisticated academic community insuring that a Fulbright Scholar will have a rewarding professional experience. Particular areas of expertise and accomplishment include: geology, agriculture, biochemistry, electrical engineering, economics, political science, and computer science. Projects involving collaboration with Pakistan scholars are possible. Applicants may propose joint projects that involve colleagues at their own institutions or other U.S. institutions. For information on institutions in Pakistan or specific disciplines contact Ms. Rita Akhtar, senior program officer at the U.S. Educational Foundation in Pakistan, rita@usefpakistan.org or visit www.usefpakistan.org.

Special Features: Full-Maintenance Grant

Tajikistan

Summary: One award is offered for lecturing/research or lecturing. Candidates with Ph.D.s or M.A.s are welcome to apply. The Fulbright Program in Tajikistan prefers those with minimum 3 years of university or college teaching experience. Professionals and non-academics will be considered if they have the requisite three years of university or college teaching experience.

Program Overview: The grantee will teach during the academic year (September 2010 through May 2011) in a state-run university. University classes are generally held Monday through Saturday. Tajikistan is a developing nation where half of the population is under 25. The Fulbright Scholar will likely be the first American that many Tajik students have ever met and will have a tremendous opportunity to expand cultural understanding. Due to the low educational standards, the scholar should be prepared to teach students who are several years behind their American peers.

ALL DISCIPLINES

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach classes at the undergraduate or graduate level. Grantees in the lecturing/research category will spend 80 percent of their time teaching undergraduate or graduate students, while 20 percent of their time will be spent on research in their specialization. There will be an opportunity for several guest lectures at other universities.

Specialization(s): Preferences are given to those in geology, mining, mineral sciences, engineering, economics or information technology.

South and Central Asia

Language: Due to low English levels, Russian or Persian language skills are required. Tajik is comparable enough to Farsi that a Farsi speaker will be able to teach in that language.

Location(s): Tajik State University (geology, mining or mineral sciences), Polytechnic University (engineering), Technological University of Tajikistan (economics and information technology).

Length of Grant: 4 months or 9 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or February 2011

Comments: Interested applicants are welcome to contact Cultural Affairs Officer Anne Benjaminson at BenjaminsonAW@state.gov or Cultural Affairs Assistant Maya Vakhobova at VakhobovaMK@state.gov. Applicants may contact them also by telephone at +992.37.229.2313 or fax +992.37.229.2050. Visit U.S. Embassy in Dushanbe's Web site at www.dushanbe.usembassy.gov.

Turkmenistan

Summary: One award for lecturing or lecturing/research. Applications are welcome from Ph.D.s as well as those with terminal degrees or M.A.s with adequate university teaching or professional experience. English is sufficient for TESL award applicants, and non-Russian speakers are welcome to apply for lecturing awards in All Disciplines. Research applicants should have demonstrated Russian language ability. The Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy, in cooperation with Turkmenistan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs, will arrange host institution affiliation. Applicants may contact Public Affairs Officer Andrew Paul, Cultural Affairs Officer Peter Galus or cultural affairs assistant Maya Meredova by telephone at 993.12.364692, by fax at 993.12.364693 or by e-mail at paulab@state.gov, galusp@state.gov, meredovama@state.gov. Applicants may visit the Web site of the U.S. Embassy in Ashgabat at <http://turkmenistan.usembassy.gov/> and are also advised to review the Turkmenistan Consular Information Sheet at www.travel.state.gov.

Program Overview: Turkmenistan offers much for those interested in history, from ancient to modern, and has seen a significant revival of its folk craft traditions, including ceramics, carpet weaving and embroidery. The majority of Turkmenistan's citizens are ethnic Turkmen; other ethnic groups include Russian, Uzbek and Kazakh. Turkmen is the official language of Turkmenistan, though Russian is still widely spoken as a "language of inter-ethnic communication." Education is universal and mandatory through the secondary level. The academic year starts in September and ends in June. The spring semester begins at the end of February and ends at the end of June.

ALL DISCIPLINES

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: For lecturing awards, grantee will teach undergraduate courses. For lecturing/research awards, grantee will teach undergraduate courses (60 percent) and conduct research (40 percent) either independently or with relevant research institutes. There will be opportunities for several guest lectures at other universities, including the regional ones.

Specialization(s): Priority areas are technical fields such as agricultural studies, medical and health sciences, water resource management, archaeology; or social sciences such as international relations, American studies, and public administration and institutional management; or humanities such as literature and folklore tradition, performing arts, history, cultural studies and linguistics.

Language: Although Russian or Turkmen language skills are required, host institutions will assist in providing an English speaking counterpart if available. If not, funding from the scholar's grant should be used to cover translation fees.

Location(s): The Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy, in cooperation with Turkmenistan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Ministry of Education, will arrange host institution affiliation according to specialization.

Length of Grant: 5 months to 10 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010 or February 9, 2011

Comments: The new president of Turkmenistan is taking steps away from some of the policies of the recent past and has started a slow, cautious reform path toward greater openness. Recent policy has emphasized the value of exchange and cooperation with other countries. Any work in the country will require flexibility, perseverance and creativity in order to help make the most of still challenging conditions in an optimistic and energized environment.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

TEFL

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: For lecturing awards, grantee will teach undergraduate courses and possibly graduate courses. For lecturing/research awards, grantee will teach undergraduate courses (60 percent) and conduct research (40 percent) either independently or with host institution graduating students and faculty. There will be opportunities for several guest lectures at other universities, including the regional ones.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D.s as well as M.A.s with minimum 3 years of college-level teaching experience are sought.

Language: English is sufficient for lecturing/research.

Location(s): The Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy, in cooperation with Turkmenistan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Ministry of Education, will arrange host institution affiliation.

Length of Grant: 5 months to 10 months

Starting Date: September 1, 2010 or February 9, 2011

Uzbekistan

Summary: One award for lecturing or lecturing/research. Applications are welcome from Ph.D.s as well as those with terminal degrees or M.A.s with adequate university teaching or professional experience. English is sufficient for TEFL award applicants, and non-Russian speakers are welcome to apply for lecturing awards in All Disciplines. Research applicants should have demonstrated Russian language ability. The Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy, in cooperation with Uzbekistan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Ministry of Higher Education, will arrange host institution affiliation. Applicants may contact Public Affairs Officer Carol Farjardo, Cultural Affairs Officer Stephanie Fitzmaurice or Public Affairs Specialist Elnora Muradova by telephone at (998 71) 120 5450, by fax at (998 71) 120 6302 or by e-mail at FarjardoC@state.gov, FitzmauriceSJ@state.gov or MuradovaEN@state.gov. Applicants may visit the Web site of the U.S. Embassy in Tashkent at <http://uzbekistan.usembassy.gov/exchanges> and are also advised to review the Uzbekistan Consular Information Sheet at www.travel.state.gov.

Program Overview: Uzbekistan offers much for those interested in history, from ancient to modern. Uzbekistan continues to enjoy a highly educated and skilled labor force; the educational system has achieved 97 percent literacy, and the mean amount of schooling for both men and women is 11 years. The academic year starts in September and ends in June. Uzbek is the official state language; however, Russian is the de facto language for interethnic communication, including much day-to-day government and business use.

NORTH AMERICAN STUDIES: CANADA-MEXICO JOINT AWARD IN NORTH AMERICAN STUDIES

Award #0504

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research, develop collaborations and offer occasional guest lectures in the grantee's area of specialization.

Specialization(s): Social sciences, particularly political science, economics or sociology; law; public health; business administration; public administration; environmental sciences. Of particular interest are research questions surrounding North American regionalization, governance, public policy, trade integration, environmental issues and standards, energy, indigenous issues, migration and identity.

Additional Qualifications: Junior scholars with promising research records as well as established senior scholars are encouraged to apply.

Language: Good to fluent Spanish is required for Mexico. If proposing affiliation at a Francophone host institution in Canada,

French language ability commensurate with the requirements of the project and the host institution is required.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: August or September 2010 or January 2011 for one-semester grants; August or September 2010 for academic year grants

Comments: The intent of this award is to enhance collaboration among a community of scholars working on issues of relevance to the special trilateral relationship among the United States, Mexico and Canada, created by shared borders and accelerated by the North American Free Trade Agreement. Projects across a broad range of disciplines as well as those with an interdisciplinary focus are welcomed; proposals should reflect topics which would benefit from a trilateral perspective and clearly demonstrate a need to spend time in both Mexico and Canada. Grants are from 4 months to an academic year, and time should be distributed fairly equally between the two countries. Longer-term grants are preferred. Affiliations may be made with universities, non-governmental organizations, research centers, government agencies or any combination thereof. Candidates are encouraged to obtain letters of invitation, but commissions can assist with affiliations as necessary; for assistance contact Maggie Hug at the U.S.-Mexico Commission for Educational and Cultural Exchange (COMEXUS) at mhug@comexus.org.mx or Brad Hector at the Foundation for Educational Exchange Between Canada and the U.S. at bhector@fulbright.ca.

Brazil

Summary: 28 Research, Lecturing, or Lecturing/Research awards. See also Distinguished Chair Program for the PUC-Rio Distinguished Chair in American Studies.

Program Overview: Brazil is one of the most influential countries in the western hemisphere, an economic giant and one of the world's biggest democracies. Its universities produce some 10,000 Ph.D.s per year, and leading research centers in fields such as agriculture, energy, biotechnology and epidemiology attract scholars and students from around the globe. Brazil is also noted for the richness and distinctiveness of its culture; its export of music is as significant as that of its soybeans. Opportunities abound for U.S. Scholars to forge collaborations with Brazilian counterparts across the disciplines. Proposals will be considered from junior as well as senior scholars. The goals of the Fulbright Scholar Program with Brazil are to support collaborative research in all fields, strengthen Brazilian graduate education through teaching and contribute to broader and longer term U.S.-Brazil institutional linkages. Applicants without significant experience in Brazil are encouraged to apply, as are Brazilianists who can further knowledge and understanding of Brazil in the United States. Applicants should request a letter of invitation from the prospective host institution in Brazil. The academic year is from March to December, with a one-month break in July. The Commission will consider serial grants which will allow the grant to be divided into shorter in-country stays over 2 consecutive years. In the case of a serial grant, the total number of months cannot exceed 4. A maximum of two round-trip airfares for the grantee only will be provided for serial grantees. Visit www.fulbright.org.br/english/comissao.html to access comprehensive listings of Brazilian scholars at universities throughout the country. For further information, contact the Commission for Educational Exchange between the U.S. and Brazil; inquiries may be directed to Patricia Grijo at patricia@fulbright.org.br; telephone 55.11.3061.5342.

Canada

Summary: Up to 28 Research Chair awards, up to two joint Canada-Mexico awards and up to four All Disciplines awards are available for scholars wishing to conduct research or lecture, or both, at a Canadian institution. See also Fulbright Distinguished Chairs Program for a Distinguished Lecturing award at York University, as well as Western Hemisphere Regional and Special Programs for a Canada-Mexico Joint Award in North American Studies.

Program Overview: The Canada-U.S. Fulbright Program supports collaborative research efforts among members of the North American academic community on thematic issues of bilateral and global significance through the establishment of a number of Research Chair awards at Canada's leading universities and research centers, as well as a joint award with Mexico. Research Chairs enable prominent and promising scholars and experienced professionals to conduct research, develop collaborations, and guest lecture at select Canadian universities and research centres. In addition, grantees will have the opportunity to deliver public lectures, give seminar presentations, participate in conferences and otherwise contribute to ongoing research activities at the host institution. Several themes have been identified for Research Chair awards: business trade and finance; education, music, math or science; environment, health and sustainability; governance, peace and security; identity, citizenship and cultural studies; legal studies; and North American studies. Please refer to the award descriptions for more information. Since multiple grants are available within each theme, applicants should identify host institution(s) in order of preference within the project statement and on the application form. Candidates will be considered for all appropriate host institution placements. Research Chair grants are normally awarded for one semester, 4 months. A request can be made to extend to a full academic year, for a total grant length of 9 months. The program also supports an open-ended program of bilateral scholarly exchanges in any discipline and in affiliation with any university, government agency or research institution in Canada through the All Disciplines award. While the competition is open to all disciplines, the Canada-U.S. Fulbright Program is particularly interested in encouraging research on contemporary issues relevant to Canada and the United States and the relationship between the two countries. While candidates will be considered for multiple award opportunities, applicants should identify specific award opportunities in order of preference in the project statement. Applicants should also clearly document the need to be in residence in Canada to carry out the project. New Research Chair awards continue to be developed; prospective applicants should contact CIES or the Foundation for Educational Exchange between Canada and the U.S. (www.fulbright.ca) or contact the Canada-U.S. Fulbright Program at 613.688.5540 or info@fulbright.ca for the latest updates.

NORTH AMERICAN STUDIES: CANADA-MEXICO JOINT AWARD IN NORTH AMERICAN STUDIES

Award #0504

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research, develop collaborations and offer occasional guest lectures in the grantee's area of specialization. Specialization(s): Social sciences, particularly political science, economics or sociology; law; public health; business administration; public administration; environmental sciences. Of particular interest are research questions surrounding North American regionalization, governance, public policy, trade integration, environmental issues and standards, energy, indigenous issues, migration and identity.

Additional Qualifications: Junior scholars with promising research records as well as established senior scholars are encouraged to apply.

Language: Good to fluent Spanish is required for Mexico. If proposing affiliation at a Francophone host institution in Canada, French language ability commensurate with the requirements of the project and the host institution is required.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: August or September 2010 or January 2011 for one-semester grants; August or September 2010 for academic year grants

Comments: The intent of this award is to enhance collaboration among a community of scholars working on issues of relevance to the special trilateral relationship among the United States, Mexico and Canada, created by shared borders and accelerated by the North American Free Trade Agreement. Projects across a broad range of disciplines as well as those with an interdisciplinary focus are welcomed; proposals should reflect topics which would benefit from a trilateral perspective and clearly demonstrate a need to spend time in both Mexico and Canada. Grants are from 4 months to an academic year, and time should be distributed fairly equally between the two countries. Longer-term grants are preferred. Affiliations may be made with universities, non-governmental organizations, research centers, government agencies or any combination thereof. Candidates are encouraged to obtain letters of invitation, but commissions can assist with affiliations as necessary; for assistance contact Maggie Hug at the U.S.-Mexico Commission for Educational and Cultural Exchange (COMEXUS) at mhug@comexus.org.mx or Brad Hector at the Foundation for Educational Exchange Between Canada and the U.S. at bhector@fulbright.ca.
Deadline: August 1, 2009

Chile

Summary: Up to 12 lecturing or lecturing/research awards.

Program Overview: The aim of the program is to enhance the study of Chile in the United States and the study of the United States in Chile, to broaden research efforts in a wide range of subjects and to strengthen the academic standards of regional universities. Academic semesters are from March to July and August to December. Awards are rarely made during the January to February period unless justified by the nature of the project and prearranged with the host institution. Preference is for candidates with senior status (5 years of experience following the terminal degree) and graduate level teaching experience, but junior scholars as well as professional candidates with compelling proposals will also be considered. For all awards, applicants should secure a letter of interest from a Chilean host institution. Awards are co-sponsored by the Chilean government's Program to Improve Quality and Equity in Higher Education (MECESUP, www.mecesup.cl). The Commission for Educational Exchange between the United States and Chile can assist with final confirmation of affiliations. Grant length is flexible within a range of 3-6 months. The Web site for the commission is www.fulbrightchile.cl. Commission contact is academic advisor Karina Sapunar, karinasapunar@fulbrightchile.cl, telephone 56.2.334.4368.

Staff: Assistant Director Debra Egan, 202.686.6230, degan@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Margaret Dickson, 202.686.6237, mdickson@cies.iie.org

TEFL AND APPLIED LINGUISTICS OR EDUCATION

Award #0525

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach undergraduate or graduate courses or seminars in the grantee's area of specialization and participate in faculty and program development. Collaborative research with Chilean colleagues is also encouraged. Affiliations, level of courses and semesters are dependent on specializations; multiple affiliations are possible.

Western Hemisphere

Specialization(s): Curriculum design, teacher training, assessment, cross-cultural communication and task-based instruction
Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. and experience in teacher training.

Language: Working knowledge of Spanish is desired but not required.

Location(s): English Opens Doors (www.ingles.mineduc.cl) or universities with accredited undergraduate or graduate programs in English. Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include a letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 6 months

Starting Date: August 2010 or March 2011

Comments: This award supports a priority for the Chilean educational system: improving the teaching of English at all levels of the educational system. The Ministry of Education has initiated a program, English Opens Doors (www.ingles.mineduc.cl), calling for all Chilean elementary and high school students to be able to pass a standardized English listening and reading test in a decade, with a more ambitious long-term goal to make all 15 million of Chile's people fluent in English within a generation. While applicants may propose affiliation with any institution in Chile, three universities have research groups and accredited Ph.D. programs in linguistics or education: Catholic University (www.puc.cl) has a program in education; University of Concepcion (www.udec.cl) has a program in linguistics and; Catholic University of Valparaiso (www.ucv.cl) has a program in linguistics. The following universities have expressed interest in receiving scholars in particular areas: Catholic University of Maule, www.ucm.cl; University of Atacama, www.uda.cl; University of Chile, www.uchile.cl; University of Concepcion, www.udec.cl; University of Tarapaca, www.uta.cl; and Catholic University of Valparaiso, www.ucv.cl. Contact CIES or the Fulbright Commission in Chile for more information on these positions.
Deadline: August 1, 2009

Colombia

Summary: Up to six lecturing/research awards.

Program Overview: The Colombia-U.S. Fulbright Program welcomes applications from both junior and tenured scholars interested in conducting research and teaching in fields of academic relevance for both the United States and Colombia. Projects from professionals and artists are also supported. In light of a steadily improving security situation, proposals to conduct activities in regional universities are particularly welcome, as are those that promote the development of scholar-practitioner networks and scholarly communities between both countries. The Fulbright Commission in Colombia will facilitate in-country travel for lecturing and conference participation, especially at underrepresented regional universities. All scholars are expected to give at least one public lecture on their research during the grant period. Academic semesters are from January to May and August to December. Summer courses are available at some universities. Awards may involve multiple affiliations. A language proficiency report is required and a letter of invitation from a host institution is recommended. However, the commission can assist with local contacts. Grantees with dual U.S. and Colombian nationality may be required by Colombian law to enter the country on a Colombian passport. Visit www.fulbright.edu.co for more information on the Colombia-U.S. Fulbright Program.

ALL DISCIPLINES

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research, teach a graduate or upper-level undergraduate course in grantee's area of specialization, conduct seminars, advise students and participate in conferences.

Language: Fluent Spanish is preferred for all positions; applicants must submit a language proficiency report. Teaching in English may be acceptable for some science and technical fields.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation & include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 5 months

Starting Date: Between July 2010 and July 2011

Comments: Expected grant period will be from 4-5 months; however, under exceptional circumstances, proposals for shorter grants will be considered. Justification must accompany application. Inquiries for local contacts and assistance with affiliation may be directed to Alexandra Moreno, program officer, at amoreno@fulbright.edu.co or consult www.fulbright.edu.co.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Costa Rica

Summary: Up to four lecturing or lecturing/research awards.

Program Overview: An award to Costa Rica offers a variety of benefits, including a convenient location, well-respected institutions of higher learning, a pleasant climate and great natural beauty, and a strong Fulbright tradition. The academic calendar varies greatly among universities and it is essential that applicants confirm which academic calendar their institution and program of interest follows. In some cases, requested grant lengths may need to be adjusted at the discretion of the Fulbright Program.

Staff: Program Officer Joseph Graff, 202.686.6239, jgraft@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Margaret Dickson, 202.686.6237, mdickson@cies.iie.org conduct research. In the Dominican Republic there is one public university, the Autonomous University of Santo Domingo, and several private universities that are also recommended for grantees to work with. In addition to working with universities, scholars may also affiliate with NGOs and other organizations. Fields of special interest include agriculture, biology, education, environmental sciences, comparative law, consumer protection, computer science, economics, international business, political science, TEFL, tourism and urban planning. Most universities are willing to support research in the areas of environmental studies, humanities, economics, agriculture, education, history, international business and marketing, arts and design and psychology. Applicants should be aware that the level of studies in mathematics and the hard sciences is not necessarily comparable to the level in the United States. In some cases, requested grant lengths may need to be adjusted at the discretion of the Fulbright Program.

Mexico

Summary: Up to 24 awards to be distributed as follows: up to 16 awards in the All Disciplines category, two joint awards with Canada, three U.S.-Mexico Border Program awards and three TEFL awards. See also Canada-Mexico Joint Award in North American Studies under Regional and Special Programs.

Program Overview: The rich, dynamic relationship between the United States and Mexico offers plentiful opportunities for scholars interested in conducting research or teaching on issues of relevance for both countries. The U.S.-Mexico Commission for Educational and Cultural Exchange (COMEXUS) promotes the development of networks of individuals and institutions that stimulate research and teaching on important themes related to the binational agenda. COMEXUS is particularly interested in projects conducted by U.S. Scholars on Mexican culture, society and politics to deepen the understanding of Mexico in the United States. Areas of collaboration go far beyond border issues (which are also of relevance to COMEXUS) and can include projects on migration, ecological issues, public health, education, public policy and other areas or the emergence of binational interest groups in areas such as human rights, environmental protection and trade policy. COMEXUS will also support projects in the arts that further dialogue and contact between U.S. and Mexican arts communities. All awards are open to candidates at any academic or professional rank. Academic semesters begin August or September and January or February. Academic-year grants are preferred. Grantees and accompanying dependents must enter Mexico with an FM-3 visa, which is arranged by COMEXUS. Grantees with dual U.S. and Mexican nationality are required by Mexican law to enter Mexico on a Mexican passport. For more information on the program, contact usprograms@comexus.org.mx or visit the COMEXUS Web site at www.comexus.org.mx. Staff: Assistant Director Debra Egan, 202.686.6230, degan@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Margaret Dickson, 202.686.6237, mdickson@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0544

Number of Awards: Approximately 12

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Teach graduate courses or advanced undergraduate courses, engage in collaborative research or combine both activities in grantee's area of specialization.

Western Hemisphere

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. is preferred; in certain fields equivalent terminal degrees will be considered.

Language: Fluent Spanish is strongly recommended; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and provide letter of invitation, but COMEXUS can assist with affiliation as necessary.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: August or September 2010 or January or February 2011 for one-semester grants; August or September 2010 for academic-year grants

Comments: Academic-year grants are preferred. Start dates must correspond with the academic calendar.

FULBRIGHT BORDER PROGRAM

Award #0545

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Teach graduate courses or conduct research, or both, in any discipline relevant to U.S.-Mexico border relations.

Additional Qualifications: Candidates must be from U.S. institutions located in any of the U.S. states on the border with Mexico. Preference for candidates with a Ph.D., but in certain disciplines equivalent terminal degrees will be considered.

Language: Fluent Spanish is strongly recommended; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): Affiliation must be with a university or research institution in any of the Mexican states on the border with the United States. Applicants are encouraged to provide letter of invitation, but COMEXUS can assist with affiliation as necessary.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: August or September 2010 or January or February 2011 for one-semester grants; August or September 2010 for academic-year grants

Comments: The border designation of this award refers to geography as well as focus: the goal of the Fulbright Border Program is to enhance linkages and collaborative work between U.S. and Mexican institutions and scholars in the border regions. Grantees maintain their U.S. residence and travel into Mexico periodically to engage in research, teaching, or both. At least 8 work days per month should be spent in Mexico. Applications in any discipline relevant to U.S.-Mexico border relations will be considered. Academic-year grants are preferred. Start dates must correspond to the academic calendar. See "Base Stipend" heading in benefits table for stipend information.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

NORTH AMERICAN STUDIES: CANADA-MEXICO JOINT AWARD IN NORTH AMERICAN STUDIES

Award #0504

Number of Awards: Approximately 2

Category: Research

Grant Activity: Conduct research, develop collaborations and offer occasional guest lectures in the grantee's area of specialization.

Specialization(s): Social sciences, particularly political science, economics or sociology; law; public health; business administration; public administration; environmental sciences. Of particular interest are research questions surrounding North American regionalization, governance, public policy, trade integration, environmental issues and standards, energy, indigenous issues, migration and identity.

Additional Qualifications: Junior scholars with promising research records as well as established senior scholars are encouraged to apply.

Language: Good to fluent Spanish is required for Mexico. If proposing affiliation at a Francophone host institution in Canada, French language ability commensurate with the requirements of the project and the host institution is required.

Location(s): Applicants are encouraged to arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: August or September 2010 or January 2011 for one-semester grants; August or September 2010 for academic year grants

Comments: The intent of this award is to enhance collaboration among a community of scholars working on issues of relevance to the special trilateral relationship among the United States, Mexico and Canada, created by shared borders and accelerated by the North American Free Trade Agreement. Projects across a broad range of disciplines as well as those with an interdisciplinary focus are welcomed; proposals should reflect topics which would benefit from a trilateral perspective and clearly demonstrate a need to spend time in both Mexico and Canada. Grants are from 4 months to an academic year, and time should be distributed fairly equally between the two countries. Longer-term grants are preferred. Affiliations may be made with universities, non-governmental organizations, research centers, government agencies or any combination thereof. Candidates are encouraged to obtain letters of invitation, but commissions can assist with affiliations as necessary; for assistance contact Maggie Hug at the U.S.-Mexico Commission for Educational and Cultural Exchange (COMEXUS) at mhug@comexus.org.mx or Brad Hector at the Foundation for Educational Exchange Between Canada and the U.S. at bhector@fulbright.ca.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

TEACHING ENGLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Award #0546

Number of Awards: Approximately 3

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach TEFL methodology courses and workshops to students and teachers of TEFL. Conduct TEFL teacher-training projects at Mexican public universities. Assist in possible development of B.A. and M.A. programs at host institution. Consult in areas of need of the host institution, which may include but are not limited to, curriculum development and evaluation, program design and implementation, and EFL teacher-training projects.

Additional Qualifications: M.A. or Ph.D. in TEFL or TESOL or applied linguistics and a minimum of 3 years of experience in teacher training.

Language: Fluent Spanish is desired; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): COMEXUS will arrange affiliation, but applicant may express preference.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 9 months

Starting Date: August or September 2010 or January or February 2011 for one-semester grants; August or September 2010 for academic-year grants

Comments: Mexico offers unique opportunities to TEFL specialists to improve English-language teaching at Mexican public universities. Full academic-year grants are preferred. Start dates must correspond with the academic calendar of the Mexican host institution. COMEXUS will arrange university affiliations in consultation with selected TEFL grantees. The TEFL award supports student and faculty training as well as B.A. and M.A. TEFL program development. It does not support teaching English to students. Applicants should have TEFL or TESL teacher training experience as well as curriculum development experience. The ability to work in a consulting capacity to be flexible to the Mexican host institutions TEFL program needs is encouraged.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

Nicaragua

Summary: Up to three lecturing or lecturing/research awards.

Program Overview: Nicaragua is the second poorest country in the Western Hemisphere, and numerous efforts are underway to improve the quality of education in institutions of higher education. Although universities have many limitations, U.S. Fulbright Scholars are warmly welcomed and respected among the faculties and host institutions make every effort to provide them with the support available. Flexibility is the key to sharing and enjoying the experience, and scholars will derive satisfaction from the positive impact they leave on the institutions. Academic calendars vary among institutions, but most universities begin in February, have a 2-week break in July and conclude programs by mid-December. All programs except TEFL require a high level of proficiency in Spanish. For lecturing/research projects, candidates should plan a 60/40 ratio between teaching and research. In some cases, requested grant lengths may need to be adjusted at the discretion of the Fulbright Program.

Staff: Program Officer Joseph Graff, 202.686.6239, jgraff@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Margaret Dickson, 202.686.6237, mdickson@cies.iie.org

ALL DISCIPLINES

Award #0547

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach senior undergraduate or graduate courses in area of specialization, and consult on curriculum development as requested. Conduct collaborative or independent research as desired.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. is preferred, but master's degree with 4 years of teaching experience will be considered.

Language: Fluent Spanish is required; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): Applicants should establish contact with a host institution and secure a letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 4 months to 9 months

Starting Date: End of July 2010 or January 2011

Comments: Applications in any discipline are welcome. Applicants seeking contacts in Nicaragua may contact the Public Affairs Section of the U.S. Embassy; please direct inquiries to Cultural Affairs Officer Michelle Los Banos-Jardina at jardinamg@state.gov or cultural affairs specialist Maira Vargas at vargasrm@state.gov.

ECONOMICS

Award #0548

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Train and update faculty, and collaborate in curriculum development.

Specialization(s): Agricultural economics for UNAN-Managua; trade and globalization models for UNAN-Leon

Language: Fluent Spanish is required; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): National Autonomous University, Managua or National Autonomous University, Leon

Length of Grant: 4 months to 6 months

Starting Date: July 2010 or February 2011

Comments: Scholars may apply to one of two universities that have made separate requests for specialists in economics to work with their faculty for a 4-6 month period, as follows: the National Autonomous University of Nicaragua-RUCFA (UNAN-RUCFA) in Managua requests support in curriculum development at the undergraduate level and teacher training for economics teachers and researchers in the department of agricultural economics. UNAN-RUCFA's economics school is the largest in the country. For more information, contact Dr. Gustavo Siles, dean at decanatura@unan.edu.ni or telephone 505.222.3489. The National Autonomous University of Nicaragua-Leon (UNAN-Leon, not just a separate campus but a separate institution), seeks a scholar to work with their faculty in improving and modernizing the curriculum and providing training that meets the country's requirements for implementation of the DR-CAFTA (Dominican Republic-Central American Free Trade Agreement). UNAN-Leon is the oldest and most prestigious university of Nicaragua, but the School of Economics and Business Administration is one of the newest schools of the university. For more information, contact Francisco Valladares, dean, at fvalladares@unanleon.edu.ni or telephone 505.31080. A letter of invitation is not required, but some prior contact with either institution is encouraged.

INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING

Award #0549

Category: Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Train and update faculty, collaborate in improving curriculum and help faculty to design practical training orientation for senior students.

Specialization(s): Agro-industry management

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. or master's with 5 years of professional and teaching experience.

Language: Fluent Spanish is required; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): Central American University, Managua

Length of Grant: 4 months

Starting Date: September 2010 or January 2011

Comments: Central American University (UCA) offers industrial engineering with two specialties, logistics and agroindustry management. The latter is focused on developing the nascent industry in Nicaragua. For more information, contact Kathe Welles, director of international relations, at kathe@ns.uca.edu.ni or tel. 505.278.6505. A letter of invitation is not required but prior contact with the institution is encouraged.

Deadline: August 1, 2009

TEACHING ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE

Award #0550

Category: Lecturing

Grant Activity: Update faculty and assist with curriculum development for a graduate program at the university.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. preferred but master's with 4 years of teacher training and curriculum development experience will be considered.

Program Overview: Applications will be considered in the areas of social sciences, humanities, and science and technology with preference given to the specific fields listed below. At least 3 years of teaching experience is required. Junior as well as senior scholars are encouraged to apply. Collaborative research with Venezuelan colleagues is encouraged. Academic year is from September or October to June or July, depending on the institution.

Staff: Program Officer Joseph Graff, 202.686.6239, jgraff@cies.iie.org or Program Associate Margaret Dickson, 202.686.6237, mdickson@cies.iie.org

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Award #0562

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Applicants may propose research projects, teaching and curriculum development projects or a combination of both. For research projects, collaborative work with local scholars is desirable. All grantees may be asked to deliver a series of seminars in the applicant's field of expertise. Proposals with a teaching component must include sample syllabi for proposed courses or seminars. Projects that support the development of doctoral programs are especially welcome.

Specialization(s): While applicants may propose affiliation with any university in Venezuela, seven institutions have made specific requests: (1) the Central University of Venezuela in Caracas, www.ucv.ve, seeks specialists in marine sciences, ecology, information technology, vegetal physiology, soil biology, oil and petrochemistry, super gravity and symmetry, medical physics and molecular physics. The University's Institute of Food Science and Technology seeks a specialist in food microbiology, food chemistry and biochemistry, food product development, food processing and technology, sensory analysis and consumer testing, food engineering, quality assurance, food laws and regulations, and food packaging. The Institute of Fluid Mechanics seeks a specialist in fluid mechanics, fluid stability, hydrology, industrial processes and risk and disaster management. (2) The University of the Andes in Merida, www.ula.ve, seeks a specialist in information technology, scientific instrumentation and biomedical engineering. (3) Simon Bolivar University in Caracas, www.usb.ve, seeks specialists in oil production and transportation, gas technology, geophysics and exploration, rotor dynamics, design and industrial maintenance, bio and clinical engineering, materials science, electric power, robotics, information technology, telecommunications, biochemistry and immunology, electronics, nutrition, fluid mechanics, and urban and environmental management. (4) The University of the Orient (various campuses), www.udo.edu.ve, seeks specialists in fluid mechanics, electronics, genetics, systems engineering, forestry and biotechnology. (5) The Faculty of Engineering at Metropolitan University in Caracas, www.unimet.edu.ve, seeks a specialist in environmental engineering (eco efficiency and clean production), business social responsibility focusing on the environment, eco design and telecommunications. (6) The University of Zulia in Maracaibo, www.luz.edu.ve, seeks a specialist in one of a wide variety of fields, including petroleum engineering, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, applied computer science, telecommunications, electronics and electrical power systems, chemical engineering, science and food technology, bio technology, industrial hygiene, health sciences, including nutrition, nursing, genetics, cell biology, occupational health and traumatology, and public health, including emerging diseases, epidemiology, health services management and medical statistics. (7) The Faculty of Chemistry at the University of Carabobo in Valencia, www.uc.edu.ve, seeks specialists in polymers, environment, toxic waste, catalysis, biochemistry and natural food products.

Additional Qualifications: Ph.D. is preferred, but master's degree is acceptable with at least 3 years of experience.

Language: Fluent Spanish is required; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): Applicants must arrange affiliation and include letter of invitation.

Length of Grant: 3 months to 10 months

Starting Date: September or October 2010 or January 2011

Comments: Candidates are urged to identify a prospective host institution, but the U.S. Embassy in Caracas can assist with affiliations and contact information. Inquiries may be directed to Angel Garcia at garciaag2@state.gov. Starting dates vary according to the selected Venezuelan university. Grantee should check with the Embassy prior to making travel arrangements.

SOCIAL SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES

Category: Lecturing, Lecturing/Research or Research

Grant Activity: Applicants may propose research projects, teaching and curriculum development projects or a combination of both. For research projects, collaborative work with local scholars is desirable. All grantees may be asked to deliver occasional lectures and advise students. Proposals with a teaching component must include sample syllabi for proposed courses or seminars.

Specialization(s): Projects in any discipline will be considered, but preference will be given to proposals that strengthen Venezuela's democracy, governance and economic development: (1) U.S. studies, focusing on American government and politics, foreign policy, American history, literature, African American and other ethnic literature, and film, music, culture and society; (2) education, including TEFL, educational policy, primary and secondary education, adult education and distance learning; (3) sustainable development, economic diversification away from an oil-based economy, and international trade and investment; (4) administration of justice, including criminal law and procedures, human rights, conflict resolution (peace building, mediation, negotiation, facilitation and alternative dispute resolution), constitutional law, labor law, intellectual property rights, taxation, ethics, court procedures, oral argument, judgment and rule of evidence, law and the media, techniques in criminal sentencing and comparative law; (5) political science, security studies, international relations, public policy, political systems, comparative politics, social movements, public administration, women's issues and civic education.

Language: Fluent Spanish is required for all fields; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

STUDY OF THE UNITED STATES

Award #0564

Category: Lecturing or Lecturing/Research

Grant Activity: Teach one undergraduate and one graduate course in the history of American political thought. Contribute to curriculum and program development. Conduct research in area of specialization and collaborate with faculty on ongoing research projects on U.S.-Venezuelan relations.

Specialization(s): American political thought

Language: Fluent Spanish is required; applicants must submit a language proficiency report.

Location(s): Department of Political Theory and Thought, University of the Andes, Merida

Length of Grant: 6 months to 8 months

Starting Date: September 2010 for academic-year grants; September 2010 or January 2011 for one-semester grants

Comments: The University of the Andes has recently decided to incorporate studies of the United States into its political science curriculum, but faculty have no training in U.S. studies and need assistance in developing course materials and curriculum. The graduate course on American political thought would cover the period from the founding of the United States to the contemporary period, with emphasis on contemporary political thought. The undergraduate course would cover the founding of the United States to the 19th century. Both courses meet 3 hours per week over the 16-week semester. A letter of invitation is not required, but applicants are encouraged to contact the host institution for further information; please contact Professor Abraham Enrique Andara, at Eandara2@hotmail.com; telephone 58.0274.244.4044.

2010–2011 GRANT STIPENDS AND BENEFITS

Grant stipends and benefits for 2010-2011 vary by country or regional program and type of award. The standard overview structure outlined below is utilized for country and regional programs in many world areas. In others, binational Fulbright Commissions have established grant benefits for their individual country programs.

Consult the specific benefits description provided for the individual country, regional or special program in the table beginning on page 1357

Benefits for special awards that do not follow the formulas identified for a country program (for example, travel-only awards, international education administrators programs) are indicated in the column “Other Benefits or Special Awards.”

Funding levels: The number of grants available under the Fulbright Scholar Program is subject to the availability of federally appropriated funds. The United States Department of State reserves the right to alter, without notice, the participating countries, the number of awards, the terms of agreement and allowances for Fulbright awards.

STANDARD STIPENDS AND BENEFITS STRUCTURE

While most Fulbright grants provide the benefits listed below (stipend, monthly maintenance, travel, tuition assistance, etc.), grant stipends and benefits vary from country to country. Grants awarded to countries with Fulbright Commissions often differ from those to countries without Fulbright Commissions. Please be sure to review the section “Variations in Countries with a Fulbright Commission” for further information.

Base Stipend

Grantees receive a monthly stipend calculated in U.S. dollars and payable in dollars or local currency. Unless otherwise stipulated, the amount varies according to the following formula for different grant categories.

Lecturing—$2,860 per month for faculty at the associate or full professor rank or the professional equivalent; $2,640 per month for faculty at or below the assistant professor rank or the professional equivalent.

Lecturing/Research—$2,860 per month for faculty at the associate or full professor rank or the professional equivalent; $2,640 per month for faculty at or below the assistant professor rank or the professional equivalent. (This applies only if the grantee teaches the equivalent of at least one full course.)

Distinguished Lecturing—$3,850 per month for all appointments specifically designated as Fulbright distinguished lecturing awards.

Junior Lecturing—$2,640 per month for appointments specifically designated as Fulbright junior lectureships.

Research and Junior Research—$1,870 per month for all faculty ranks and professional equivalents. (Note: Stipends for the Fulbright Distinguished Chairs Program differ from those described above.)

Maintenance for Living in Country of Assignment

A monthly maintenance allowance is provided to cover local costs of living in the country of the Fulbright grant. This is based on estimated local costs and is determined at the time the grant is issued.

The monthly maintenance is adjusted for up to two accompanying dependents (those who spend at least 80 percent of the grant period with the grantee abroad).

In some cases, housing or a housing allowance, a local salary or some other monetary contribution may be directly provided by the host institution or country, which may affect the Fulbright maintenance allowance.

Travel and Relocation

A travel allowance is provided to cover round-trip international travel for the grantee to the place of assignment. Travel for up to two accompanying dependents (those who spend at least 80 percent of the grant period with the grantee abroad) is provided for grants of four months or more. Depending on location, other relocation costs (one-time support for settling in, excess-baggage provision) are included.

In cases where international travel is provided in whole or in part by the host country government or host institution, direct Fulbright support may be adjusted accordingly.

Scholars with grants of less than one semester (four months) do not receive a relocation allowance or an allowance for dependent travel.

(Note: Final 2009–2010 allocations for maintenance and travel/relocation under the standard benefits structure will be determined at the time the grant is issued and are contingent on funding. For illustration purposes, figures for 2007–2008 or 2008–2009 are provided in the benefits table for some countries.)

Tuition Assistance and Other Benefits

Dependent educational allowance. The Fulbright Program is no longer able, as it was in past years, to pay full tuition reimbursement for K–12 dependents enrolled in elementary or secondary schools in the host country.

For some countries, however, reimbursement or a tuition supplement may be available. Availability will depend upon the amount of funding for the country program. Applicants should check with CIES about the countries to which they are applying and read the “Tuition Assistance” section in the grant benefits table.

Supplemental research allowance. A modest, one-time research allowance may be provided to support the scholarly activity of research grantees.

VARIATIONS IN COUNTRIES WITH A FULBRIGHT COMMISSION

Many Fulbright Commissions have established benefit packages that are different from the standard benefits structure described above. In many cases, Fulbright support is coupled with, and/or adjusted for, local contributions made by the host country or institution.

Stipend in Local Currency

In some Fulbright Commission countries, a stipend is offered that is set and/or paid in local currency. The stipend normally provides only maintenance support for the grantee while in the host country. This stipend often varies according to grant category and the number of accompanying dependents.

Exchange rate fluctuations may affect U.S. dollar comparisons for these stipends. Dollar conversions often do not necessarily reflect the real value of a grant paid in local currency.

Dependent travel and dependent educational allowances may or may not be provided.

In-Country Costs Plus U.S. Dollar Supplement

Amounts often vary according to grant category and the number of accompanying dependents. In some Fulbright Commission countries, especially where the currency is not easily convertible, provision is made for a housing and/or local cost-of-living allowance in the local currency and a separate U.S. dollar supplement.

Dependent travel and dependent educational allowances may or may not be provided.

Since there is a great deal of variability in the benefits offered, please carefully read the benefits description for each individual country

HEALTH INSURANCE AND OTHER FINANCIAL CONSIDERATIONS

Accident and Sickness Coverage

The Accident and Sickness Program for Exchanges (ASPE) provides supplemental coverage, with a maximum benefit per injury or sickness of $100,000, for all Fulbright grantees. ASPE health benefits may also be purchased for accompanying dependents.

Grantees are strongly urged to continue private health insurance and/or obtain additional insurance to cover preexisting conditions, conditions specifically excluded by the plan (for example, eyeglasses and dental care) and medical costs that exceed the $100,000 coverage.

Fulbright grantees in some countries are covered by national health plans, but such plans normally do not cover subsequent treatment in the United States.

Grantees who drop their own medical coverage may find it difficult to re-enroll when they return.

Sabbatical Leave, Other Grant Funding and Consulting

Sabbatical, leave-of-absence or retirement pay may be used concurrently with Fulbright support. Deductions may be made when other scholarships, fellowships, grants or salaries duplicate benefits provided by the Fulbright grant. Some scholars hold grants from other agencies either immediately before or after a Fulbright appointment or arrange support for items not covered by the Fulbright award.

Grantees may, under some circumstances, accept fees or remuneration for consulting work done abroad during the award period but unrelated to their Fulbright awards. The in-country Fulbright representative should be contacted as such opportunities arise.

Taxes

All Fulbright grants are subject to Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations. Fulbright benefits are taxable in most circumstances, and grantees are strongly advised to consult the IRS or their personal tax advisors.

2010-2010 BENEFITS TABLE EAST ASIA AND THE PACIFIC

PROGRAM	BASE STIPEND OR U.S. DOLLAR SUPPLEMENT	MAINTENANCE	TRAVEL/RELOCATION	TUITION	OTHER BENEFITS OR SPECIAL AWARDS
Australia	n.a.	In Australian dollars (A$) per month: A$3,425 for a single grantee; A$3,685 for a grantee with one or more dependents.	Travel allowance of US$3,450 for grantee and travel allowance for one dependent of US$2,600 if the dependent accompanies the grantee for more than 80 percent of grant period; A$1,000 all-inclusive establishment allowance; and A$140 excess baggage allowance.	Dependents of grantees who will be enrolled in the Australian public school system from K-12 grades will have tuition fees waived.	Medicare provides healthcare for grantees but not their dependents. Independent health care coverage must be obtained for dependents accompanying grantees to Australia.
Cambodia	$1,870-$2,860 monthly base stipend, according to the formula on page 134.	Maintenance as described on page 134. $2,000-$3,000 per month, based on the number of accompanying dependents.	Travel/relocation as described on page 135. For 2008-09, the following was provided: $3,600 for the grantee and $2,500 per person for up to two dependents who accompany the grantee for more than 80% of the entire grant period.	Reimbursement of tuition and some school fees for grades 1-12 up to $5,000 per child per semester for a maximum of two children.	n.a.
China, People's Republic of	$1,870-$4,400 monthly base stipend.	Maintenance as described on page 134. For 2008-09 the following was provided: $2,400-$2,700 per month, based on the number of accompanying dependents. Housing is provided by the host institution for lecturers. Researchers will receive a housing allowance of $1,000 per month.	Travel/relocation as described on page 135. $3,550-$8,150.	Reimbursement of tuition and some schooling fees for grades 1-12 up to $7,500 per child per semester to a maximum of $30,000 per family for a 10-month grant.	For lecturers in the humanities and social sciences there is a book allowance of $1,500 per semester and $2,000 per semester for lecturers in law and economics. Lecturers are reimbursed up to $1000 for language study upon submission of receipts. For grants up to 7 months in length a research allowance of $1,700 is provided and for grants of 7-10 months an allowance of $2,000 is provided. The grant also covers any affiliation fees charged by Chinese host institutions up to $1,750 for grants of 5 months or less and $3,500 for grants that are 6-10 months. For lecturers, if the combined amount of the stipend and the country maintenance allowance for the grant period is less than the amount of the grantee's salary (excluding summer teaching, merit awards, consulting fees, etc.) for a comparable period (5-month grant equals one-half an academic year and 10-month grant equals the academic year regardless whether the university uses a semester or quarter system), then the grantee will receive a salary supplement stipend to bring the amount to the same level as the individual's salary for a comparable period as defined above, but the amount may not exceed $50,000 for 5-month grants or $100,000 for 10-month grants. This benefit applies ONLY to earned salary as defined above and does not include royalties or other similar types of income.

Subsidized housing at a cost of SGD$600-700 per month is provided by the host institution, as well as a stipend of SGD$4,000 per month and a local transportation allowance of SGD$600 per month. (As of December 2008, exchange rate is US$1=SGD$1.45.)	Travel/relocation as described on page 134. For 2008-09 the following was provided: US$4,250-US$8,850, based on the number of accompanying dependents. The host institution also provides a one-time settling-in allowance of SGD$2,000.	See page 135.	n.a.
Taiwan	Lecturers are provided a monthly U.S. dollar supplement ranging from US$260 (single) to US$360 (couple) to US$460 (family).	Monthly stipend of approximately NT (New Taiwan) $71,000 for the grantee and an additional NT$9,200 for accompanying spouse and NT$2,800 per accompanying child. All lecturers are entitled to free living quarters provided by the host institution. Conditions and items of furniture vary by host institution. Researchers do not receive free housing but do receive a housing allowance of NT$12,500 per month. Cost-shared grants must be approved by host institution and may be taxed by the Taiwan government. Note: All grant benefits except the dollar supplement are paid in NT (New Taiwan) dollars. While the value of the grant in U.S. dollars may vary with fluctuations in the NT$/US$ exchange rate, the amount paid in NT dollars remains the same. Please refer to www.oanda.com/convert/classic for currency conversion rates.	Round-trip economy-class tickets provided for grantee and one accompanying dependent who will accompany the grantee for 80 percent of the grant period. A baggage allowance based on a combination of the number of accompanying dependents and the length of the grant. The rate per month is NT$4,000 (single), NT$5,000 (couple) and NT$6,000 (family).	All full-grant lecturers and researchers will be provided a tuition allowance for the education of two accompanying school-age children (grades 1-12 only).	All lecturers and researchers are entitled to an incidental allowance of NT$4,000 per month, to be used for books, supplies, etc. All grantees will also receive a settling in allowance of NT$30,000. The Taiwan Fulbright Foundation will continue benefits to grantees who choose to spend part of their grant period in mainland China. Partial maintenance awards are NT$17,000 to NT$40,000 per month. Please note: For cost-shared lectureships, the host institution provides a salary equal to that of a Taiwan professor and the Taiwan Fulbright Foundation supplements this amount. The total combined stipend, even after deduction of local income tax, will be no less than a grant funded entirely by the Foundation. Grantees should be aware that the Taiwan salary portion is subject to approval by the host institution, taxable by Taiwan authorities, and is usually paid at the end of each month. Please refer to www.oanda.com/convert/classic for currency conversion rates.
Thailand	For lecturers at the assistant professor level, 72,000 baht per month, and 78,000 baht per month at the associate and full professor level. Stipend for professionals based upon experience comparable to academic ranks. For researchers at all academic ranks, 51,000 baht per month. Payments are calculated from the date of arrival through the final day in country within the grant period.	Free housing on campus may be provided by some provincial universities, but grantees are charged for utilities. A housing allowance is provided where university housing is not available. Depending on the number of accompanying dependents, the rates are 12,000-18,000 baht per month in provincial locations and 20,000-28,000 baht per month in Bangkok. In addition to housing support, grantees will receive a monthly subsistence allowance (depending on the number of accompanying dependents, 4,000-10,000 baht per month in provincial locations; 6,000-12,000 baht per month in Bangkok) designed to offset additional local costs.	International travel for grantee and for one dependent if grant is for 4 months or more and if dependent is in Thailand for 80 per cent of the grant period. For grants of 4 months or more, a settling-in allowance of 15,000 baht intended for purchase of household items and related expenses. An in-transit allowance of 4,500 baht to cover hotel and transportation costs in the first few days is paid immediately upon arrival. Reimbursement of up to 15,000 baht for excess-baggage charges if required, divided as appropriate between the forward and return portions of the trip upon presentation of receipts.	Grantees based in provincial locations are allowed 63,000-126,000 baht and grantees based in Bangkok are allowed 82,000-164,000 baht for actual tuition costs for accompanying school-age children. Grantees with dependent children should note that while the tuition allowance provided is sufficient to cover the majority of expenses at nearly all schools in Thailand, it will cover only about one-third of the costs at the International School of Bangkok which charges fees exceeding the tuition allowance provided.	Grantees will be reimbursed up to 14,000 baht for purchase of books, supplies and services essential to the grantee's project upon presentation of receipts. Thai language study costs will be reimbursed up to 20,000 baht. For research grantees, a reimbursable allowance of up to 30,000 baht to support scholarly activities. In all cases, receipts must be presented to the Thailand-U.S. Educational Foundation to receive the reimbursement in baht. Grantees will be reimbursed for up to 20,000 baht for their language study upon presentation of receipts for the lessons.

Denmark	n.a.	This award provides 100,000 Danish crowns. (This grant amount is subject to funds allocated to the Danish-American Fulbright Commission). There is no increase for accompanying dependents. The 02/09 exchange rate was US$1=5.78DKK.	Travel costs are reimbursed for the grantee only up to a maximum of 10,000 Danish crowns. This amount is included in the 100,000 Danish crowns total described under maintenance.	The public Danish primary and secondary schools will usually accept children of Fulbright grantees free of charge. The language of instruction is Danish and the school year begins in August. Depending on the size, level and location of the school, the teachers will usually have some English ability. A few Danish schools have international sections where English is the language of instruction. There are a number of international schools in Denmark where English is the language of instruction. The majority of these are in and around Copenhagen. These schools charge fees. Danish institutions hosting U.S. scholars are willing to investigate schooling possibilities for dependent children. The Danish-American Fulbright Commission has also assisted with this. For more information on the educational system, visit the Ministry of Education's English Web site at www.uvm.dk/eng and Cirius' English Web site at www.ciriusonline.dk/eng . # Index to Awards Open to Professionals

This index will help you locate award opportunities that are specifically targeted for professionals outside academe or for which professionals are especially encouraged to apply.

Professionals may also apply for many of the other awards listed in the “Guide to All Awards by Discipline,” as well as for awards that are titled All Disciplines. Read the award descriptions carefully in the section “2009-2010 Awards by World Area” to determine your suitability for a specific award.

You may also find it helpful to talk with a program officer about whether an award you are interested in is appropriate for a professional. Contact information for program officers is listed at the beginning of each country section in the Catalogue of Awards and is also available on our Web site at www.cies.org/amstaff.htm.

Administration and Funding of the Fulbright Program

The Fulbright Program is authorized by Public Law 87-256, the Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Act of 1961, as amended, and is sponsored by the United States Department of State, Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs. The purpose of the Program is “to enable the government of the United States to increase mutual understanding between the people of the United States and the people of other countries . . . and thus to assist in the development of friendly, sympathetic, and peaceful relations between the United States and other countries of the world.” The primary source of funding is an annual appropriation made by the Congress to the United States Department of State. Participating governments and host institutions in many countries and in the United States also contribute financially through costsharing, as well as by indirect support such as salary supplements, tuition waivers, university housing and other benefits.

Grants are made to U.S. citizens and nationals of other countries for a variety of educational activities, primarily university teaching, advanced research, graduate study and teaching in elementary and secondary schools.
