LEGAL TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

PENN STATE LAW: Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, Prof. of Clinical Law, 2007-present
Reporting directly to the Dean, I am the law school's primary academic officer, coordinating all academic and curricular matters and overseeing student disciplinary actions. The role includes responsibility for the integrity of our academic programs, and its ongoing management, delivery, and assessment. I serve as a key advisor to the Dean on the administration of the law school, develop and manage our course schedules, hire and manage all adjunct and visiting instructors, assess and implement new curricular offerings like our Concentrations (adding a new Race, Equity, & the Law Concentration in 2020). I am the Director of Penn State Law's Joint Degree programs. I also teach Professional Responsibility, and Intersectionality & the Law. Prior to my associate deanship, I directed our Family Law Clinic, which I opened in January 2010. I managed the Clinic's Supervising Attorney and our students, who work on domestic violence and other family cases in the local courts. I developed and taught the Clinic seminar, and I previously taught Family Law, and Externships. I extensively redesigned our Externships curriculum, adding an "Externships Everywhere" course, paid externships, and remote externships. For five years I directed our Public Interest programs; and I helped launch our Mindfulness in Law Society in 2018 and our George Floyd Memorial Scholarship in 2020.
